Welsh Peer Wed to Daughter of British Plumber

[Copyright, 1927, by New York Herald-Tribune.]

LONDON, July 27. (Exclusive)—Great precautions were taken to keep secret the wedding ceremony of Lord Trevor, 63-year-old Welsh peer, and Miss Phyllis May Sims, 23-year-old daughter of a Lincolnshire plumber, but a squad of photographers was stationed outside of St. Peter's Eaton Square this morning when the bride and bridegroom arrived.

The couple met under romantic circumstances when the bride, who is a nurse, attended Lord Trevor's sister.

Being disqualified on account of age from fighting in the war, Lord Trevor joined the British Red Cross as an ambulance driver. Later he was attached to the French Red Cross, winning the Croix de Guerre on the battlefield.

The ceremony was attended by several members of the nobility.

DU PONT IN NEW DEAL

Steel and Motor Link Indicated

Stockholders Told of Huge Purchase of Shares of Gary Corporation

Company Heavy Holder of Automotive Combine's Common Stock

WILMINGTON (Del.) July 27. (AP) The report of a "community of interest" between E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Co., General Motors Corporation and the United States Steel Corporation, was strengthened today when stockholders of the Du Pont Company were informed that it had purchased 114,000 shares of common stock of the Steel Corporation for approximately $14,000,000, or slightly less than $123 a share. Common stock of the United States Steel Corporation sold today at 129 5-8 on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Du Pont Company also owns 1,906,944 shares of General Motors common stock, which is carried on the books this year at $60 a share, against $46.38 a share last year, although the stock sold on the New York Stock Exchange today as high as 229 1-4.

FIRST CONFIRMATION

This is the first official confirmation of recurring reports in Wall street that Du Pont interests have been heavy buyers of United States Steel. In connection with these reports, it has been stated that Pierre Du Pont, now in Europe, would be elected a director of the United States Steel Corporation and eventually would succeed Elbert H. Gary as chairman.

No change in directors was announced, however, at yesterday's meeting of the steel directors. Neither was any change made in General Motors directors, although there were rumors that Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., would be elected to the chairmanship of the board and be succeeded as president by Walter P. Chrysler, whose company would be taken into the General Motors Corporation.

DU PONT EARNINGS

Earnings of the Du Pont Company for the half-year applicable to the common stock were $21,436,642, equivalent to 3.06 shares, compared with $19,315,594 or $7.56 a share in the first half of 1926, and $8,919,142 or $3.35 a share in the first half of 1925.

The company's investment in General Motors returned $15,969,331, compared with $11,313,773, for the first half of 1926, and included $7,-984,976 which was the company's portion of the extra dividend received January 4, last.

Surplus on June 30, last, was $95,-407,964 compared with $66,417,566 at the beginning of the year. Dividends paid on the common stock in the half-year were $18,830,618. Current assets were $69,789,240 of which $17,-351,133 was cash, against current liabilities of $8,186,141. Total gross assets were $346,341,460.

Child Falls Six Stories but Has Just Scratches

NEW YORK, July 27. (Exclusive) Opportunity came twice to Mary Satronick, 9 years of age, as she was falling six stories to a stone-covered areaway. She grabbed at a clothesline on the third floor and missed.

"No use going back," she thought, and grabbed again. This time her little hand held on to a clothesline on the first floor. A moment later the line snapped, but the fall was broken, and Mary fell on her back with scarcely a scratch.

"Hey, missus, will you pick me up, please?" she yelled to Mrs. Rose Sperber, who flung aside her hot iron and hustled out. There was nothing wrong with Mary that she could see and Dr. Goldfarb from Gouverneur Hospital could find nothing more serious than a bruised hand and a couple of scratches on the head.

HISTORIC RING FINDS REST

Famed Essex Emblem of Queen Elizabeth Will Lie on Tomb in Westminster Abbey

LONDON, July 27. (AP)—The historic Essex ring, emblem of Queen Elizabeth's greatest grief, has changed ownership for the last time, and is to be placed on her tomb in Westminster Abbey.

The ring recently was sold at public auction at Christies and brought only $3600. Its purchaser, Ernest Makower, since has presented it to the nation so that it may remain forever in England.

GAVE RING WITH PLEDGE

Queen Elizabeth gave the ring to the Earl of Essex, who shared her heart with the Earl of Leicester, as a pledge that whatever he might be accused of she either would pardon him or admit him to her presence to justify his conduct.

Later in Elizabeth's life Essex rose in rebellion. The revolt was a fiasco; Essex was taken and condemned. After his condemnation he gave the ring to the Countess of Nottingham to deliver to Elizabeth.

The ring, however, did not reach the Queen and she, deciding that Essex was obdurate, permitted the execution. After the death of the Earl the Countess of Nottingham confessed to Elizabeth that Essex had given her the ring to deliver to the Queen, but that she had not carried out his request.

DIES FROM GRIEF

Despair then seized the heart of the Queen, who refused all medical aid. She died within twenty days of the Countess's confession.

The ring is of gold and bears the Queen's portrait, showing her headdress and the familiar ruff. It was the work of an Italian who settled in England in the sixteenth century.

After the death of Essex the ring descended from Lady Frances Devereaux, his daughter, in an unbroken succession from mother to daughter until it came to Louise, daughter of John, Earl of Granville. She married Thomas Thynne, second Viscount Weymouth.

Sixteen years ago, in the disposal of the Thynne heirlooms, the ring came up for auction and was valued at $17,500. It passed to Lord Michelham. When the Michelhams art collection was auctioned off several months ago the ring went to a private collector, who placed it on sale at Christies.

PRIZE FIGHT DENOUNCED BY VATICAN

Papal Publication Refers to Dempsey-Sharkey Bout in Scoring Ring Battles

[Copyright, 1927, by Chicago Tribune.]

ROME, July 27. (Exclusive)— Under the title: "Civilization in a Wallop," Osservatore Romano, official organ of the Vatican and a reflector of the opinions of the Pope, today uses the Dempsey-Sharkey fight as a text to denounce prize fighting.

The Vatican organ, over the signature of its editor, goes into a detailed description of the New York fight and denounces the asserted brutalities.

"It is strange to see even George Bernard Shaw has added his word regarding prize fighting and is in favor of it," comments Osservatore Romano.

"The passion of the people for these spectacles is an indication of the resurrection of paganism and barbarism in its most vulgar and ferocious form. Ancient fighters were to a certain extent protected, but not so today. The referee counts today a certain number of seconds to declare a man vanquished. It does not matter whether this man is finished or dying. He must first be counted out because the people have paid for this."

Osservatore Romano complains that the wealthy are the greatest supporters of this sport, and adds:

"It would be unfair to declare everyone in America supports prize fighting. There are persons who object but they seem to be in the minority. There are objectors to prize fighting as there are to beauty exhibitions, but for the time being civilization seems to be held in the fist which packs the biggest wallop."

Ocean Safety Isle to be Put Through Test

WILMINGTON (Del.) July 27. (AP)—The Armstrong Seadrome Development Company will give its "island of safety" a severe test at sea this winter, Edward R. Armstrong, the inventor, said today.

The seadrome will be placed 550 miles from shore where the ocean is three miles deep. Contracts for construction for the "island" will be issued shortly, he said.

Worms and Flies Both Good When Dawes Fishes

CHICAGO, July 27. (AP)—Vice-President Dawes and family returned home today from his fishing expedition near Cimarron, N. M., and will leave tonight for Greenville, Miss., where he will address the Mississippi Department of the American Legion tomorrow night. When questioned by interviewers as to preference between worms and flies for bait, he answered: "We used both. Had good luck, too."

BOMB FOUND IN RAIL TUBE STRIKE ECHO

Powerful Infernal Device in New York Subway Fails and Catastrophe Averted

NEW YORK, July 27. (AP)—With the threatened subway and elevated-line strike averted, at least for the time being, the millions who ride in and out of Manhattan every day turned their attention today to a bomb found shortly after the strike was called off in one of the East River subway tunnels.

There was no suggestion that the bomb had any connection with the projected strike, police believing it had been placed by a crank.

Police bomb experts and a chemist of the United States Bureau of Mines found that the bomb, an eighteen-inch iron pipe with screw caps about the shape of a three-inch artillery shell, was filled with five pounds of dynamite and gunpowder. An electric percussion cap was connected by wires to the third rail in such a manner as to be detonated when a train passed. The wiring was faulty, however, and several trains had passed over the spot before a track walker found the bomb.

The Bureau of Mines chemist expressed the opinion that if the bomb had exploded, the walls of the tunnel would have been blasted away and the river would have inundated the tube, probably drowning all the passengers of the passing train.

STILLMAN HELP GONE

Marriage Takes Servants

Mother of Bud in Dilemma; Can't Ask Her New Kin to Wash Wedding Dishes

Champagne Punch Strews Highway With Derelicts of Nuptial Celebration

GRAND MERE (Quebec) July 27. (Exclusive)—Mrs. Anne U. Stillman, grand dame of the St. Maurice wilderness and self-appointed protectress of the local peasantry, puzzled today over the financial and social status of her newly acquired kinsman. While her eldest son and her former servant girl were fleeing to the the privacy of New York as Mr. and Mrs. James A. Stillman, Jr., the mother who engineered and staged their astounding marriage faced a new angle on the servant problem.

For the family of Mrs. Stillman's new daughter-in-law has for years lived on the slender servant wages paid them by the imperious mother of Bud Stillman. Today Mrs. Stillman, slightly calmed down after the excitement of yesterday's festivities and the china shower she directed at the heads of invited newspaper men, bemoaned this dilemma.

CAN'T BE SERVANTS

"Of course, I can't have Lena's mother and sisters employed here as servants after Lena's marriage to my son. At the same time I refuse to permit Lena's family to even think they can profit financially as a result of the marriage of Bud and Lena. It was on that question that the Wilson family and I broke last week."

But instead of the absolute banishment which Mrs. Stillman promised to the Wilsons a week ago when they attempted to wring a heavy financial settlement from the parents of Bud on the eve of his marriage to the minor daughter in the Wilson household, a more lenient attitude was indicated today.

"These are my people and I know them," Mrs. Stillman reiterated, as she strode about her Grande Anse camp in the baralegged attire which she affects here in the wilds.

"My checks are the currency of the St. Maurice. Do you know that people like the Wilsons and the other natives have come to me and said, 'Mme. Stillman, we would rather keep your checks than put the money you pay us in the banks. We are not sure of the banks, madame, but you are like the government.' For that reason my checks here sometimes go for two years without being cashed. They are passed from hand to hand and when the checks are worn out my people return the old ones to me and I make out new ones.

ITS LARGE MONEY

"But why talk of great sums of money in connection with the natives here? Ten or $15 they understand. Yes, they would kill one another for $10. But when you talk of sums above $100 they simply are unable to grasp what you mean."

Her talk shifted to the bride of yesterday and the trousseau Lena will find when she reaches New York.

"Lena looked beautiful. It takes a girl a very little time to learn how to put on clothes and wear them properly," she continued, "But as yet that is all it means to her.

"If I go into a Fifth-avenue shop and buy Lena a new dress it is simply a new dress and I am a wonderful person because I am able to walk into a place, select a frock and say: 'Charge it.' I means nothing more. That the bill must be paid, that there are such things as financial transaction—all that means nothing to her."

The perilous scenic railway—like a trail which links the Stillman camp with La Tuque, thirty-two miles to the north, and Grand Mere, sixty miles to the south—was strewn today

Washington Predicts Failure as Chamberlain Outlines Naval Attitude

Sir Austen's Views Seen as Meaning England Insists on Sea Supremacy

WASHINGTON, July 27. (Exclusive) Collapse within the next few days of the Geneva naval limitation conference is forecast by Washington officials as the result of statements made today in London by Sir Austen Chamberlain, British Foreign Secretary, and W. C. Bridgeman, First Lord of the British Admiralty.

After perusing the statements, which indicated that Great Britain has not changed its fundamental position on cruiser tonnage limitation, State Department officials stated that they saw little hope for the conference to succeed.

PARITY MUST BE KEPT

One high official said that unless the British government produces a proposition at Geneva indicating an actual recession in British demands for naval superiority in cruiser strength, the conference is bound to collapse. This official stated emphatically that the United States will not sacrifice its right to parity with the British in all classes of ships, nor its right to build the size of cruisers its needs require, in order to obtain an agreement.

The statement by Sir Austen Chamberlain that he considered the permanent formula adopted at Washington for limiting battleships inapplicable for certain classes of cruisers is considered to have sounded the death knell of the conference. It was to apply this formula to auxiliary craft that President Coolidge called the conference.

Suggestions by British spokesmen that an agreement be reached for a shorter period than originally planned, or on destroyers and submarines only in case all the powers cannot agree on a maximum cruiser tonnage, were coldly received.

SHORT PACTS OPPOSED

"This government is not interested in short, provisional or makeshift agreements," a spokesman said. "We cannot accept an agreement unless all classes of ships are included. Neither can we accept a treaty which limits only the 10,000-ton class of cruisers and leaves each nation free to build as many of the smaller type of cruisers as it pleases."

Washington officials generally see in the statements of Mr. Bridgeman and Sir Austen a determination on the part of the British to maintain supremacy on the seas. The general opinion is that Great Britain is unwilling to give the United States parity except in such classes of ships as it pleases. It is generally believed that if Great Britain produces a new plan at Geneva it will simply be a repetition of the various inacceptable proposals it already has suggested.

BRITISH STAND PAT ON CRUISER STAND

[Copyright, 1927, Chicago Tribune]

LONDON, July 27. (Exclusive)—Foreign Secretary Sir Austen Chamberlain's statement on Great Britain's naval position in the House of Commons this afternoon left little hope that any agreement will be reached when the naval limitation discussions are resumed at Geneva unless the United States again wants to take the small end of the bargain.

Sir Austen said he could not detail the British position or comment on the American or Japanese plans. He explained that his statement was merely to remove the misunderstandings about the British position, leaving it to be plainly inferred that the

NEW KERN WELL STIRS HOPE

Wildcat in East End of County Blows in With Spray of High Gravity Crude

BAKERSFIELD, July 27. (Exclusive)—Strong probability of the discovery of a new oil field in the east end of Kern county was seen yesterday in the performance of a wildcat well being drilled alongside Union avenue, near this city. Shortly after daybreak the well blew itself in and throughout the day it belched crude at frequent intervals, but for the most part it sprayed a fine mist of oil, accompanied by considerable sand.

The gas pressure was exceedingly heavy, being estimated at 8,000,000 cubic feet per day.

Many geologists and scouts visited the well yesterday, and none was willing to venture a guess at what the well may produce after the gas pressure subsides, but most of them were willing to admit that it may make a commercial producer. The prevailing opinion was that the wildcat is at least on the edge of a producing area from which good production may be expected if gas pressure counts for anything.

HIGH GRAVITY

It is reported that the oil appears to be of from 25 to 27 deg. gravity, which is the highest that ever has been found on the east side of Kern county.

The hole was drilled to a depth of 4300 feet, by the Taft Well Drilling Company, under contract with the Pacific Eastern Production Company, which is understood to be the California operating subsidiary of the Gulf outfit, or Mellon interests. The work in this State has been under the supervision of Hoyt S. Gale and A. E. Wallace, who upset the conclusions of many California geologists by going out on the level floor of the east side of Kern county and starting a wildcat project about seven months ago, where nobody thought oil could possibly be.

Pacific Eastern holds leases on nearly 3000 acres in the Union-avenue area, and other companies have tied up hundreds of protection leases surrounding its holdings. Among them are Standard, Shell and General Petroleum, according to reports. Standard recently leased the sewer farm 400 acres from the city of Bakersfield. It is situated two and one-half miles east of the Union-avenue discovery well, and is looked upon as a possible extension of the field.

OTHER FIELDS

The discovery is not far from a suburban subdivision known as Casa Loma Acres, where there are a good many small homes, upon half-acre and acre parcels of land. Many of these small parcels have not been built upon, and are regarded as likely drilling locations.

The Union-avenue field goes down in petroleum history as the third new field discovered in the east end of Kern county within the last twelve months. The other two are Poso Creek and Round Mountain. Neither of the latter has a well from which oil flows, although it is asserted that some of the Poso Creek wells probably could be made to flow. The oil from Poso Creek and Round Mountain is of much lower gravity than that at Union avenue. It is believed by oil operators that the new field will produce the highest gravity crude that ever has been found in Kern county. Two sands were discovered—the first at about 2100 feet, but the water in it could not be shut off, so the 4300-foot sand finally was developed, where forty feet of sand and shale were found.

Funeral Arrangements Will Await Husband

Body Lies in Church Where Valentino Reposed

Film Leaders of Hollywood Praise Scenarist

NEW YORK, July 27. (AP)—The body of June Mathis, noted scenarist, who died of a heart attack at a Broadway theater performance last night, is to lie until Saturday or Sunday in the funeral church on upper Broadway where have lain the bodies of both her mother and Rudolph Valentino, who she discovered and brought to fame, it was announced last night by her sister, Laura Mathis.

It will be necessary to move the remains of Valentino to an adjoining crypt so that Miss Mathis and the man she built into stardom and world-wide fame will rest side by side above the remains of Miss Mathis' parents, William B. Mathis and Virginia Mathis.

Sylvanos Balboni, motion-picture director and husband of Miss Mathis, left Los Angeles last night for New York to bring his wife's body back here for burial. Funeral arrangements will not be completed until Balboni arrives in New York, he said.

Jesse L. Lasky, vice-president of the Paramount Players Lasky Corporation, who employed Miss Mathis as a scenario writer in her early career, paid tribute to her yesterday, as did many others in the film world.

"The motion-picture industry has lost one of its wisest counselors," Mr. Lasky commented. "The death of June Mathis comes as an overwhelming shock to all of us. She pioneered women's place in the new world of entertainment. When the history of motion pictures is finally written June Mathis's name will be recorded as one of the most brilliant craftsmen ever associated with the screen."

WRITER TO REST BY VALENTINO'S SIDE

June Mathis, famous film writer, will be laid to her final rest in a crypt at the Hollywood Mausoleum beside the remains of her mother and father and the late Rudolph Valentino, who she discovered and brought to fame, it was announced last night by her sister, Laura Mathis.

It will be necessary to move the remains of Valentino to an adjoining crypt so that Miss Mathis and the man she built into stardom and world-wide fame will rest side by side above the remains of Miss Mathis' parents, William B. Mathis and Virginia Mathis.

MARIE PLANS NEW TOUR

Widow Queen Denies Having Designs on Throne and Says Ileana Can Marry American if She So Wishes

BUCHAREST (Rumania) July 27. (AP)—Queen Marie has decided to visit the United States again. She hopes to start soon after the period of mourning for King Ferdinand is over, she told the correspondent for the Associated Press today.

In a conversation with the correspondent, the Queen said that she wished to travel next time as a private person so that she could go where she pleased, do as she wanted, not be a burden to the State and municipal authorities and avoid quarrels among her followers.

"There are a thousand and one things I omitted seeing on my last journey, and legions of people I wanted to meet."

WANTS TO SEE CONVENTION

"I want to see one of your national political conventions, and if time and my duties permit next summer it is possible that I shall be able to leave here in time to see such a gathering."

The Queen also told the correspondent that she hoped to find time to write a book of her impressions of the United States and the American people.

"I carried back a thousand pleasant memories of my stay in your country," said the Queen, "but there were also some mistakes which can be rectified on the next trip."

A plea to the people of America not to forget her in her sorrow was made by Queen Marie. She spoke in tender terms of her husband, how he would have liked before he died to have seen the former Crown Prince Carol; and characterized as "cruelly false" words of her critics and adversaries that she was an ambitious woman who wanted to be Queen after the King's death.

ONLY WIDOW NOW

"Death has torn my heart and seared my soul," she said. "It has taken from me my dear husband and the gentlest and most dutiful of kings. It reduced me from a reigning queen to a lonely widow. I shall sit cloistered and alone in this little room to bear the agony which God has thrust upon me. Let not the people of America forget me in my sorrow."

With a huge crucifix resting on the wall just above her head, and with her face enveloped in a deep black veil relieved by a mantle of pure white, which gave her features a far greater beauty and spirituality than any jeweled crown, Marie resembled a mother superior in a convent more than a queen.

Only the muffled shuffling of peasants' footsteps passing the King's coffin in the adjacent chamber could be heard. Burning incense and flickering candles cast an eerie pall over the room. One could not escape a sense of awe as one sat between the dead King and the living Queen.

The Queen, whom Americans so recently knew by her vivacity, youthful animation and glowing personality, now was a stricken, tragic figure, conscious of the loss of her royal consort, her throne and prestige.

"Throughout the King's long recurring illnesses," she said, "his mind was perfectly clear and normal. Had I wanted to succeed him upon his death as absolute ruler of Rumania, I need only have asked him and his choice would have been supreme. But as a matter of fact, we never once discussed the question in spite of the fact that from time to time various persons and political groups urged me insistently to become sole regent.

"Those who think evil things of me say I dislike Helen (Carol's wife;) that I am jealous of her; that I begrudge little Mihai inheriting the legal right to the throne. I love Helen and her child with all my heart. They have been deserted by their husband and father. Shall I forsake them in this solemn, trying hour when Mihai is about to ascend the throne?

ILEANA LIKED AMERICANS

The conversation drifted to the members of her family. She declared there was no prospect for a year or more of Ileana or Nicholas marrying, if even then.

"It has been said Ileana formed an admiration for American youths when she visited the United States with Your Majesty," the correspondent remarked. "Would you favor her marrying an American?"

Without a moment's hesitation, the Queen responded:

"Yes, Ileana liked the way American boys danced and conducted themselves. She liked their great deference and reverence toward womankind, too. I would have no objection to her marrying a nice young American, if she really loved him and I thought they would get along well together."

At this point a huge wreath of flowers from the President of the United States arrived, which seemed to touch the Queen intensely. She ordered it be placed in a conspicuous position.

After asking the correspondent to thank the American people for their sympathy and thoughtfulness, the Queen left the room and disappeared into the shadow of the mortuary chamber.

McCORMICK TANGLE MAY BRING SUIT

Denial She Owns Interest in Realty Concern Under Fire and Perjury Hinted

CHICAGO, July 27. (Exclusive)—Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, who testified last week that she had no financial or other interest in the real-estate firm of Krenn & Dato, may be recalled to the witness stand to explain a trust agreement filed in 1923, in which she deposited $5,232,000 and Krenn & Dato deposited $1500 each, ostensibly for the purpose of financing a real-estate deal.

Senator Woods, attorney for William B. Allen, who is seeking to have the license of Krenn & Dato revoked, uncovered the trust agreement which seems to prove the contention that Mrs. McCormick set the firm of Krenn & Dato up in business.

"I am of the opinion that Mrs. McCormick would be as amenable to prosecution for perjury as any one else," said Senator Woods, "if the case is reopened and we prove that a partnership really exists. In that event her testimony that she had no financial or other interest in the firm would be in direct contradiction of fact."

The suit against Krenn & Dato was started by Allen on his charge that his wife invested $17,000 in the Devonshire Co-operative Apartments, a Krenn & Dato enterprise, and lost all their savings. It is charged that she invested her money on misrepresentation. Other irregularities also are charged.

Naval Aviators Altitude Set at 38,559 Feet

WASHINGTON, July 27. (AP)—The barograph which Lieut. C. C. Champion fought so valiantly to save in his spectacular altitude flight Monday morning, today registered for him a disappointing figure of 38,559 feet.

Champion, with an altimeter which he said showed a height of 47,000 feet, stuck to his blazing plane during a sensational descent, to save the instrument which he thought would yield him a world's record.

Today the Bureau of Standards, whose cold analysis must be the final word in such matters, announced through the National Aeronautic Association, that so far as official records go, Champion must try again.

The recognized record is 40,820 feet, held by Callizo of France.

Belasco Stage Director Takes Bride in North

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27. (Exclusive)—Frederick Hugh Wallace, stage director for the Belasco Theater in Los Angeles, and Miss Julia Etta Walkinshaw, an actress whose home is in Chicago, were married by Justice of the Peace Dunne in his chambers at the City Hall today.

Wallace gave his age as 30, and his address as the Lambs Club, New York City, but said his business address was the Belasco Theater, Los Angeles. Miss Walkinshaw gave her age as 32.

THIS TOWN HAS TWO POLICE DEPARTMENTS

CLEVELAND, July 27. (AP)—If a crime wave should strike Parma Village, a Cleveland suburb, in its hour of political strife, Parma would be well prepared. Two full-fledged police departments held sway there today, both occupying the small station, both claiming full authority, as the result of a political skirmish between the Mayor and the Town Marshal.

ROW STIRRED BY "RIOT" OF GIRLS

State Chief Barred from Ventura School at Night

Superintendent Quits and So Do Two Successors

Officials Say "Whole Affair" Now Forgotten

VENTURA, July 27. (Exclusive)—Earl Jensen, head of the State Department of Institutions, demanded permission to inspect the sleeping quarters of the Ventura School for Girls, and precipitated the resignation of the superintendent, the resident physician and the business manager, it was learned today through admissions both here and in Sacramento. The incident is said to have occurred three weeks ago and one of the officials at the institution today declared that "the whole affair has been forgotten."

The official to resign first was Dr. Olive P. Walton, superintendent. Jensen, it was said, immediately accepted her resignation and offered the appointment to Dr. Mabel T. Bell, resident physician, who also resigned at once. He then appointed Edith Harkins, business manager, to the superintendency and she resigned at once also.

"RIOT" REPORTED

All three are still at their posts and expect not to be supplanted, and it is believed a truce has been declared.

The trouble between Jensen and the officials of the local institution occurred when Jensen visited the school after some of the girls had participated in what was described in Sacramento as a "minor riot," but which was explained at the institution as only a "noisy disturbance." Fuel was added to the flames, according to the dispatch, when Dr. Walton asked to have the "ringleader sent to the Sonoma Home, for feebleminded." It was learned today that the local institution's officials were not endeavoring to "railroad" the ring leader out of the school, but were only seeking to have her transferred to the Sonoma institution because they contend her mental condition is such that the Ventura institution is not the correct place for her to be housed.

"We have no fight with Mr. Jensen or anyone else," Dr. Walton declared. "We are not political appointees and are more than willing to co-operate with our superiors to see that the institution is operated properly. As long as we do not have such interference as will be detrimental to our work in this institution we will be able to get along with any superior officer, no matter who he is or what his name is."

RUNAWAY PLOT

The so-called "minor plot" resulted, it was learned, following the discovery of a runaway plot in which a number of girls were concerned. Several of the girls, including the ringleader, were placed in one of the buildings to prevent them from carrying out their scheme, and the ringleader, the psychopathic patient whose transfer to the Sonoma institution was asked, started other highly nervous girls to loud whistling, singing and screaming.

Then she began screaming herself for no apparent reason other than to torment the officials of the school. The girls, being in such a nervous state, were unable to listen to reasoning by the officials, it is declared, and would not stop their "acting up" when requested.

This is the only disturbance of the kind that has taken place in the institution for more than three years. Dr. Walton and Dr. Bell have been in charge of the institution for more than six years, and Miss Harkins for a longer period.

JENSEN DENIES TROUBLE OVER RIOTS

SACRAMENTO, July 27. (Exclusive) Earl Jensen, State director of the institutions, today admitted that Dr. Olive Walton, superintendent of the State School for Girls at Ventura, and Dr. Mabel T. Bell, medical officer, had tendered their resignations, but he denied reports that the resignations were due to any misunderstanding with him over a riot among girl inmates. Jensen said he knew nothing about the report of Miss Edith Harkins, business manager, resigning.

When he went to the school some time ago to investigate trouble experienced with a few incorrigible girls who had become unruly, Jensen said he had a discussion with Dr. Walton about allowing him to interview the girls, and at he surrendered to her judgment that the girls be not disturbed.

Jensen said Dr. Bell desires to resign because of ill health and that Dr. Walton, being a close friend of the former, determined to leave the State service with Dr. Bell. Of the girls who figured in the trouble, Jensen said some were sent to the Los Angeles County Hospital, two were transferred to the Sonoma State Home, and one was returned to her parents.

Professor Says Maturity Can be Made Longer

STATE COLLEGE (Pa.) July 27. (AP) Maturity can be hastened and senility delayed, thus extending a person's maximum efficiency and happiness over a longer period of years, Dr. H. C. Sherman of Columbia University said in an address before the institute of chemistry here today.

"Recent research," he said, "has fully established the fact, not generally realized, but probably of far-reaching significance and great promise for the future, that the chemistry of nutrition need not, as it has thus far tended to do, make the finding of the essentials of adequate nutrition the goal and stop there as if it could go no further. It now appears that what we have accepted as adequate may be improved upon by simply making more liberal the right chemical factors of the nutritional intake by giving a more important place in the diet the right articles or types of food."

SACCO AND VANZETTI TO GET NEW AID

Dreyfus May Make Trip from France to America to Plead Their Cause

PARIS, July 27. (AP)—Alfred Dreyfus may go to the United States to plead the cause of Sacco and Vanzetti, under sentence of death for murder in Massachusetts.

Dreyfus, who spent several years on Devil's Island, the penal colony in French Guiana, on charges of treason, which later were proved false, has accepted membership on a committee, whose announced intention is to proceed to America to give all possible aid to the two convicted men.

"A square deal for Sacco and Vanzetti," said Dreyfus today, is all that prompted him to join the committee.

GOVERNOR VISITED BY ADVISORY COMMITTEE

BOSTON, July 27. (AP)—Gov. Fuller's advisory committee in the Sacco-Vanzetti case called on the Governor in a body late today for the first time since its appointment, but neither the Governor nor the committee members would say whether the committee had made its report.

The committee was appointed on June 1, last, to conduct an investigation entirely independent of the Governor's own inquiry into the case of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, radicals now under sentence of death in the week of August 10, next, for murder. The committee concluded its work of interviewing witnesses Thursday.

Gov. Fuller, however, indicated today that his own investigation is still incomplete and several more witnesses are scheduled for interviews with him tomorrow.

It was not until this afternoon that confirmation was had of the rumor that he had visited the State prison again last evening.

American Chief of Finance for Persia Resigns

TEHERAN (Persia) July 27. (AP)—After having served as administrator-general of Persian finances since 1922, Arthur C. Millspaugh has rejected a further term of three years and is likely to leave shortly for the United States.

TEHERAN (Persia) July 27. (Exclusive)—A sensational incident occurred outside the Meljis today, when Firuz Mirza, powerful prince of the former dynasty and present Finance Minister, was knocked down and kicked by Persian supporters of Dr. Millspaugh. Firuz Mirza has been one of the chief opponents of the scheme for the renewal of Mr. Millspaugh's contract as administrator, which has expired.

Firuz Mirza was slighting from his car when he was attacked and called a traitor to his country's interests for making impossible the renewal of Dr. Millspaugh's contract. The attackers were arrested.

Berlin Flyers Refuse to Sell Sea-Hop Story

BERLIN, July 27. (AP)—Otto Koennecke and Count Georg Solmslaubach said today they had declined all offers from American, German and other newspaper syndicates to purchase the exclusive story of their projected trans-Atlantic flight.

"Our flight is intended as a compliment to the American people," both Koennecke and the Count said to the Associated Press. "We feel that to sell our story to one group of papers, however powerful or excellent, would immediately give a partisan tinge to our undertaking.

"Our expedition is being undertaken in the double interests of international friendship and aviation. We have no commercial interest."

BRITAIN STICKS TO ARMS STAND

Washington Expects Collapse of Geneva Meet

Backdown by London Held Imperative Need

British are standing pat on their position of last week when W. C. Bridgeman, first lord of the admiralty and chief British delegate, and Lord Cecil hurried back to London to put the naval conference question before the Cabinet.

CABINET BACK OF THEM

Mr. Bridgeman and Lord Cecil, who left for Geneva this morning, are understood to be carrying instructions to maintain their earlier stand at the conference with the full backing of the Cabinet.

The British position is, accordingly, Great Britain will agree to limit only large cruisers of the 10,000 class on the same principle of battleships limited at Washington. Great Britain will insist on the right to build as many small cruisers as it wants. It will not agree to a global tonnage applying both to large and small cruisers, nor to more than six-inch guns on small cruisers. The United States has objected to the construction of an unlimited number of small cruisers and to the demand that all cruisers under the 10,000-ton class be limited to six-inch guns.

It is pointed out here that the British plan means unlimited building of small cruisers, rather than limitation. The British delegates themselves, when they departed, were pessimistic.

"We will finish the work this time one way or the other. Our position is unchanged," said Mr. Bridgeman.

CALLS IT CRITICAL

Lord Cecil said: "The position is unquestionably critical."

Sir Austen in Parliament today reiterated that Great Britain does not object to the United States maintaining naval parity with England. He cited Great Britain's original proposals about smaller battleships and stressed Great Britain's special position which makes many of these small cruisers necessary.

At the conclusion Sir Austen hinted that no obstacle had been in the way of a temporary cruiser building program, but that England would not commit itself to anything permanent except on the lines of its own proposals.

"Despite the efforts of our delegates at Geneva, serious misapprehensions of the aims of the British government still prevail in some quarters," said the Foreign Secretary. "His majesty's government even has been charged with the desire to destroy that equality of sea power as between the United States and the British Empire, which the Washington conference contemplated—a suspicion for which there is no foundation.

AGREES WITH AIMS

"The invitation of the President of the United States to take part in the disarmament conference was understood by his majesty's government to be based on the desire to develop the policy of the Washington conference by diminishing yet further labor and expenditure while maintaining national security.

"With this two-fold aim his majesty's government is in complete agreement, and they desire to measure the merits of every proposal by the degree to which it furthers this two-fold purpose.

"It is with this principle that they propose to diminish the size and armament of battleships but leaving unaltered the numbers fixed at Washington.

"It is for this reason also that they suggest limitation in the number and armament of large fighting cruisers on principles similar to those adopted at Washington for battleships.

"This proposal, like the first, would greatly diminish national expenditures without endangering national security.

CRUISER ISSUE COMPLICATED

"The questions connected with smaller cruisers are of a more complicated character. The strength of the fleets can be stated in figures and prepared with precision. Their primary function is to fight other fleets and, speaking broadly, they can easily be compared with each other. No such similar way of looking at the subject is possible in the case of small cruisers employed for police purposes in time of peace and necessary for the protection of lines of communication in time of war. Geographical consideration cannot be rationally ignored.

"It is to be noted that the sea routes on which Great Britain depends for existence lie largely in narrow waters bordered by other states.

"This is not the case with the United States, whose most important lines of communication lie either on land within her own frontiers, by sea along her own coasts, or in great oceans."

SUCCESS PREDICTED BY AFRICAN DELEGATE

GENEVA, July 27. (AP)—J. S. Smit, high commissioner for the Union of South Africa at London, told the Associated Press correspondent tonight that he was convinced the British delegates will return to Geneva from London with a genuine desire to smooth out all difficulties. He feels confident that there is a reasonable chance of reaching an agreement at the tripartite naval conference, to which he is a delegate representing South Africa.

This statement came at a time when the atmosphere here was extremely pessimistic because of reports that Lord Cecil and W. C. Bridgeman will return to Geneva with an even stiffer attitude than when they left.

Mr. Smit voiced his opinion, he said, on his observations during a recent visit to London and on actual talks with officials. At a time like this, he went on, it is in the interest of the dominions generally to exercise a conciliatory influence to maintain a good understanding between the powers represented at the conference and, as the representative of South Africa, he had every desire to have remain intact the existing friendly relations between the United States and Great Britain.

PREDICTS SUCCESS

Hence, he had contributed his bit to promoting a policy of appreciation of each other's viewpoint. He thought the question of eight-inch-gun cruisers, which the United States wants the right to build, would not prove an insurmountable problem.

"I believe that the British will do everything possible to meet the American and Japanese viewpoints," he said, "and bring the conference to a successful issue.

"The Union of South Africa is a member of the League of Nations, and very much interested in the work of the preparatory commission on disarmament and would like to see that work a success. For that reason, South Africa desires this present conference to be a success, feeling that it would strengthen them, the League of Nations, not only in its disarmament efforts, but also in its aim of promoting international co-operation in all fields."

The herons are protected by State law.

WISCONSIN WET BILLS DEFEATED

MADISON (Wis.) July 27. (AP)—The Wisconsin Senate was dry today. Without debating the question yesterday, the upper house by a more than double vote killed the Polakowski amendment which would have repealed the State prohibition enforcement law.

The Duncan beer bill, legalizing, so far as State laws are concerned, 2.75 per cent alcoholic content beer in Wisconsin, was definitely killed today when the Assembly voted, after a long discussion, to sustain the Governor's veto of the measure. The vote was 33 to 23.

Last Friday, before adjourning the week-end recess, the Senate advanced the Polakowski amendment to engrossing by an 11-10 vote. The measure met defeat yesterday by the surprising vote of 16-7. This is the second measure offered by the wets, as a protest against the Eighteenth Amendment.

REMINDERS OF FEAST

Band instruments of the gaudily clad Royal Highlanders of Canada were being fished from the tributaries of the St. Maurice after several trucks and automobiles had come to grief and toppled, without loss of life, however, into flooded gullies.

Fifteen motor cars were disabled along the road by rushing guests and newspaper men. Two airplanes, destined to fly news pictures to New York after they had been rushed from the Stillman camp nine miles by automobile, two miles by canoe and nine miles over a mountain path, were trapped in their mooring place.

"I lost my temper because I thought the newspaper photographers and motion-picture men were desecrating the ceremony," Mrs. Stillman declared, explaining the plate-hurling episode. With volleys of chinaware she cleared the wedding-breakfast tables of representatives of the press.

"When Father l'Ami was saying the ceremony several photographers took pictures. That was a distinct affront to the deeply sensitive Catholic feelings of the natives who were present," she said.

Japan Rejects Affront in Monroe Doctrine

HONOLULU, July 28. (AP) A draft of a proposed treaty to outlaw war among the nations of the Pacific was before the Institute of Pacific Relations here today. It has been presented by an American delegate, Prof. James T. Shotwell of the history department of Columbia University.

Divergent views as to the advisability of the proposed treaty of Locarno" to the Pacific area were expressed by the delegates, particularly those from Japan. Kenzo Takayanagi, head of the Japanese delegation, commented on the proposed treaty, maintaining an exception in favor of the Monroe Doctrine would be acceptable to his country. The Japanese spokesman maintained the Monroe Doctrine is contrary to international law.

Dr. Stanley K. Hornbeck, of Harvard University, declared that little chance of war between the United States could possibly arise where a "weak one like could not. He suggested that the treaty be considered regionally and urged the conference to consider the question.

Japan Rejects Affirmation of Monroe Doctrine

HONOLULU, July 27. (AP)—The draft of a proposed treaty to abolish war among the nations of the Pacific was before the Institute of Pacific Relations here today, having been presented by an American delegate, Prof. James T. Shotwell of the history department of Columbia University.

Divergent views as to the applicability of the proposed "American Locarno" to the nations involved were expressed by the delegates, particularly those from Japan. But Kenzo Takayanagi, head of the Japanese delegation, announced a reservation in the proposed Shotwell treaty, maintaining an exception in behalf of the Monroe Doctrine would not be acceptable to his country. The Japanese spokesman maintained the Monroe Doctrine is contrary to international law.

Dr. Stanley K. Hornbeck of Harvard University declared there was little chance of war between Japan and the United States short of a brainstorm on the part of both governments."

F. Wam Eggleston, an American representative, declared the greatest trouble with Shotwell's treaty was that a strong nation like the United States could persuade Japan to sign where a weak one, like China, could not. He suggested disarmament in the Pacific could be treated regionally and urged the institute to consider the question.

STORMS GREET COL. LINDBERGH

Albany, N. Y., Cheers Flyer Amid Downpour

Lightning Fires Church Close to Landing Field

Address Made to Children by Young Aviator

ALBANY (N. Y.) July 27. (AP)—Rain, hail, lightning and thunder greeted Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and the Spirit of St. Louis today.

Two thunderstorms marred Albany's "Lindbergh Day," but tremendous acclaim from thousands of throats offset glowering skies as the youthful aviator went about the city.

The first storm drenched Quentin Roosevelt Field for an hour before the plane's arrival and thousands of automobiles that lined the field found the going difficult in the morass of mud. Lightning struck a church near the field and the fire that followed sent billows of smoke over the field.

Just before the aviator dove to a graceful landing, the sun broke through and gave cameramen a good "shot," while Mayor Thacher, as head of the official reception committee, greeted the youthful flyer. The first formalities over, Lindbergh was hurried to Lincoln Park, ahead of another storm, for an address before a great crowd, mostly children, who had assembled to hear him. He completed the brief speech before the storm broke and sent a second downpour upon an already bedraggled city, the official car taking him to the Teneyck Hotel and a brief respite before a formal dinner.

The aviator said the weather had not interfered with his flight from Springfield, Vt.

On the way here Lindbergh flew over Plymouth, Vt., birthplace of President Coolidge. Tomorrow he goes to Schenectady and Syracuse, staying for the night in the latter city.

ALCOHOL PERMIT GRAFT REVEALED

Huge Bribery Payments to Liquor Inspectors Charged

With Unseeing Eyes

One of the greatest sources of graft in the prohibition department is in inspection of alcohol for withdrawal, says Col. Ira L. Reeves.

[Col. Reeves resigned as New Jersey Prohibition Administrator, May 24. His experiences, the difficulties of enforcement, why he quit, he is disclosing in a series of articles he is writing for the North American Newspaper Alliance. This is the third article.]
[Copyright, 1927, in all countries by North American Newspaper Alliance]

BY IRA L. REEVES

THE office of a prohibition administrator is separated into two chief divisions. The first of these, about whose work the public hears most, is the enforcement division.

This is composed of prohibition agents who make the actual raids and seizures and whose work is necessarily more spectacular although not as important as that of its companion division.

The second chief unit is the permissive or permit division and it is by far the most important group of a prohibition district. All matters pertaining to the granting of permits for the use of alcohol, wine, spirituous liquors and for the manufacture of cereal beverages are handled by this division. Its personnel consists of civil service clerks and of inspectors.

When I was first appointed to the prohibition department in September, 1926, I was a deputy administrator, and the administrator of the Philadelphia district granted the permits for New Jersey. This was changed two months later and it was then my real troubles began.

The general public, having no intimate knowledge of the bootleg fraternity, lacks adequate appreciation of their innumerable schemes to withdraw liquor, ostensibly for legitimate uses, but in reality to be diverted straight into bootleg channels. They generally find their lawyers of great aid in this work.

WOULDN'T STOP WITHDRAWALS

Besides wrestling with these schemes I found that I also had to contend with men from the chief prohibition investigator's office and also from that of the supervisor of beer and alcohol control, both in Washington. These men really functioned as an independent unit within the administrator's office, and while they were supposed to work up evidence against permittees who violated the law, I never found them of any assistance.

I do not want to give the impression that I believe the withdrawal of alcohol and liquor should absolutely cease. I know that industrial alcohol especially is essential to the arts and sciences, as well as among industrial activities. It is a universal solvent and should it be dispensed with entirely it would be difficult, if not impossible, to find a satisfactory substitute.

One of the greatest sources of graft in the prohibition department is in the inspection of alcohol for withdrawal. We will say that a corporation has a permit to withdraw 5000 gallons of alcohol monthly for the manufacture of perfumery. Before receiving it the manufacturer has to have his formula for mixing of oils with alcohol, so it cannot be used for beverage purposes, approved by the chief chemist of the prohibition department.

The work of the inspectors is to see that the oils are mixed with the alcohol when it is withdrawn, as called for by the formula. If the inspectors have been bribed they do not watch the mixing and nothing is put into the alcohol. It is diverted directly to a cutting plant where it is made into whisky, gin, etc.

DIVERSION OF ALCOHOL

Another plan is to have the alcohol withdrawn in the usual way, then to substitute water in place of the alcohol in the original containers and to divert the alcohol to a cutting plant. A third plan is to obtain a formula which allows the alcohol to be readily cleaned and then to sell the mixed product directly to redistillation plants where the alcohol is speedily rid of the foreign ingredients.

What is said of alcohol may be said of whisky. A very high proof whisky is generally withdrawn under the permit because it makes a more marketable product after being cut. The cutting plants usually prefer alcohol because it costs less per gallon in the first place and will produce more gallons of bootleg whisky than the highest whisky.

I have already mentioned the opportunity which prohibition inspectors have of levying graft on permittees who withdraw alcohol. That is probably the most prolific source, but the highest graft payments are probably made for the issuance of permits. These payments, I have been informed, run as high as $15,000, $20,000 and $25,000. I can only say that the resultant profit must be heavy to insure such an original payment.

TRIAL DATE FOR WATSON ANNOUNCED

Former Officer Accused in Aqueduct Dynamiting Pleads Not Guilty

MARTINEZ, July 27. (AP)—C. P. Watson, Inco county rancher and former United States Army officer, entered his formal plea of "not guilty" in the Superior Court here today on each of the three grand jury counts charging him with illegal possession of dynamite, TNT, and fulminate of mercury. He assertedly was implicated in recent Los Angeles Aqueduct blastings.

Superior Judge Alvarado set September 13 as the date of trial despite the vigorous protests of Dist.-Atty. Tinning, who wanted the trial started on August 23.

The five defense attorneys argued hard and successfully for the later date, saying they could not interview the thirty Inyo county witnesses and get depositions from others on the Atlantic seaboard by August 23.

Watson was released on the same $5000 bail he has been on since his first appearance in the Superior Court the 16th inst.

Watson denied that explosives purchased by him from the Hercules Powder Company at Pinole, Cal., were used in the Aqueduct blastings which Owens Valley ranchers are accused of engineering in their fight against the city of Los Angeles for water rights.

CLERGY TOLD TO KEEP AWAY FROM BEACHES

MILAN (Italy) July 27. (AP)—The Catholic clergy of Lombardy will be instructed not to frequent the beaches or public spectacles without special permission. A collective pastoral letter to this effect has been decided on by the bishops of Lombardy, meeting here under the presidency of the Archbishop of Milan. The letter also will exhort the faithful to dress modestly at summer resorts and beaches, particularly attacking the scantiness and transparency of women's street clothing as "worse than bathing suits."

PREACHER LOSER IN $100,000 SLANDER SUIT

MODESTO, July 27. (AP)—Rev. Marion McCart, 60 years of age, former pastor of the Baptist Church at Ceres, near here, was awarded nothing in his $100,000 slander suit against leading members of his one-time congregation in a decision handed down today by Superior Judge Needham. McCart charged the defendants had injured his name and reputation by asserted statements as to his conduct with women members of his flock.

Legislators of Indiana Called by Grand Jury

INDIANAPOLIS, July 27. (AP)—The Marion county grand jury today directed its investigation of asserted political corruption in Indiana toward the activities of the 1925 General Assembly—the last to meet before D. C. Stephenson went to prison to serve a life term for murder.

State Senator Fred M. Dickerman and State Representatives Walker De Haven and Russell V. Duncan, all of Marion county, and elected on the Republican ticket, were before the grand jury today. Duncan was closeted with the inquisitorial body for a lengthy period.

Evidence taken from Stephenson's famous black boxes was turned over to the grand jury today by Prosecutor Remy and his special assistants.

BYRD OUTLINES SOUTH POLE HOP

Commander Tells Plans and Hopes of Expedition

Care Will Be Taken to Cache Bases of Supplies

Scientists Will Accompany Flyer on Hard Trip

BOSTON, July 27. (AP)—Commander Byrd at his home here today outlined to the Associated Press his plans and hopes for his scientific expedition to the South Polar regions.

There will be two monoplanes, he said; one with a single motor similar to the one Clarence Chamberlin flew from New York to Germany, and another with three motors resembling the America that carried the commander across the Atlantic.

Discovery Harbor probably will be the first contact he will make with the icy waters of the Antarctic. Discovery Harbor is in the great ice barrier and extends inland five or ten miles. On the west shore Scott, who lost his life returning from the pole after discovering that Amundsen had been there just ahead of him, had his base. On the east shore Amundsen set up his camp.

"After erecting our portable houses and establishing our primary base on the shores of the inlet we will work toward the pole in airplane jumps," Commander Byrd said.

STORES TO BE CACHED

"I plan to cache stores of food estimated to be sufficient for six months every 100 miles up to 500 miles inland.

"These little camps will be laid down by airplane. That is, we will load the plane with six months' provisions, hop off for a point 100 miles from the base, where we will leave the supplies. Then returning to the base we will take on another similar load and jump 200 miles to establish another camp, and so on until we have five of them.

"But it is not as simple as that. There is the ice barrier to be crossed, and we must also fly over a mountain range during the course of exploration, that we believe runs to a height of ,000 feet."

He explained that Discovery Harbor penetrates the barrier for some distance, and so will enable the party to get inland before starting to trek across the barren wastes. The slopes increase up to the pole, which is two miles high, and it is across that marker of the world's end that Commander Byrd will try to fly.

BAD WEATHER EXPECTED

The ice barrier is approximately 400 miles square, and rises at the edge to a height of 200 feet. It surrounds the whole continent and Discovery Harbor is the only practicable entry.

"I don't expect to have the luck we had in the Arctic as regards the weather," the commander said.

The weather in the south polar regions is bad, he explained. It is the home of high winds and frigid storms that more often than not last for days and make movement impossible.

Then he told of the work expected of the other scientists in the party. There will be a biologist, an ornithologist, a geologist, an ichthyologist, meterologist, a magnetic expert, a geographer and perhaps others who will represent specialized branches of science.

If uncovered areas are discovered, Commander Byrd will transport the specialists to them in his planes. He, himself, however, will cover as much of the continent by plane as possible, flying in all directions over it.

Other notables, including Vice-President Dawes, Secretary of State Kellogg, Premier Baldwin of Great Britain and Gov. Smith of New York are scheduled to speak at the ceremonies which will open the bridge between Buffalo and Fort Erie, Ont., and it is hoped to broadcast the entire dedication program.

Herrick Gaining After Operation in Ohio Hospital

CLEVELAND, July 21. (AP)—Myron T. Herrick, Ambassador to France, who underwent a major operation at Cleveland Clinic Hospital yesterday, was reported recovering today. Dr. William E. Lower, clinic surgeon who performed the operation, said it would be several days before Mr. Herrick is out of danger.

The major operation was the second to which the Ambassador had submitted in ten days. It was for the correction of an internal disorder that had troubled him for some time. The first operation, minor in character, was a preliminary to the second.

HOTEL ST. PAUL OPEN TODAY

West Sixth Street Hostelry Concrete and Steel Fireproof Structure

The Hotel St. Paul, newest Los Angeles hostelry, had a preview showing last night with a dinner to newspaper men and will be opened to the public today. The hotel is at 1021 West Sixth street and is a concrete and steel fireproof structure. It was designed by John V. Koester, architect.

The decorations, which are declared to be especially fine, were done under the direction of Richard Martin.

CARL REBER, MAITRE

The furnishings of the structure, except for the kitchen, were installed by Barker Brothers, and were for the most part the personal selections, it was said, of Harry Warren, Frank Chambers, J. W. Lowe and John Lowe of that company. The kitchen, which is complete in every respect, was arranged and furnished by Norman White of the Dohrmann Hotel Supply Company.

The dining-room of the St. Paul is in charge of Carl Reber as maitre d'hotel. Reber is European trained and has had wide experience on the continent, and in England, Canada and the United States. As chef de cuisine, the St. Paul has Ernest Hotzeller of Swiss birth and training.

The St. Paul is under the management of Thomas F. Morrison.

Erection of the concrete work was in the hands of MacDonald & Driver, while the steel erection was done by the Blue Diamond Company, which also furnished the sand and rock for the concrete. The plumbing and sanitary work was in the hands of F. C. Schilling and Paul Schilling, the electrical work in the hands of the English Electric Company, while the electric fixtures were designed and made by the Western Metal Products Company. The ventilating system, said to be one of the best in any public building in Los Angeles, was designed and installed by A. M. Hubbard.

MAHOGANY, WALNUT FINISH

The plastering of the structure was done by J. F. Bolster & Co., the tile installation by the Continental Marble and Tile Company, of which R. S. Ballantyne is president, and the marble installation by the Hilf Marble Works, which has Charles Hilf as president.

The interior finish of Philippine mahogany and American walnut, was provided by the Woodhead Lumber Company, directed by David Woodhead, Norman Lambert and Tom Cramer.

STRIVE FOR HOMINESS

Mr. Morrison stated that the first aim of the city's newest hostelry will be to give its guests the feeling of being "absolutely at home." In all the work, equipment and the selection of a staff this idea has been paramount, he stated.

Mr. Reber, he said, is a man of the old school, with long years of training in England, Europe and in this country. He is widely known for the perfection of the service he is able to maintain, Mr. Foster stated.

Mr. Hotzeller, he said, is one of the foremost chefs in the country today. His dishes have won wide fame for their delectability.

Mr. Foster paid tribute to the various firms which took part in building, equipping, furnishing and decorating the new hostelry.

FORTY-MILE ACT TO BE ENFORCED

New Speed Limit Goes Into Effect Tomorrow

Examination of Motorists Will Be Required

Other Provisions Plan to Curb Reckless

SACRAMENTO, July 27.—All departments of the Division of Motor Vehicles today made preparations for the enforcement of the new motor vehicle act which becomes effective Friday.

The division's force of more than 200 officers was prepared to enforce the new forty-mile speed limit, having received instructions from Frank G. Snook, chief of the division, that no motorists are to be allowed to exceed that limit. The clerical force had ordered new supplies preparatory to carrying out the new provisions relative to registrations and keeping the records.

It will now be mandatory for the division to give examinations to all applicants for new drivers' licenses after the law becomes effective. Applications received up to midnight of tomorrow night will be recognized as coming under the old law.

MAY CANCEL CARD

The division may, if it deems it desirable, cancel the operator's card of any driver who has had a card for three years and require him to take an examination as to his physical and mental fitness to drive.

Drivers who have lost their licenses and make application for renewal may also be subjected to an examination at the discretion of the division.

Likewise, the division may require the nonresident who has never obtained a license in California before to take an examination.

Another important change in the new motorist "bible" provides that any person convicted of reckless driving three times within a period of twelve months shall automatically lose his license, the law classifying him as an habitually reckless driver. A conviction of speeding cannot be counted against the motorist in such cases.

JURIES FIX PENALTIES

Juries are given power to fix the punishment in cases of conviction for driving while intoxicated. This provision was added as a means of securing more convictions as it was found that under the old law, which classed the offense as a felony punishable by a prison sentence, juries were reluctant to bring in verdicts of guilty.

The division also prepared to comply with another section of the new act requiring that a complete record of accidents involving injury and death be kept with their causes and locations. Motorists involved in such accidents are now required to make a report to police officials and failure is deemed a misdemeanor. Police officials must, in turn, report to the division. This will stop the "covering up" of accidents.

Garages and parking stations are required, under the new law to keep a record of cars stored longer than twelve hours and to report to the police when a car has been stored longer than thirty days if the name and address of the owner are unknown.

USED-CAR SALES

Another provision, aimed at the stolen car evil, requires dealers to give notice of the sale of used cars to the division. Notice was required on new cars only under the old law.

It is likewise made a misdemeanor to withhold a certificate of ownership when the purchaser is entitled to it.

Muffler cut-outs must be eliminated from all cars under the act by January 1, 1929.

According to best information received by the division, the Wagy bill, which made material changes in the fee paid by commercial trucks, will not go into effect Friday as enough signatures to hold it up by referendum are said to have been secured. In this case, Snook announced, the division will adhere to the present fee schedule in the motor vehicle act until the Wagy bill has been decided at the November election in 1928.

Poultry-Dairy Service Plans in State Given

SACRAMENTO, July 27. (AP)—Forces for the administration of California's Federal-State dairy and poultry products inspection and certification service, to be inaugurated under the State's latest co-operative agreement with the United States Agricultural Department, now are being gathered by F. H. McCampbell, Federal-State supervisor, and Dr. J. J. Frey, chief of the bureau of dairy control of the State Department of Agriculture, who will serve as general administrator.

McCampbell will be located in the main office in Sacramento, while branch offices, each in charge of expert milk, cream and egg graders, will be set up in San Francisco and Los Angeles. A force of twenty-six inspectors will be gathered to cover the State in carrying out the work. These will comprise two butter and two egg graders to work in San Francisco, a butter and cheese and another egg man to work in Los Angeles, two graders in the Siskiyou Mountain district, three in the north coast counties, three in the Imperial Valley and twelve in the San Joaquin Valley.

Federal Dry Officer Shot by Policeman

TACOMA (Wash.) July 27. (AP)—William P. Thompson, Federal prohibition officer working out of Seattle, was shot through the roof of the mouth, probably fatally, here today by Motorcycle Officer William Nerbonne, after he had attempted to "pull" a gun on the latter.

The officers had been called by the janitor of the Parkland school, who reported to police headquarters that a drunken and disorderly couple had driven onto the school grounds and were fighting.

Thompson and his companion, who gave her name as Miss Wannette Snow, 23 years of age, Seattle, had been drinking, investigating officers declared. Miss Snow was booked on a charge of drunkenness.

Officer Nerbonne was exonerated of any blame in the shooting in a statement issued by Deputy Prosecutor Gordon.

PENNSYLVANIA BALLOTS ASKED

WASHINGTON, July 27. (AP)—Members of the Senate Elections Committee have been asked by Senator Watson, Republican, Indiana, to approve a plan to direct the Senate sergeant-at-arms to demand the ballots used in the last Pennsylvania Senatorial election outside of Philadelphia and Allegheny counties.

The ballots in those two counties are in the hands of the Senate campaign funds committee, headed by Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri.

The point at issue in the controversy is whether William H. Vare, Republican, or William B. Wilson, Democrat, should be seated by the Senate.

Corn being raised in the United States covers more than 1,000,000 acres.

Experts Urge Cut on Cotton Freight Rate

WASHINGTON, July 27. (AP)—After investigation of proposals of certain Southwestern railroads to readjust rates on cotton to eastern trunk line territory, Interstate Commerce Commission experts today recommended that the railroads concerned should be generally permitted to make the changes desired.

No rate alterations affecting shippers are contemplated. The railroads concerned are those operating through the Southwest on more circuitous lines than competitors.

They asked the commission to allow them to make rates on cotton from their lines in the Southwest to destinations in eastern trunk line territory which will allow them to meet rates now maintained by their competitors.

ENVOY GREETED BY IRISH STATE

DUBLIN, July 27. (AP)—Frederick A. Sterling formally was installed today as the first American Minister to the Irish Free State.

The installation was carried out with full ceremonial. The Minister's progress from the American Consulate to the Vice-Regal Lodge in Phoenix Park, accompanied by a troop of cavalry, was marked by enthusiastic greetings from the large crowd.

President Cosgrave, as External Minister, received the American envoy and introduced him to Gov.-Gen. Healy.

The new minister made a formal call on President Cosgrave this afternoon, and later was received by the Free State Council.

Governor Will Vacation Near Santa Barbara

SACRAMENTO, July 27. (AP)—Gov Young today announced he will spend his vacation, now planned for the first two weeks in August, near Santa Barbara, in keeping with a promise made to his wife and two daughters that they could spend a few weeks at the seashore.

The Governor only plans for a two-weeks outing at present, but if the Governor's conference is so arranged that he can attend and he spends a week out of the State he will extend his sojourn accordingly. The stay in the South, however, will not be one of complete rest for Gov. Young plans to motor to Los Angeles a couple of times a week to take care of State business.

"Times" Daily Short Story

A LA LINDBERGH

"AW, WHAT'S the use! This job ain't goin' to get me anywhere if I stick at it fifty million years. I'm goin' to quit!"

Larry Mallon flung down the spanner with a snort of disgust and straightened his back. With one grimy hand he sought the rear pocket in his soiled overalls and pulled out a package of cigarettes. He lighted one and strolled to the door of the garage, brows contracted and a rebellious glint in his blue eyes.

"Been here nearly two years," he muttered to himself between "drags" on the now oily cigarette. "And all the boss says when I ask for a raise is to tell me to be patient and I'll have no cause to kick. Patient hell! If he thinks I'm goin' to spend the rest of my days grinding valves on Ford flivvers he's mistaken. Me for some job where there's real dough; where there's a chance, anyways."

Larry's eyes roved around the big garage, half filled with automobiles and trucks on which men, clad like himself in soiled blue overalls, were working. Outside the late afternoon sun gilded the housetops and made Larry think of the lucky thousands just leaving the Yankee Stadium after witnessing a big game.

Posed by Dorothy MacKaill and Jack Mulhall.

"Oh, Larry, he was like you once!"

"Aw, what's the use!" he reiterated grinding the stub of the cigarette under his heel and striding gloomily toward the "job" which waited his final attention. "I'd quit tonight if it weren't for Lil' and get the heck out of this dump where its nothin' but slave all the time and never a chance to get anywheres."

The job occupied Larry's attention until 6 o'clock, but when he left the garage after his day's work was over he was still in the same resentful mood, burning to exercise the only prerogative that seemed left to him—to quit. Yet in spite of his rantings Larry knew that 6 o'clock in the morning would see him back again, unlocking his tools for another "job."

Larry started to work in the garage two years before as a car washer. Fresh from the honors of high school graduation the work had seemed menial enough to Larry who dreamed of one day becoming an engineer. But he had been cheerful enough and the boss had taken a liking to him. In a month he was doing other work and gradually he learned the mysteries of overhauling the various types of automobiles and trucks which came into the garage.

But in the past year there had been no change in his work, and no advancement. It never occurred to the impatient, eager youth that he must wait for a chance, an opportunity to show ability and prepare himself for the big job when it came. During the past few weeks Larry had become even more than usually restless. He talked more than ever of quitting and finding some other work in which he could get ahead.

"You'll find all jobs the same, Larry," Lil' told him on several occasions when he grumbled to her about the garage. Lil's experience in downtown New York offices told her that most folks preferred other people's jobs until they got them and then they didn't look so good.

Tonight when Larry met her and drove her out to Rockaway Beach in his flivver dressed up to look like a torpedo-shaped racing car, Lil' first tried sy apathy when Larry spilled his woes and then, when that didn't work, she gave him a piece of her mind.

"Don't you be a darned fool, Larry Mellon," she told him in her determined little voice. "Here we are planning to get married next spring and you're talking about quitting your job. You're darned lucky you have a good job and you don't know it. You'll get a chance, Larry," she added gently. "Don't be a foolish boy. Stick it out anyway until something better turns up!"

It was all very well for Lil to talk that way, Larry thought rather bitterly as he drove down to the garage to put his "boat" away after they returned to Manhattan. She didn't know what a monotonous job it was. Poor Larry! He ought to have known how Lil' felt about her own job of filing endless letters and papers day after day, week after week, with nothing interesting about the whole thing. Lil' knew what monotony was all right.

Anyway, when Jim Benton buttonholed Larry as he came out of the garage and started to walk home he found him in just the right sort of mood to consider any proposition which would take him away from the shop.

"Walkin' up, Larry?" Benton inquired, falling into step with the tall mechanic as he strode up the street.

"Yep!" replied Larry surlily.

"I'm glad to get the place out of my sight. In less'n eight hours I'll be back, tearin' some fool's engine down and buildin' it up again. What a life!"

"Don't like your job, eh?" Benton commented softly. "Why don't you quit and go into somepin' else, lots of jobs around!"

"Show me one and I'll grab it," Larry returned without any show of enthusiasm. For a minute the two men walked on in silence.

"You're a square guy, ain't you, Mellon?" Benton asked at last. "You'll keep you mouth closed if I make you an offer. How'd you like to drive a truck for us, running booze?"

"Runnin' booze! Bootleggin' you mean!" Larry's voice sounded incredulous.

"Sh! Don't let the world know. Sure that's what I mean. Two trips a week to Montauk Point and there's fifty bucks a trip in it for you an' a bonus. Easy dough. The cops don't bother you. Ain't that better than the thirty-five you're makin' here?" The bootlegger's voice was wheedling.

"A hundred bucks a week! Phew!" Larry whistled to himself. And easy work at that. Breaking the law to be sure, and no future in it, but who'd care about the law or about the future with a hundred bucks a week.

"D'you mean it?" he asked hoarsely.

"Of course, I do. My boss wants a good man. First trip Friday night with a Mack five-tonner. Just your meat. Are you game?"

Larry hesitated. What a chance! It didn't matter if he was pinched, though Benton said there was no fear of that. Of course, there was Lil'. She was a sensible kid. He'd wait and see what she said. They'd hold the offer one day anyway.

"I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll let you know tomorrow," he said in a queerly strained voice. "All right?"

"Sure. No harm done if you won't join us," Benton assured him. "Night." The bootlegger slipped off down the side street leaving Larry trembling with strange excitement.

Next day his gloom was gone. Only a few ...ore days of this and he'd be free, making plenty of money and having a good time. And while he worked he dreamed of this new "job" so that when the boss came round he startled Larry from his reverie.

"Morning, Larry!" the boss said cheerily. "How's it coming? It sure didn't take you long to fix that job. How'd you like to run a place, like this?" The boss swept Larry with his keen gaze.

"What! Me run a garage?" Larry's voice was incredulous, ironical even.

"I guess you could do it," the boss smiled. "There's a possibility that I'll need a superintendent for the downtown shop in a couple of weeks. And perhaps you'll fit the job. I'll talk to you about it later." The boss gave Larry another keen look and strolled away to inspect another part of the garage.

All the ...t of the day Larry worked in a maze of conflicting emotions. A superintendent's job! Much more than he had ever hoped for. Yet there was Benton offer. A hundred plunks a week. At least twice as much as the super's job would pay and less work! Not that ...e'd turn the boss's offer down—if he made it. But Larry was skeptical. Maybe it was just another gag to keep him working here. Perhaps there wasn't a chance after all.

And in the meantime there was Benton, and a sure hundred a week.

He met Lil' that evening and even before she spoke he knew she was excited about s...thing.

"Oh, say, Larry," she cried. "You read about this Lindbergh boy? Isn't he a pip? He lands in Washington tomorrow and they're going wild down there and that's nothin' to what New York's going to do."

"And say Larry. I've been reading about that boy. He was just like you once. He had a job like yours and maybe he was sick of it too. But say that boy figured he was goin' to make his mark one day and he stuck to it, by gosh!"

She pulled at Larry's sleeve as they drove toward the beach.

Larry turned and looked into Lil's eyes and saw they were shining like stars.

"You ain't goin' to quit your job Larry, are you dear?" she asked softly. "This Lindbergh boy's a wonder but he isn't superhuman. He's just shown what all you boys can do if you stick to it and win through. You ain't goin' to be restless and dissatisfied any more Larry, are you?" Lil's voice was trembling with anxiety and her breath came in gasps.

"Lindbergh? Yes I'y gosh he musta felt like I do sometimes, and I guess he stuck it out and made good," Larry murmured, half to himself. And when he turned to Lil' the light in his own yes matched the happy gleam in hers.

"Quittin' Lil? Of course, I'm not quittin.' The boss says there's a superintendent's job open and maybe I'll . . . Leggo for the love of Mike, Lil'. You'll have the boat in this ditch in a minute."

Fue de 38,559 Pies la Altura que Alcanzó Champion

WASHINGTON, Julio 27.—El barógrafo que, con admirable sangre fría, luchó por conservar el teniente C. C. Champion en su emocionante vuelo de altura de este último lunes, ha registrado hoy la desconsoladora cifra de 38,559 pies de elevación.

Champion, que, en un altímetro que llevaba, leyó una altura de 47,000 pies, se mantuvo en su avión ardiendo durante un descenso de gran sensación, para salvar el barógrafo, que sería testigo de un record de altura sentado por el valiente aviador.

Hoy sufrió éste una decepción, pues la Oficina de Medidas, cuyo frío análisis dice la palabra final en estos asuntos, anunció, por conducto de la Sociedad Aeronáutica Nacional, que, si hemos de atenernos a los records oficiales, Champion tendrá que hacer nueva tentativa.

El record oficialmente admitido es el del francés Callixo, que subió a 40,820 pies.

Muere el Introductor del "Camouflage"

LONDRES, Julio 27.—Solomon Joseph Solomon, artista inglés que llamó la atención hacia la necesidad de disfrazar los aparatos de guerra en las luchas modernas, y que inició esta práctica en el ejército británico al estallar la guerra mundial, ha fallecido hoy en Londres, capital donde nació hace sesenta y siete años. Figuran entre sus numerosas obras el decorado de la Bolsa Real y del edificio del Parlamento.

París Toma Medidas para Impedir la Propaganda Roja

PARIS, Julio 27.—Jean Herbette, embajador francés en Moscú, que acaba de pasar dos semanas en París, ha regresado a la capital rusa con instrucciones de hacerle presente al gobierno soviético que ya se ha hecho intolerable en Francia, para la opinión pública francesa, la propaganda roja que allí se hace, y que su gobierno se propone adoptar medidas enérgicas para combatirla.

Corresponsal de Guerra Muerto de Un Balazo

CHICAGO, Julio 27.—Christian D. Hagerty, periodista y corresponsal que fue de guerra, ha sido encontrado hoy muerto de un tiro en el hotel Commonwealth de esta ciudad. Le fue causada la muerte por una bala de pistola, que le entró cerca del corazón.

Los Habitantes de Alameda Están Pasando las Noches de Claro en Claro

ALAMEDA, Julio 27.—Insomnes y agotados, los habitantes de esta ciudad han hecho hoy gestiones para conseguir que la Comisión de Caza y Pesca del Estado los libre de los millares de garzas nocturnas, que han tomado posesión de los cipreses de la población, y pasan la noche pegando agudos y destemplados chillidos. Para tomar medidas contra ellas hay que recurrir a la citada autoridad, porque las garzas están protegidas por una ley del Estado.

FLINT RHEM QUITS CARDS

Star St. Louis Hurler Packs Bag After $2000 Fine for Breaking Training

ST. LOUIS, July 27. (AP)—Flint Rhem, Cardinal pitcher, who threatened to leave for his home in South Carolina when fined $2000 today for breaking training rules, later reconsidered and said he would postpone his departure pending Manager Bob O'Farrell's efforts to adjust matters.

O'Farrell stated he would attempt to iron out the differences between the pitcher and the "office," but he added he did not believe his efforts would bring a reconciliation, inasmuch as President Sam Breadon has declared the fine would stick.

Breadon's action was considered a bombshell by sports writers as Rhem has pitched good ball on his last two outs. He lost both games, but each was a close one, the Dodgers defeating him in Brooklyn, 2 to 1, and the Reds in Cincinnati, 4 to 3.

SPEEDY BERKELEY MISS STARTLES NET EXPERTS

National Champion Downed by Star Californian in Straight Sets; Ranks With Helen Wills

MANCHESTER (N. H.) July 27. (AP)—Miss Helen Jacobs of Berkeley, Cal., 18-year-old Pacific Coast women's tennis champion, today smashed her way into the forefront of the Essex County Country Club's third annual invitation tournament by defeating Mrs. Molla Mallory, national women's champion, 6-0, 10-8. As a result of the upset she shared with Miss Helen Wills of her own State, the leading place of the tournament.

Although each is scheduled to play in the semifinals tomorrow the indications tonight were that two California girls would meet in the finals Friday morning. Miss Wills will meet Mrs. J. Dallas Corbiere of Boston and Miss Jacobs will play Miss Margaret Blake of Lenox in tomorrow's matches.

Miss Jacobs has appeared in tournament play in the East only once before since 1925 when as in 1924, she won the national junior championship. Last week she took part in the Maidstone tournament at East Hampton, but lost to Miss Penelope Anderson of Richmond, Va. Miss Jacobs and Miss Wills have met in tournament play only once—during the Pacific Coast title matches of 1925. The new British women's champion won the match 6-3, 6-2.

Miss Jacobs today drove steadily to Mrs. Mallory's backhand, forcing the champion continually into errors while her own backhand play was sharp and almost faultless.

Miss Wills won her way into the semifinals by defeating Mrs. B. E. Cole II, of North Andover in straight sets, 6-3, 6-1.

In the doubles matches today Miss Wills and Mrs. G. W. Wightman advanced to the fourth round by defeating Mrs. Herbert Yerza and Mrs. Charles A. Welch, 6-1, 6-0.

GEORGE BLAKE HOME

Manager of Fidel La Barba Here; Flyweight Champion Due Back From East in Few Days

George Blake, manager of Fidel La Barba, arrived home yesterday and announced that the little flyweight champion of the world will be stepping off at the home port within the next few days. He said La Barba stayed East to complete some tutoring for the entrance examinations which he will take at Stanford this fall.

Blake and La Barba have been gone seven months, leaving here shortly after the Christmas holidays. La Barba had nine bouts in the East, Blake said, including one successful defense of his title, five decisions, one knockout and the loss of two decisions to Johnny Vacca of Boston at catchweights.

According to Blake the flyweight king will positively hang up his gloves this fall for all time. He probably will fight here once more before he enters Stanford, either in defense of his title or at catchweights, depending on the bait held out by the promoters.

La Barba's eastern tour added something like $45,000 to the bank account, and he now considers himself well heeled for the college career ahead, Blake said.

Mehlhorn's total for the two rounds yesterday and today was 140. Nabholtz was only one stroke behind.

George Duncan, the famous British golfer, made a sensational round of 68 today, duplicating Mehlhorn's score of yesterday and equaling the course record. He took 75 to negotiate the eighteen holes yesterday.

BATTLE OVER BOUT SITE

Illinois Fans Oppose Dempsey Tilt on Soldiers' Field; Rickard to Arrive Friday

CHICAGO, July 27. (AP)—The first action in opposition to holding the Dempsey-Tunney fight here in September was heard today as Tex Rickard started for Chicago to meet Mayor Thompson's representatives to complete arrangements for use of Soldiers' Field Stadium.

An application for an injunction was filed in Circuit Court by Attorney J. Kentner Elliott, who said he based his suit on Dempsey's war record. He charged that the proposed heavyweight championship contest was "contrary to the peace and good order of society in general."

TEX RICKARD.

But this minor note of protest encountered renewed clamor for the match, the State Athletic Commission repeating its previous invitation to Rickard to bring the fight here.

NOT CONSULTED

"The Athletic Commission has not been consulted yet about the fight," said John C. Eighelmer, chairman, "but we are very eager to have it

DIRECT WIRE KEEPS WRIGLEY LINED UP ON CUBS' PROGRESS

AVALON (Santa Catalina Island), July 27. (AP)—A direct "wire" from the ball park in Chicago today furnished William Wrigley, in his mountain-top home here, with a play-by-play description of the National League baseball game between the Chicago Cubs and the New York Giants.

The millionaire manufacturer has had installed an automatic telegraph printer service direct from the press box at Wrigley Field, Chicago, so that he may keep a "long-distance finger" on the flighty pulse of the National League leadership battle. It was used for the first time today and worked "fine," Mr. Wrigley said, "except for the ninth inning." He referred to the four-run rally staged by the Giants to win the game.

GEHRIG TIES RUTH; BLASTS HOMER TO AID FOURTEENTH YANKEE WIN OVER BROWNS

NEW YORK, July 27. (AP)—The Yankees drubbed the Browns, 4 to 1, today, marking the fourteenth setback of the St. Louis club at the hands of the New Yorkers this season. Lou Gehrig broke up a mound struggle between Ballou and Pennock by connecting for his thirty-third home run in the sixth inning with Ruth on base. The blow put Gehrig in a tie with Ruth for home-run honors. During the same inning Tony Lazzeri drove out his fifteenth homer. Pennock yielded only three hits.

Before the contest Frank O'Rourke of the Browns was presented with a diamond ring by his admirers from

Pendergrass Defeats Wesbrook in Brentwood Tourney; Hughes Wins From Jer

MEDALIST OUT OF CLUB EVENT

Wilshire Youngster Clips Par in Victory

Jergins Misses Short Putt to Lose Feature

Close Matches Add Zest to Invitational Play

BY BILL WISE

Lee Pendergrass, husky Wilshire youngster, clipped par through sixteen holes at Brentwood yesterday to defeat Harry Wesbrook of Annandale, tourney medalist, in the first title flight mathe of the club invitational.

The former all-high-school guard, one of the longest players off the tee in Southern California, controlled his space-devouring woods yesterday and as a result, putted for birdies on fourteen of the sixteen holes contested by Wesbrook. Pendergrass's crashing offensive would have terrorized a less hardy challenger than Annandale's popular "gunner," but Wesbrook, trailing in the wake of a real championship drive, barely missed four long putts that would have carried the match overtime.

A. T. Jergins and Howard Hughes, big oil-and-gas dividend men from Long Beach and Texas, respectively, staged the feature clash of the day, the youthful golfer winning on the twentieth when Jergins missed an eighteen-inch putt for a halve.

The golfing dignitaries turned in a perfect exhibition through sixteen holes, Jergins claiming the break with a 250-yard tee shot that aided materially in a birdie 4 on the long seventeenth. With the best match of the day in his bag, the popular Long Beach golfer fumbled a short putt for a halve on eighteen and after dropping a par 4 to halve nineteen wavered again and required three putts to lose the match to one of the best match-play amateurs in the West. The slender Rancho exponent, with a perfect golfing disposition, is rapidly developing into one of the most-feared match and medal players in this vicinity and should rank as an exceedingly dangerous challenger in the State championship at Del Monte next September.

In addition to Pendergrass, who is nearly 18 years of age, Lester Coleman, Herman "Laddie" Hellman, Les Hensley, State junior champ; Russell "Buddy" Thompson, Warren Newmark, Warren Johnson—all contenders in the last junior championship won by Charles Seaver of Los Angeles, carried the golfing escutcheon of the local "kid brigade" into the second round of the Brentwood invitational.

GOLF STARS AT EL CABALLERO

Mrs. Harry Pressler and Ed Dudley will team to outgolf Miss Kathleen Wright and Charles Guest in a two best ball foursome exhibition at El Caballero, this afternoon. Mrs. A. E. D. Trabue, chairman of the Women's Auxiliary of the S.C.G.A., arranged the match to afford the San Gabriel matron and the Flintridge miss some really high-class competition. Mrs. Pressler leaves for the East next week and will take part in the women's western next month and the women's national in September. There will be no gallery fee charged for the exhibition today.

ZORILLA FLATTENS WALKER IN FOURTH

Santiago Zorilla flattened Al Walker in the fourth round of their scheduled ten-round feature bout at the Wilmington Bowl, climaxing a card of sensational bouts before a record crowd. Zorilla dropped Walker for nine counts twice before the knockout, with smashing rights to the midsection. Chick Roach knocked out Joe Cardona in the third round of the semi-wind-up. Johnny Gonsales dropped Nifty Gonzales twice in the sixth round of their bout and took a decision. Frankie Ferriss and Wallace Dugan fought a terrific, bloody four-round draw, and Jim Morasco got the verdict over Burt Brooks. Ben McFarland officiated.

ADAMS SET FOR COTTRELL BOUT

San Bernardino Boy Anxious to Fight Hudkins

Pick Gordon to Stop La Salle in Semifinal Go

Carreon Battles Magdaleno Over Special Route

Johnny Adams and Jimmy Cottrell are in the pink of condition for their ten-round fight tomorrow night at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium. Adams has been training at San Bernardino and the "mountain lion" was never in better shape. He is anxious to fight Ace Hudkins, Sergt. Sammy Baker or Mushy Callahan.

Adams has always been a card at Hollywood because he is the kind of fighter they like. With the welterweight championship of the Pacific Northwest at stake, the fans are going to see a sensational battle, with Adams the favorite.

The San Bernardino fight fans are anxious to see Adams get a shot at Ace Hudkins. This fight is a Southern California natural. Should Adams beat Cottrell, then Tom Jones is going to make the Hudkins boys a proposition for a fight.

Unless Georgie Gordon wings Bobby LaSalle on the kisser for a knockout he is going to be outpointed by the clever Bobby. Gordon is apt to kayo Bobby.

Al Carreon, the Filipino, and Young Magdaleno may steal the show. They did a month ago when Magdaleno beat Carreon.

PORTLAND DEFEATS SEALS BY 4-2 COUNT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27. (AP)—Portland came back today to defeat the Seals, 4 to 2, and even the series at one game each. With the exception of the second inning, when the San Francisco club made both its runs, Johnny Couch had the game well in hand by masterful pitching. The Beavers went back into the lead in the third when Cissell, shortstop, homered into the left-field bleachers, scoring Johnson ahead. Score:

OAKLAND COPS SECOND STRAIGHT FROM BELLS

OAKLAND, July 27. (AP)—Two wild throws in the infield today gave Oakland a 2-to-0 victory over the Missions and the second straight game of the series. Al Gould for the Oaks and Phil Weinert were engaged in a tight pitching duel when the two errors were made in the eighth. Bool doubled and scored in that frame when Gould bunted and Weinert threw the ball away at third. Gould reached second on the play and scored when Shinners bunted to Jones, who threw wild to first. DOEG COPS AT EASTERN NETS burn of New York, veteran Davis Cup defender.

Despite the speed of Doeg's high bounding first serve which twice knocked the racket from his slight opponent's hand, Grant finally broke through to take the first set. Doeg steadied while Grant tired and the Coast boy won the final point with Grant in a vain attempt to make an impossible return.

After the match Doeg paired with Bobby Sellers, fellow Californian, to win in the opening round of the New York State sectional doubles, also being played at the Crescent Athletic Club here. Young Grant and his brother, Perry, 22, lost their first-round in straight sets to the Texans, Louis Thalheimer and Wilmer Allison.

Sharing singles interest with the Doeg-Grant match was the 6-6, 6-3 victory of Dr. George King, New York, No. 10 in the national ranking, over E. W. Feibleman, New York, former Harvard player. Dr. King thus was the first to reach the semifinal round.

DECIDE COAST SWIM TITLES IN PASADENA MEET TONIGHT

PASADENA, July 27. (AP)—The cream of Pacific Coast swimmers were expected to arrive here in the next twenty-four hours to compete in the Pacific Coast A.A.U. championship meet scheduled for tomorrow night at Brookside Park.

Florence Chambers, 1924 Olympic backstroke champion of San Diego, worked out here today, and Eleanor Garratti of San Rafael was expected to swim in preliminary tryouts for her 100-yard race with Lily May Bowner of Club Casa Del Mar of Santa Monica.

The list of expected entrants included Duke Kahanamoky, Betty Becker Pinkston, Frank Walton, Arthur Hargraves, Carl Stevenson, W. O'Conner and Lester Smith of the Olympic Club of San Francisco, and Al White, Marion Gilman, Monta Morten and Lillian Fergus of the Neptune Club of Oakland. Delegations from San Bernardino, Arrowhead, Colton, Riverside and Santa Barbara were en route here.

CALLAHAN-BAKER BOUT LOOMING FOR DONALD

With the fight fans still talking about his successful promotion of the bout between Sergt. Sammy Baker and Ace Hudkins at Wrigley Field, Promoter Dick Donald yesterday started making arrangements for another natural between Mushy Callahan and Baker.

Donald conferred with Eddie Sears, Callahan's manager, yesterday. The ball-park promoter also talked with Steve Webber, manager of Sammy Baker. A slight difference in percentage appears to be all that is holding up the match.

Donald will stage the attraction at Wrigley Field in the middle of August if he is successful in securing the signatures of both managers—something he expects to accomplish today.

"The heat beat Callahan in Chicago more than Baker's punches," said Sears yesterday, "Mushy has begged me to get Baker for him in Los Angeles. The kid knows he can beat that fellow here and I know it, too."

COMPLETE PROGRAM FOR MAIN STREET

The complete program for Saturday night's fistic entertainment at the Main Street Athletic Club was announced yesterday by Carlo Curtis, promoter of the popular arena. Backing up the Vincente Aguilar-Rudy Steiner eight-round feature which promises to be a slugging match from the first gong until one or the other drops, will be five other top-notchers. Jack Lamson hooks up with Johnny Farnando in the semifinal of six rounds, at 148 pounds. Red Bennett and Tony Parra are to furnish the other six-rounder at 138 pounds. Joe Blanda and Young Mission will provide one four-rounder, while Leo Garcia and Kid Herrera will raise the curtain.

PRO NET ATHLETES TO PLAY

Racket Wizards Offer Fine Program Tonight at Ambassador

Tennis fans of Southern California meet tonight at the Ambassador Auditorium to pass on what appears to be one of the finest net programs offered here in many moons. Featured as the main event is the doubles between Harvey Snodgrass and Walter Wesbrook and Tom Ferrandini and Harold Godshall. The latter two are the latest of the Southern California contingent to join the professional ranks.

In the singles, Ferrandini meets Godshall and Snodgrass takes on Wesbrook. The three matches complete the program, which is the second of a series to be offered by the Ambassador.

There is little danger of Snodgrass and his southpaw partner presenting the new pros with the national professional doubles title. However, if Ferrandini and Godshall can defeat the pro titlists the professional title passes to them. These two make a great playing pair, having held the Southern California doubles title for several seasons. Ferrandini, making his first pro appearance, also held the city title and about ran out of competition before joining hands with the professionals.

The show is scheduled for 8:30 o'clock.

SLUGGING CARD COMPL

Olympic Signs Danny Kramer and Fernandez Up Colima-Strong, DeHate-Auerbach B

Danny Kramer will box Bobby Fernandez, featherweight of Mexico, in the six-round special event on the Colima-Strong-Auerbach double wind-up Tuesday night at the Olympic.

The match was closed yesterday by Wad Wadhams, which gives him a slugging bill from start to finish. Sailor Fay and Pat McGraw will slug in the opening bout.

Strong is taking a long shot with Colima, for if he wins he will be given the open date in August with Leo Lomski. Strong and Lomski would make almost the same kind of a sledging duel as Hudkins and Baker put up the other night.

Against Colima the Omaha middleweight will find himself against a snap puncher instead of a sledger as Lomski is. While Jack Willis knocked out Colima, he was outpointed every round by Strong in a ten-round bout not long ago. Lomski also knocked out Colima, but Strong would be close to an even bet against Lomski.

Deflats and Andrade slug it out. Neither has to try to feint for openings, but keep punching and see whether they give or take.

JONES SURE HE'LL W

Shortly after his arrival here from his home in Houston, Tex., last night for his mat battle with John Pesek, the "Nebraska Tigerman," at the Olympic next Wednesday night, "Tex" Paul Jones declared he felt ready to beat first Pesek and then Joe Stecher.

Jones has been resting for the past few weeks, and with six days of training he believes he will be in better condition than he was when he battled Stecher three weeks ago.

"If I don't beat Pesek in wrestling," Jones declared, "I never need hit him, for I think I can beat him in a few things about wrestling. The bout between Pesek and Jones will go until the finish, even if each has scored one fall or two falls.

Walter J. Leather is telling Joyce Todd as they start for an all-day motor jaunt through the Berkshires.

David Belasco, dean of the American Theatre, writes:

"The voice is to the actor what the chisel is to the sculptor. He must beware of dulling its qualities. Naturally I am vitally concerned about the voices of my players, so I always advise the use of cigarette that I discovered many years ago that does not impair control of the subtlest vocal shadings or cause harshness or harshness. I mean the 'Lucky Strike.' It is the player's best friend."

TAYLOR DENIES HE'S DEAD

COUNCIL BLUFFS (Iowa) July 27. (AP)—Luther H. Taylor, original "Dummy" Taylor of the New York Giants, denied emphatically that he is dead or that the original "Dummy" Taylor is dead as reported in dispatches from Galesburg, Ill., today. In a statement to the Council Bluffs Nonpareil today, he wrote as follows:

"I am the original 'Dummy' Taylor. I remember this Lyman B. Taylor, I think, from the days when I played semipro ball in Illinois and Ohio. He was a graduate of the Illinois School for the Deaf and was a southpaw. He never went into professional baseball, but he was one of the best semiprofessional pitchers ever developed in Illinois."

Scrapbooks containing write-ups during the days when Dummy Taylor was pitching for the Giants bear out his claims as all of these stories refer to Dummy Taylor as Luther Taylor. Pictures taken at that time prove the local man's claims without a doubt.

DIVIDE BILL

CINCINNATI, July 27. (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds divided a twin bill with the Boston Braves today but climbed into fifth place in the National League when they won the second game, 8 to 2, while Brooklyn was losing to Pittsburgh. The Braves won the first game, 7 to 2.

Both games were won on one-inning rallies. In the opening game the Braves hit Nehf and Mays for seven hits and seven runs in the fourth inning, and in the last game the Reds hit Smith and Wertz for three hits to gain their five-run victory score. Two runs were scored when Brown muffed Picinich's long fly, and two walks also contributed to the Braves' downfall. It was the twenty-first consecutive game in which Pube Bressler has hit safely.

FANS TO DINE JACK TONIGHT

of Jack Dempsey tonight in the club's pavilion of friendship, one of the most ambitious of the welcome-home events of the week for the ex-champ. "We are going the limit to take care of the crowd that will be there," said Mr. DeMond, "and are going to take reservations up to the last minute. In order to make it as easy as possible for everyone to get tickets, we have them on sale at the Los Angeles Athletic Club, the Biltmore, the Alexandria, and the Lankershim hotels, as well as at the club.

"We are going to have a wonderful bill of entertainment, with numbers from the organizations of West Coast theaters, the Orpheum, Jack Laughlin, Will Morrissey, and other sources. Scores of Jack's personal friends will be there, and practically every prominent follower of boxing in Southern California. The dinner will start at 7 o'clock, and from 7:30 on will be broadcast over KMTR. It will be a stag affair, and informal both as to dress and atmosphere.

DEMPSEY-SHARKEY FILM HERE

A triple-header bill is now showing at the California Theater, Eighth and Main streets, in the shape of the three greatest fights Jack Dempsey has ever had. These battles, the one with Carpentier, the Dempsey-Tunney affray and the Dempsey-Sharkey bout of a week ago, have been transferred to the screen and are now showing at the California.

The Dempsey-Sharkey fight pictures show the effects that a right to the chin had on Jack Sharkey with the knockout as one of the most thrilling pieces of action ever filmed.

BATTLE OVER SITE OF BOUT

held here and will give all assistance we can under the law.

"If George F. Getz, who has stated that he will become the licensed promoter, applies to the commission, he will be welcome to our aid. Of course the fight must be arranged in accordance with the Illinois law and the rules of the commission, but I see no obstacle to it now."

Getz, a millionaire coal man and head of Mayor Thompson's civic affairs committee, is the man who will deal with Rickard when the New York promoter arrives tomorrow.

Getz has invited Edward F. Kelly, president of the South Park Board, which controls Soldiers' Field, to the initial conference, on his return from the Dempsey-Sharkey fight, Kelly was enthusiastic about bringing the title bout here in the stadium.

Today Kelly said the question of public demand for the fight here would be one of the principal issues he would lay before Rickard.

"I've already received a number of letters from people objecting to the fight being held there," said Kelly, "but I don't like to act solely on those. We always get letters objecting to something, the rodeo for instance. If Chicagoans really want the fight and we approve of the conditions, we'll let them use the stadium."

Kelly intimated that he would rather turn the stadium over to Rickard on a rental basis than handle the ticket distribution himself as he did for last fall's record-breaking crowd at the Army-Navy football game.

TEX TURNS DOWN STONEHAM OFFER

NEW YORK, July 27. (AP)—Before leaving late today for Chicago, probable scene of Gene Tunney's heavyweight title defense against Jack Dempsey this fall, Tex Rickard dealt what appeared to be a final blow to New York's chances of staging the season's fistic plum.

Although Rickard declared he will not know for at least two days where the fight will take place, he completely overruled the suggestion of Charles A. Stoneham, president of the New York Giants, that the Polo Grounds here offered a site large enough to accommodate a $2,000,000 house at $50 top.

BILLY ATKINSON ON GULVER BOUT PROGRAM

Jimmy Murray, boy boxing promoter of Culver City, will present one of the best balanced cards of the season tonight when he stages five six-round bouts with well-known local boys providing most of the sport.

The main event will bring together Billy Atkinson and Manuel Vasquez at 154 pounds. Both are hard hitters and there is a strong chance of the battle ending in a knockout.

In the semi-wind-up Midget Smith, latest of the kayo stars at Culver City, will take on Johnny Gonzales at 130 pounds.

The rest of the program will be Micky Arnold vs. Sammy Rothstein, 110 pounds; Young Joe Rivers vs. Pat Sweeney, 126 pounds; and Bobby Hermon vs. Benny Young, 126 pounds.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By Paul Lowery

AMONG some of the things Jack Dempsey will receive this week besides a lot of free grub and speaking invitations, loving cups, etc., will be the colors worn by a couple of dead gladiators in the dim and distant past—John L. Sullivan and Charley Mitchell—who battled for the heavyweight championship at Chantilly, France, in 1888. Jack will receive these because the donor, W. R. Bingham, a resident of Pasadena, says he is the only heavyweight champion who has proved himself the equal to the peerless John L. Apparently the fact that Gene Tunney sheared Dempsey of his title last September does not enter into Mr. Bingham's reckoning, and the latter takes it for granted that Jack will regain the crown this summer. His letter explaining the gift follows:

"Sporting editor,
Los Angeles Times,
Los Angeles,
California.

"Dear Sir:

"It was Harry Phillips, a young millionaire of Montreal, who furnished the backing for John Lawrence Sullivan (the greatest Roman of them all), took him to England, matched him against Charley Mitchell for the championship of the world.

"The fight took place at Chantilly, France, in 1888 under London prize-ring rules in a drizzling rain, and was declared a draw.

"Harry Phillips and I were personal friends. On his return from the bout, we met at Montreal races, and at his apartment, and he had the colors worn by John L. and Mitchell. He presented them to me with the request, if ever a heavyweight champion appeared, who proved himself, in my opinion, the equal of John L. then he would like me to present these colors to that champion.

"And Mr. Editor, I am not making any error when I ask you to kindly present the colors to Jack Dempsey, who (in may opinion,) is the greatest and one of the gamest champions of the manly art of self-defense of all times.

"Wishing him success in any future battle he may have, and trusting he may retire with the title, I remain

"Yours very truly,
"W. R. BINGHAM."

Late proprietor of Bingham's Lakeside Inn, Mt. Clemens, Mich.

The more you think of the savage Hudkins-Baker battle the other night the greater it stands out in your mind. It was a terrific duel between two highly courageous warriors, and the bout should go down in history as one of the greatest ever staged in California. In fact, if you believe the word of a friend of mine, Dr. William Nelson, it was the greatest ever staged anywhere.

As a fight it contained all the elements of the spectacular and sensational. It was a contest of wallops and at the same time a clash of wits with science directing the blows. Left jabbed until his face resembled hamburger in the early rounds and mortally wounded in the fourth, Baker boxed warily until his head cleared and then hooked Hudkins like a master in the seventh, eighth and ninth rounds. On the Hudkins ledger you find the "Wildcat" fighting with desperate ferocity under the handicap of a fractured hand and horribly gashed lip that literally spouted blood. Hudkins won and he deserves all the credit that goes with victory, but Baker in defeat won almost as much glory.

Little Fidel La Barba, our flyweight champion, will soon be home, and then yo-ho for one more fight—a title bout—and a university career. That's the word brought back by George Blake, his manager, who returned yesterday from the East, where he and Fidel have been for the past seven months.

George says Fidel is positively going to Stanford this fall, and that he remained in the East to complete some tutoring for his entrance examinations. During his seven months' absence La Barba has had nine fights. He has won six, lost two, and had one draw. He beat Elky Clark in defense of his title, lost twice to Johnny Vacca at catchweights, and won from Young Montreal, Billy Shaw, Babe Kellar, William La Morte, Mike Brady and drew with Clarence Rosen. The victory over Brady was a knockout. Blake says Fidel is worth about $70,000 now, and has invested some of his money in stocks and bonds so that he is assured of a $50 a week income, which is certainly enough for any one young man to complete a college education.

HOUSE FACES CLISBY IN PASADENA FIGHT

Mack House and Neil Clisby, negro heavyweights, are the big noise of Southern California boxing tonight, when they meet in a ten-round rematch at the Pasadena arena. At the opening of that boxing institution early in June Clisby slipped over a surprise by kayoing House in the third round and ever since arguments have raged as to whether it was a fluke or due to House's overconfidence, or perhaps because Clisby is the better man.

Justification for the latter theory is found by Clisby supporters in the fact that he recently gave George Godfrey the toughest battle of the latter's late career. Clisby is confident he can repeat this evening.

The semi-wind-up is a battle of clever featherweights, Ralph Lincoln and Jimmy Black, scheduled for six rounds.

There will also be three four-rounders, as follows:

Walter Reck vs. Pete Saavedia, 122 pounds; Jimmy Harrison vs. Frank St. Charles, 142 Pounds; Willie O'Conner vs. Frank Echeverria, 140 pounds.

pinch-hitter in the seventh and Lefty McClelland finished up, being bumped for the Indians' last two runs in the ninth inning.

PID GETS THREE HITS

Pid Purdy, Killefer's papoose of the Seattle Tribe, led the Indians' attack with three singles in five trips to the plate. Edwards also did a bit of swatting to aid his own cause, collecting a trio of safeties himself. Walter Kimmick, the league's leading sticker, got a home run with the sacks empty in the sixth, but that was his only hit in four times at bat, so his .402 average suffered accordingly.

Seattle sewed up the contest in the first inning, which Purdy opened by beating out an infield hit to Norgren, who was terribly slow in getting the ball away. Brady sacrificed and then singles by Hufft and Eldred drove Purdy home. Norgren's boot of Sherlock's roller, which looked like a sure double-play ball, filled the sacks. Jahn made a sensational running catch of Ellsworth's drive, and Hufft came in after the effort with the second run of the round.

Doubles by Brazill and Staley gave the Angels their lone marker in the third, but the Indians got that right back in the fifth, when Purdy singled and made his way around the paths on Brady's bunt, Hufft's infield out and Brick Eldred's double to right center.

KIMMICK RAPS HOMER

Kimmick drove one over the left-center-field wall in the sixth to account for another Seattle run, while Brady's double and a couple of kicks by Norgren in the seventh increased the Indians' run total to five.

With McClelland hurling the Indians hanged over their last two runs in the ninth. Two walks, a wild pitch, an infield out and another error by Norgren were responsible for the final scoring efforts of the invaders.

There will be two games today, the first game starting at 1:30. Wright and Piercy or Cunningham will probably be on the mound for the Angels, while Killefer has his choice of Sutherland, Speed Martin and Knight. Score:

ON DOCTORS

DOCTORS are essential. Most of us couldn't be born without 'em, and many wouldn't die without them. Yet the I.C.C. should get after them. They're the only folks who make us pay as we enter and as we exit, too.

Doctors frankly admit they practice on us What many don't admit, but should, is that they not only practice but experiment.

Old-time doctors treated not only entire bodies but entire families. New-style doctors exemplify the fine modern spirit of co-operation. Now that so many are graduated yearly, and all must have high-priced cars, offices and nurses, there aren't enough whole patients to go around. So one takes the nose and throat, one the nerves, one the lungs, one the tummy. Each seizes his section, charges specialist rates, and passes what's left of us on to the next in line.

When all get through, there may not be much left of us. But we come out, if at all, feeling as fit as a re-built Ford. The Elizabethan age was noted for men of parts, but ours has more men of spare parts. Just mention operations anywhere, and you'll learn how many.

Operations come high, but we must have 'em to have something to talk about all our lives. We're indebted to the doctors for the world's most absorbing subjects of conversation.

Yes, Palomine, we owe the doctors a lot—as every doctor's books will show.

Charity at Home

Small Natalie was picking over her toys to fill a basket for some poor children. Suddenly she held up a little book.

"Mother," she cried, "here's 'Aesop's Fables'! May I give it away? Any child would just love it. I hate it!"

Baby's In the Movies Now

Baby's in the movies now,
We should care—for she's a wow,
Papa's quit his watchman's job,
Mama's got to be a snob,
Sister Lou just bought a car,
Brother smokes a mean cigar.

Baby dear can scarcely speak,
But she draws two grand a week
As for modest me, I'm sure
I haven't changed since we were poor—
I'M THE BABY!

CHUCKLES from LIFE

Post-Bellum Note

Three men watched the sun set on Flanders fields.

"It was here," said the youngest, the slightest tremble in his voice, "I think it was here that—that they got my brother. You know—we were in the same squad. A fragment of a shell...But we went on," he added proudly; "we found what was left of their first line. We went on..."

"Glorious deeds," murmured the oldest of the three, a heavy-set, iron-jawed man.

"I'll never forget," said the third, "the time I neglected to hate Germans. An officer—one of theirs—and two men, all that were left of an advancing line—coming at us through the smoke, alone. They knew they were alone, but on they came. They were going to take our trench single-handed! Of course—they didn't. But they were heroes."

"Brave men," sighed the older man; "there were heroes on both sides—naturally. You boys," he continued, placing a heavy arm around the shoulders of each, "you boys belong to that immortal band of noble warriors. You have fought gloriously."

He moved his arm from the shoulders of the youngest and touched his eye with a handkerchief.

"But," he added modestly, "you mustn't forget that had it not been for us poor devils who stayed home and manufactured munitions you mightn't have had any war at all!"

Net Income of Santa Fe for June Declines

Net railway operating income of the Santa Fe system for the month of June, last, amounted to $3,925,092, as compared with $3,881,870 in the same month of last year, a decrease of $936,778, according to figures released by the local office yesterday. This decline in net was due to an increase of $1,292,873 in operating expenses, as gross operating revenues in the month were greater than a year ago.

Total railway operating income for June was $19,954,555, as compared with $19,766,226 in June, 1926, an increase of $188,329. Operating expenses increased from $14,093,879 in June last year to $15,988,683 in the month just passed.

Net railway operating income for the six months ended June 30, last, amounted to $20,979,790, as compared with $19,008,076 in the same six months of 1926, an increase of $1,963,714. COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, July 27. (Exclusive)—Considerable irregularity marked today's trading in cotton as a result of conflicting ideas regarding the weather news, particularly the government's weekly weather and crop bulletin, published today. As a consequence fluctuations were erratic, although most traders were disposed to exercise more caution in making new commitments, especially in view of the extensive advance of more than 910 a bale of the past three weeks.

After opening about 9 to 12 points higher on better Liverpool cables and some rains over night in portions of the belt where not needed, prices were carried above this level on the first reading of the weekly weather report, which was construed bullish on the confirmation of the boll-weevil damage, and there was a sharp decline of 15 to 22 points, the selling coming chiefly from wire and commission houses with fair profit taking.

The maximum advance from yesterday's closing was about 11 to 14 points with October selling at 18.08 cents, December 1934, January 19.32, March 19.50 and May 19.62. The low quotations of the day carried October to 18.78, December 19.01, January 19.10, March 19.28 and May 19.47. There was only a moderate improvement in the market from this level up to the close.

No exports were reported today. The total from August 1 to date is 11,159,119 bales, against 8,139,860 last year. Southern spot markets yesterday were mostly about 10 to 15 points lower. Liverpool futures closed with a net decline of 6 to 7 points, against 11½ to 18 due.

RICHFIELD OIL HOLDING OWN

Report of Company Covering Half Year Shows Net Profits on Par With 1926 Period

BY CARL P. MILLER

Further evidence that California petroleum companies have been able to successfully cope with the unsettled condition of the oil industry, is contained in the report of operations of the Richfield Oil Company of California for the first six months of the current year, issued late yesterday by J. A. Talbot, president. Richfield is the second of the major California companies to report for the first half of this year and shows profits in the period almost identical to those of the first half of 1926. Union Oil of California last week reported earnings only slightly below a year ago.

Net earnings of the Richfield Oil Company for the six months ended June 30, last, after all charges, including depletion, depreciation and interest, amounted to $1,483,547.35, as compared with $1,488,166.06 in the corresponding six months of last year, a decrease of only $4618.73.

This is equivalent to $1.31 a share on the 1,131,626 shares of common stock outstanding, as against $1.32 a share on the basis of the same capitalization in the first half of last year. Earnings in the first half of this year were also more than sufficient to meet requirements of $1 a share for the entire year.

Before deducting depletion, depreciation, interest and Federal income tax reserves, the company earned $3,589,117.16. Write-off for depletion, depreciation and interest in the half year amounted to $2,105,569.81.

Notwithstanding the fact that the period covers the gasoline price war, net profits of the company in the second quarter, after all charges, amounted to $745,522.31, as compared with $738,014.84 in the first three months of this year. According to Mr. Talbot, the company's earnings in June were the highest in the company's history, and reflect the better price structure, and the increase in production and manufacturing capacity.

During the first six months of this year the company produced a total of 3,227,164 barrels of crude oil and casinghead gasoline, or nearly two and one-half times the production of 1,436,574 barrels in the first half of last year. Total sales of the company this year to date are in excess of $18,800,000, as against $15,300,000 in the same period of 1926.

The additions to the Rioco refinery of the Richfield company are practically complete, and it now has a straight run capacity of more than 40,000 barrels a day, and a cracking capacity of approximately 10,000 barrels daily.

The company's sales policy has been broadened to include a comprehensive export trade, and the entering of the Northwestern States, Oregon and Washington. This is expected to eventually result in great benefit to the company, in providing an outlet for surplus products and make the company less susceptible to local price changes.

The gasoline sales of the Richfield company have continued to mount for more than a year and in the second quarter of this year reached a peak of 34,964,000 gallons, as compared with 32,406,000 gallons in the second quarter of last year and 31,-600,000 gallons in the first three months of this year. First-quarter sales in 1926 were 27,855,000 gallons.

London Daily Radio

BY ARTHUR W. KIDDY

[Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

LONDON, July 27. (By Wireless) Activity in the market here today centered chiefly in Celanese shares and both the American and the Canadian issues advanced sharply.

Oil stocks after a depression, hardened slightly. Opinions differ considerably as to whether a big oil war is imminent.

Other markets were steady but stagnant because the European situation, and more especially the conditions in Austria and Rumania are causing some slight anxiety.

Considerable stringency developed in the money market, possibly as the result of the return here from New York of Montague Norman, governor of the Bank of England, who may have examined conditions microscopically. The market is disposed already to anticipate higher rates soon.

Stocks were quiet and investments held steady. Home and Argentine rails were in good demand.

FLAXSEED MARKET

DULUTH (Minn.) July 27. (Exclusive)—Flaxseed was very dull, with trading in narrow range. Crushers bought the small offerings at an unchanged basis. July flax rose 1 cent; November ½; September, October and December closing unchanged. Close: Flax on track 2.22¾@2.26½; to arrive, 2.21½; July, 2.25; September, 2.24½ bid; October, 2.25¾ bid; November, 2.27½, nominal; December, 2.28, nominal.

Minneapolis: Flaxseed offerings were small and demand was good. No. 1 spot was 2c under September to 4c over, and to arrive 2c under to September price. July flax closed 2.21 and September 2.23½.

MAIL ORDER WORKERS TO HOLD SHARE

Profit-Sharing Plan of Sears-Roebuck Extended to Local Branches

Under the terms of the "Employees' Savings and Profit Sharing Pension Fund," organized in 1916 by Sears, Roebuck & Co., all of the 1800 Los Angeles employees of the mail-order and department-store concern will be eligible to share in the company's profits at the close of one year's continuous service.

This was the announcement yesterday by C. R. Cook, general manager of Sears, Roebuck interests in this city. He explained that the plan of operation is for the employee to contribute 5 per cent of his salary to the fund and also for the company to contribute a percentage of its net profits to the same fund.

So far as the employees are concerned, the earnings of the fund vary according to the number of years of service rendered. The largest percentage of the earnings is received by employees who have served ten years or more. The maximum contribution to the fund permitted an employee is $300 annually. Should an employee leave the company after money has been paid in, he receives all his money and interest figured at 5 per cent yearly.

"Showing how profitable the fund or profit-sharing plans has been to employees of Sears, Roebuck & Co., in 1917 workers of long service received as high as 89 from the company's earnings for each dollar invested in the pension fund," Mr. Cook said. "The employees who contributed to the fund received in 1924 a little more than $6 for each dollar invested. The fund is considered strictly as a saving incentive and participation on the part of the employee is entirely voluntary."

New Warehouse Corporation to Operate at Port

Recognition by eastern interests of the rare economic set-up of the Pacific Southwest is shown in the plans of the Pacific and Atlantic Terminal Company for an intercoastal warehouse-to-warehouse shipping service between Los Angeles and New York City.

A. D. Boone, general manager of the Horstman Warehouse Company, operating three large commercial warehouses in New York and Brooklyn, made the announcement. Articles of incorporation, filed Monday, show that the new firm is to be a California corporation, capitalized at $1,000,000.

"The warehouse and distribution facilities now available at Los Angeles Harbor are nadequate even for present needs, and with the rapid development of Southern California the necessity for greater facilities of this kind is becoming more acute," Boone declared. "The project, is designed to develop a distribution service from Los Angeles Harbor and to thus aid in the development of the port as a whole."

TRADE OF COAST FIELD SURVEYED

Six Months' Summary Issued by Reserve Bank

General Business Activity in Period Shows Gain

Total Volume Said to Reach Record Proportions

General business activity in the Twelfth Federal Reserve District was at slightly higher levels during the first six months of this year than during the first half of 1926, according to the monthly review of conditions issued yesterday by Isaac B. Newton, chairman of the board and Federal Reserve agent of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco.

The total volume of trade during the first half of this year was in record proportions. Value of sales at retail was reported substantially higher. Sales at wholesale were slightly smaller in volume, but, if allowance is made for price declines over the year preceding, it is shown that the physical volume of goods moved through wholesale channels was greater than a year ago, the report added. Merchandise and miscellaneous carloadings on railroads of the district have been larger during the first half of 1927 than during that period of 1926.

Industry in the district has been less active thus far in 1927 than it was a year ago, the principal declines being in the lumber and food-products industries. As a corollary of declining activity, volume of employment generally has ranged lower and pay rolls have been smaller than in 1926. Further decreases in industrial production were reported during June, last.

The total amount of check payments, or bank debits, at the twenty principal clearinghouse centers of the district was $12,572,866,000 during the period January 1 to June 30, last, as compared with $18,085,566,000 during the same period of 1926. The Federal Reserve Bank's index of daily average debits, adjusted for seasonal variation, advanced from 118 in February to 128 in May and then declined to 123 in June. The index averaged 123 during the six months, as against 115 during the first half of 1926.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27. (AP)—Strength and activity in Paraffine was a feature of trading on the San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange today, touching 64½, closing at 64, advancing 1¼ points on sales of 5000 shares. Caterpillar Tractor declined to 28, down ½.

Bancitaly Corporation on a turnover of 4000 shares dropped ½ to 134¼.

Total sales: Bonds, $7000; stocks, 34,736 shares of $1,685,198 market value.

FONDEST HOPE SURPASSED

Earnings Reports of General Motors and Steel Far in Excess of Wall Street Expectations

[Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, July 27. (Exclusive)—America's two giants of industry, the Steel Corporation and General Motors, late yesterday afternoon reported net earnings for the first six months this year that jointly total 18.6 per cent more than a year ago. Wall street's fondest hopes for big 1927 profits now may be based squarely on the statements of the corporations, for those stocks long ago were picked to lead the others up in the great bull market.

In the first half of 1926 the two corporations raced neck to neck and closed the half year each with net earnings of about $93,000,000, but General Motors this year has left the Steel Corporation far behind. The latter did not quite equal its 1926 record, but General Motors, feeling the large share of industrial expansion, swelled its net in the first six months this year to the record high of $129,250,000. So substantial a rise over the 1926 level of $93,000 represents a growth nobody reckons as an index to the 1927 trend, for as the drop of a million dollars to $91,-635,000 in the Steel Corporation net earnings shows, not even the best companies can in all cases pass their 1926 peaks.

Even when the second quarter Steel earnings are separated in the half year statement they will be found slightly smaller than those for the corresponding period last year, but they nevertheless rose in the second quarter this year over the preceding quarter. The Steel Corporation's earnings during the second quarter this year came in almost exact amounts in each of the three months, which reflects a stability in the flow more significant than a total slightly higher than the year before for the quarter, but achieved without this even flow. Net earnings for the second quarter this year totaled $46,040,460, which was slightly under the $47,-814,105 in the same quarter last year, but moderately higher than the $45,-584,735 in the preceding 1927 quarter. Obviously the differences in both cases are too small to indicate anything but the extraordinary regularity of the continued flow at a high level.

If the $14.35 a share earned by General Motors in the first six months is half of its performance for the year, a goal of between $25 and $30 a share for the present stock is a prospect. Firm expectations that this great motor company will turn such a forecast into fact and the certainty that the shares eventually will be split into smaller units, explain the 80-point rise in the stock from its low of 1927 on top of its spectacular 1926 advance.

Much as the financial district is interested in what these companies earned in the first six months this year, it is even more interested in the general trend of 1927 profits. Large as these two giants figured in totals for the country, now in the process of compilation, they cannot be taken as a barometer. Already it is plain that the General Motors $36,-000,000 gain over the first six 1926 months will be needed as fat to offset dozens of statements for companies that have found the year lean.

Even when all of the statements for the first half of 1927 are in nobody can tell what the drift of profits may be for the remainder of the year, or whether in the aggregate they will rise somewhat above or fall somewhat below 1926. The thing that now is plain however, deserves thought. It is that in any case the big and strong companies are going ahead at the expense of the weak. What those of broad vision must determine is whether or not there is after all any threat to the country's general prosperity in this obvious trend of the times.

Profits of Motors and Steel Spur to Activity

Industrial Leaders Soar to New High Levels

Heavy Selling Puts Curb on Further Advances

NEW YORK, July 27. (AP)—Heavy profit-taking sales checked a promising rally in today's stock market during which the prices of leading industrials moved to record high levels. Buying was influenced largely by the unusually favorable half-yearly reports of the country's two leading industrial corporations—General Motors and United States Steel—and by the continued ease of credit conditions. Final quotations disclosed a rather long list of net gains ranging from 1 to 9 points interspersed with a smaller number of losses running from 1 to 4 1-3 points.

Recent strength of United States Steel common, which crossed 129 today for the first time since the distribution of the 40 per cent stock dividend, was explained by the announcement that Du Pont interests had acquired 114,000 shares for approximately $14,000,000, or slightly less than $123 a share. Du Pont common attained a new record high price at 271 3-4 and then settled back to 269 1-4, up 1-4 net.

REVIEWS BEARISH

Although weekly steel trade reviews reported that recent changes in the industry have been on the side of betterment, the Iron Age composite pig-iron price sank to the lowest level since March, 1922. Gulf States Steel reported semiannual earnings of $2.41 a share, as against $2.77 in the first half of last year, but Inland Steel earnings were larger. Bethlehem moved up to within a fraction of the year's high at 55 1-2 in anticipation of a good quarterly report tomorrow.

Motor stocks again led in point of group activity, despite renewed talk of price cuts. General Motors attained a new peak at 227 1-4 and then lost all the day's gain. Nash was bid up 4 1-2 points to a new top at 75 and then eased to 74 on realizing. Chrysler also fell back a point after touching a new high at 55 3-8. Yellow Truck advanced to within a fraction of the peak and Mack Trucks made further recovery, but Pierce-Arrow preferred broke nearly 4 points to a new low at 49 and heaviness cropped out in Studebaker and Jordan.

SPECIALTIES UP

Another flock of new high records was recorded among the specialties, the list including American Radiator, American Tobacco, American Writing Paper certificates, Electric Auto Lite, General Electric, R. H. Macy & Co., Otis Elevator, Phillips Jones preferred, Radio Corporation, Simmons Company, United Fruit and Utah Copper.

Heaviness was most pronounced in ... issues as United States Cast

"Pacific Investing Corporation"

Adhering to the Principle of Broad Diversification

Broad diversification of securities is the very cornerstone of Investment Trust operations. One of the basic features that has assured the success of the British trusts for over fifty years has been the distribution of risk over many industries, territories, and types of issues.

This fact was clearly demonstrated during the War period when, despite the unsettled conditions in business and industry, there was no serious interruption in Investment Trust earnings. An analysis of 48 representative British trusts shows that the average dividends on common stock was over 7% in the years 1912 to 1914; 6½% during the entire War period; and 8% in the years since the War.

PACIFIC INVESTING CORPORATION adheres strictly to the principle of broad diversification which has contributed so definitely to the success and stability of British investment trusts. It is written into the charter of the Corporation that under no circumstances shall it ever place more than 5% of its funds in the securities of any one corporation. Holdings are selected on the basis of careful research and analysis, from the best that America has to offer, and are diversified widely, as to industry, geographical location, and type of security. Through the purchase of a single share of its stock, the investor will have achieved a diversification otherwise possible only to large institutions or very wealthy individuals.

PACIFIC INVESTING CORPORATION 6% First Preferred Stock, priced at par and accrued dividend, affords an attractive opportunity to participate in the manifold advantages of investment trust operations. One share of common is issued with each two shares of First Preferred, thus combining a dependable fixed income with a share in profits through common stock dividends and appreciation.

Two interesting booklets descriptive of investment trust operations will be mailed you gladly, for the asking. Call, phone MUtual 7171, or write for your copy.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, July 27. (AP)—Easing money rates and a ready reception of new offerings helped materially in maintaining a firm undertone in the bonds market today. Trading in listed bonds was in the largest volume in several days, and a large acceleration of the over-the-counter movement was reported.

The offering syndicates reported that the new issues of $30,000,000 German United States Steel Works 6 1-2s and the $4,500,000 Danzig Port 6 1-2s were taken immediately after the books were opened. This indicated considerably less tension in the market for new issues, which had been badly clogged since late in the spring. A new offering of $20,000,000 Pure Oil Company ten-year 5 1-2 per cent notes is scheduled for tomorrow.

New York Traction bonds displayed considerable strength, reflecting successful efforts to avert the impending strike of subway and elevated workers. Interborough issues and Third-avenue adjustment 5s all covered gains of a point or more. Brooklyn Union Gas 5 1-4s were in rather heavy demand and sold up more than 2 points to a new high of 103.

Erie refunding 5s were the most active of railway liens, but late in the day relinquished all of their fractional advance. "Frisco" income 6s were accumulated freely and New Haven convertible 3 1-2s displayed strength.

Industrial mortgages were generally quiet with Wickwire Spencer convertible 7s dropping 4 points to 30, a new minimum.

There was some irregularity in the foreign group, the most interest being manifested in French and a few Latin-American issues.

Liberty 3 3-4s changed hands to the extent of about $300,000 and Treasury 3 3-4s and 4s were moderately active. Prices held fairly steady.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission, stock is omitted when same is low and both bid and close when same is high.

INSURED AGAINST HUMAN ERROR

LEAD pencils are made, as ever, with eraser tips. Human error may creep into anyone's calculations.

Yet investors who have purchased Insured First Mortgage Certificates do not worry over possibility of loss through someone's error. They know that the policy of mortgage insurance, assuring full payment of principal and interest on the first mortgages securing their investments, stands as a guarantee against loss.

Write or call for our booklet telling how your income may be made proof against human and other errors.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 27. (AP)—Activity in the curb market today was on a rather broad scale, and while there was considerable profit-taking in stocks which have recently been buoyant, several new leaders were successfully brought forward and the list as a whole was characterized by strength. Buying was largely in reflection of bullish enthusiasm on the "big board," created by softening money conditions and large earnings in leading industries.

American Rayon products again assumed leadership, selling up nearly 2 points to 18 1-4, a new peak, on top of yesterday's sharp gain. Some of the chain stores continued strong, but realizing depressed others a point or so. W. T. Grant touched a new top at 85, up 3 points.

Aluminum Company of America recovered 2 points of its recent decline and Celluloid common and preferred moved into new high ground. Among the numerous other specialty shares which advanced 2 to 5 points to new peaks were Commercial Solvents (new,) Childs, preferred, Royal Baking Powder, and Sanitary Grocery.

Tire shares reflected largely increased earnings by some companies, Goodyear scoring a net gain of 1 1-4, while Seiberling Rubber advanced a large fraction to a new high. Motor shares responded to leadership of General Motors on the stock exchange, strong spots including Rolls Royce preferred, Stutz, Durant and Marmon. Auburn Auto, however, was heavy.

Acute weakness cropped out in a few issues. Apco Mossberg "A" sustained a 50 per cent loss when it broke 6 1-2 points, and new lows for the year or longer were touched by Merganthaler Linotype, Hall Printing (new,) and Sullivan Match.

The sterling green is omitted when same as the day, and both buy and close when same as the high.

The Public Utility of the Industrial World

THE laundry business has sometimes been called the "public utility of the industrial world." It does a cash business, with negligible inventories, and is particularly free from wide fluctuation. The past few years have seen an amazing expansion and growth in laundry operations.

HOME SERVICE COMPANY is reported to be the largest company of its kind in Los Angeles, and the second largest laundry business in the entire United States. Total net assets approximate $2700 for each $1000 bond outstanding, while net earnings, after depreciation, are over 4.4 times annual interest requirements.

The following information is contained in a letter from Carl Rabes, Esq., Managing Director of the Company:

THE COMPANY

United Steel Works Corporation, organized under the laws of Germany in January, 1926, acquired, as of April 1, 1926, the principal fixed assets (except certain coal properties), the good-will and business of four leading coal, iron and steel concerns in Germany, viz., Rheinelbe Union Thyssen, Phoenix and Rheinstahl. Among manufacturers of iron and steel the company ranks in productive capacity second only to United States Steel Corporation. Its coal properties are among the largest in the world with respect to present productive capacity and reserves. At the present time the company is producing more than 40 per cent of the entire German steel output and employing about 198,000 persons.

MORTGAGE DEBT

The company's principal fixed assets were appraised in June, 1926, by Mr. H. A. Brassert, American consulting engineer, on the basis of replacement costs in Germany, after allowance for depreciation and obsolescence at more than $500,000,000 (including real estate and coal reserves). Such properties are subject (in addition to capital charges, under the Dawes plan estimated at $29,799,000 on the basis of present assessments against predecessor companies) to mortgages securing approximately $97,986,000 of indebtedness, consisting of $69,999,000 of the company's mortgage bonds, issued or immediately to be issued pursuant to an indenture dated June 1, 1926. And about $27,987,000 of underlying indebtedness. Against such properties additional mortgage bonds may be issued without restrictions, but in that case only to such an amount that the total of such bonds and underlying indebtedness at any time outstanding shall not exceed $105,000,000.

Additional mortgage bonds may also be issued up to 2-3 of cost of fair value, whichever is less, of additional fixed assets to be mortgaged, but only if average annual net earnings, after depreciation, depletion and all other charges except payments under the Dawes plan, interest and profits taxes, as certified by public accountants, for the two fiscal years immediately preceding such issue, shall have amounted to at least three times the sum of then existing annual payments under the Dawes plan and annual interest charges on the mortgage bonds outstanding and then about to be issued and on all other debt of the company ranking equally therewith or prior thereto.

SALES AND EARNINGS

Sales of United Steel Works Corporation for the twelve months ended March 31, 1927, as shown by the company's books, amounted to more than $290,000,000, of which $108,795,700 constituted export sales, not including approximately $5,504,000 of deliveries on reparation account, for which payment was received in German currency. The company's export sales of the principal iron and steel products, measured in tons, amounted to over 40% of the total of such export sales of Germany during that period.

Net earnings for the twelve months ended March 31, 1927, as shown by the company's books, after depreciation and estimated maximum annual payments under the Dawes plan ($1,788,000 based on present assessments) but before interest and profits taxes, amounted to more than $30,600,000, or approximately 2¾ times the annual interest charges on the Series A debentures and all obligations ranking equally therewith or senior thereto presently to be outstanding. The dividend paid by the company on its capital stock with respect to the first six months of its operations (fiscal period ended September 30, 1926) was 3%, or at the rate of 6% per annum. The stock is currently quoted on the Berlin Stock Exchange at approximately 136% of par.

SINKING FUND

The company agrees to provide an annual sinking fund of $800,000 to and including July 1, 1937, and $1,200,000 thereafter to maturity, payable semi-annually (first payment January 1, 1928) to be applied to the purchase of Series A debentures at not exceeding the principal amount thereof and accrued interest, and, to the extent that Series A debentures are not so obtainable, to revert periodically to the company.

The Series A debentures are listed on the Boston Stock Exchange and the company has agreed to make application in due course to list them on the New York Stock Exchange

All Conversions of German into United States Currency Have Been Made at Par of Exchange (One Reichsmark Equals 23.8 Cents)

A substantial amount of Series A debentures has been withdrawn for sale, in Holland, by a group under the joint leadership of Mendelssohn & Co., Amsterdam and Nederlandsche Handel Maatschappij; in Sweden by a group under the joint leadership of Skandinaviska Kreditaktiebolaget and Stockholms Enskilda Bank; in Switzerland by Credit Suisse; and in other European countries.

Wheat Futures Off as Buying Pace Slackens

CHICAGO, July 27. (Exclusive)—Disappointment came to those who expected that wheat values were to continue the upward course so pronounced on Tuesday. All energy on the buying side apparently exhausted itself at the start, or soon afterward, when values reached their high point. There was not enough buying from the outside to keep values advancing and the close was around the bottom, with losses of 1@1¼c, July leading. Corn exhibited strength and while not maintaining the bulge, finished with gains of 1⅛c on July and ¼@⅜c on deferred futures. Oats closed ⅛c lower on July, but ¼@⅝c higher on September. The rye market, while strong early, closed 1c higher on July and ⅝c lower on the deferred futures.

Black-rust reports from the Southwest and Canada were as numerous as on Tuesday, some claiming serious damage to the crop. There was no buying support accompanying the unfavorable crop news. In Europe there has been too much rain in Prussia, Germany and Poland, with harvest on, and crop damage, especially in loss to quality, is feared. Predictions late in the day for cooler and clearer weather in the Northwest, following the high temperatures which were favorable to the spread of rust, brought in selling orders in wheat which, combined with the steady pressure of cash wheat, with July longs liquidating and cash bidders hedging, carried prices down around 2c, with the close on July 1.40¾@1.40⅝. September 1.39@1.39⅛ and December 1.42⅝. Liverpool cables were strong and sharply higher early and helped make the highest prices here. Available supplies are increasing at a moderate rate, while Europe's indifference as a buyer of cash wheat tends to create a feeling of caution, among those who believe that wheat is selling at a fair level and should be bought on breaks.

Corn prices averaged higher, with an advance of more than 1c on July and nearly 1c on the deferred futures, but last part of the gain, especially on December, owing to realizing sales. The Iowa weather report, which came in around noon, was distinctly bullish, saying that the late and poorly established corn, about one-third of the State's acreage, is struggling for growth, and much of it cannot make fodder only under favorable conditions. While a good rain covered most of the State during the week, they were light in some of the border counties. The average rainfall for July is now half of normal, while cool nights during the week brought the average temperature down nearly to normal. Despite the good buying by commission houses early, some of them were sellers later, especially for July, around 1.04. The close of that delivery was 1.03¾@1.03⅝, September 1.06⅝@1.06⅜, December 1.08⅝@1.08⅜, the latter finishing ⅛c lower for the day.

July oats were under moderate pressure and finished at 44c, the lowest of the day, while September closed at 44⅝@44⅝c and December 47c. Threshing returns indicate smaller yields than anticipated and more disposition to buy the deferred futures.

July rye was hard to buy and shorts bid prices up 1⅝c at the last. Distant futures were under pressure and closed around the bottom.

With a little pressure credited to packing interests, combined with only fair buying support, lard prices receded and closed 2½@7½c lower, while short ribs lost 5@15c and bellies 12½@35c.

CALIFORNIA CORPORATION

The Sparkletts Artesian Water Company is a California Corporation incorporated November, 1925, with an authorized capitalization of $500,000, and is considered one of the most progressive companies engaged in the bottling and distributing of bottled drinking water on the Pacific Coast.

The Company is now selling and distributing its naturally pure artesian drinking water under the registered trade name of SPARKLETTS in 5-gallon bottles, to approximately 25,000 homes and offices.

EARNINGS

Attention is drawn to the fact that dividends and earnings on this Preferred Class B Stock are not limited to 8%, all Preferred Shares having the SAME EARNING POWER as the Common Shares IN ADDITION TO THE 8% cumulative Dividends.

SPARKLETTS SUPPLY

The famous Sparkletts Artesian supply is free flowing and has a capacity of over 40,000 bottles a day, or more than one million bottles per month, with no necessity for storage tanks, reservoirs or pumps. Since this supply is located on the Company's property at 4516-18-20 York Boulevard, THERE IS NO MANUFACTURING COST, FOR SPARKLETTS IS A NATURAL PRODUCT.

SPARKLETTS DEMAND

The demand for Sparkletts Bottled Water is enormous and is constantly growing, from one thousand to three thousand new customers being added every month. Delivery is being made to thousands of homes and offices each day.

DIVIDENDS

SPARKLETTS HAS NEVER PAID LESS THAN 12% PER ANNUM ON PREFFERED SHARES. The Sparkletts Artesian Water Company has always been a consistent dividend payer and is on a current dividend paying basis now. Dividends have been paid every 90 days since the Company was three months old. The 8% Cumulative Preferred Shareholders have never enjoyed less than 12% per annum, paid quarterly. On June 30 dividends equalling 12% per annum were declared, payable to all Preferred shareholders of record as of June 30th, 1927.

SHAREHOLDERS

At the present time practically every Shareholder of the Sparkletts Artesian Water Company is a Sparkletts employee or a Sparkletts user.

CLASS B PREFERRED STOCK
VERY UNUSUAL

This offering of Class B Preferred Stock has full voting power, rights and privileges. It draws 8% cumulative dividends and in addition thereto an amount equal to whatever dividends are earned by the Common Stock until such time as the Class B Preferred Stock has received a return of 50% more than par, or a total of $150 per share, after which time this Preferred Stock automatically becomes Common Stock and thereafter enjoys the same earning power as the Common Stock.

MANAGEMENT

The management of the business is in the same capable hands that originated the Sparkletts Company. They have proven beyond any question, their ability to operate in an intelligent and successful manner.

ADDITIONAL CAPITAL FOR EXPANSION.

The proceeds from this issue will be used for the general expansion of the business, paying for additional property recently acquired, and other corporate purposes, and should enable the Company to furnish Sparkletts Water Cooler Equipment to a sufficient number of additional customers to increase the Sparkletts sales, at least, 100,000 bottles per month.

These Shares are offered at par ($100 per share) subject to prior sale when, as, and if issued, and the right is reserved to refuse any or all subscriptions in whole or in part.

MRS. KENNEDY REQUESTED TO RETURN TO HUSBAND

New Proposal Reveals Evangelist's Mother Never Divorced Wealthy Steamship Engineer

The collapse of the "peace pact" which Aimee Semple Mc- had previously announced as effected between herself her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, over control of An- Temple, yesterday was followed by the sensational sug- made by Mrs. McPherson's temple committee to Mrs. that the latter give up her connections with the tem- and return to her wealthy husband, W. Whittebeck, in New City.

suggestion, which was the item in a list to be offered Kennedy as "optional courses" for her future, was made public last night by Mrs. McPherson after a day of bitter strife between mother and daughter in the feud which continues to rock trouble-torn Angelus Temple.

That Mrs. Kennedy, however, will turn a cold shoulder to the above or any other suggestion made by Mrs. McPherson's was indicated by Mrs. who has been ousted as manager of the church.

daughter gets ready to and talk these things thought will be given to the so-called committee, has had, nor will ever hold position of authority in is not going to dictate Mrs. Kennedy asserted considerable feeling.

NEVER DIVORCED

suggestion that she to her husband, from Mrs. Kennedy admits she has been divorced, will not be mentioned under any circumstances, she said. Whittebeck, the statement Mrs. McPherson made public said, is a fully steamship engineer in the East operating a boat on the Hudson River.

Although several stories have appeared from time to time that Kennedy had been married to her first husband died, yesterday's statement released by her was the first time a denial had been made regarding it.

feud between Mrs. McPherson her mother nearly reached the point of a week of reports and counter-reports to the effect that a truce in the situation was near, but yesterday the dispute was due to the often-told story Mrs. McPherson's asserted kidnap-crisis in this matter is near," Kennedy said, "but could have been averted by Mrs. McPherson this morning when I attempted to hold a conference with her."

Kennedy then declared that he called her daughter on the phone only to have her hang the receiver up before she could say a word, she stated.

On the other hand, Mrs. Mc- has had a different version of the attempted telephone conversation. "Mother used language that I couldn't bear others to use if they were listening in on the party line," Mrs. McPherson said. "I tried to tell her that there could be reinstatement for us if we would agree to her daughter was dismissed by others. I hung up, waited for five minutes until she had cooled off, and then called again."

STATEMENT DRAFTED

Kennedy denied her daughter had called the second time.

"The statement is untrue," she said. "I did not use any but proper language at my command,

END COMES TO PIONEER LANDOWNER

F. E. Monteverde Holder of Extensive Properties in Parts of Mexico

F. E. Monteverde, 58 years of age, holder of extensive mining and land properties in Mexico, and resident of this city for the last forty years, died early yesterday morning at the Terry Sanitarium of a cerebral hemorrhage following a three-day illness.

F. E. MONTEVERDE

A native of San Francisco, Mr. Monteverde moved to Los Angeles in 1887. He had made his home at 1045 Westchester Place for a number of years. Sunday afternoon he became violently ill at his home and was removed to the sanitarium, where his condition became noticeably worse.

He leaves a widow, and five sons, Florencito, Rafael, Rene and Raoul of this city, and Ernesto of San Rafael, Cal. The body was removed to the Garrett Brothers mortuary pending completion of funeral arrangements.

CHICAGOAN AND FAMILY VISIT HERE

Marshall Field Head and Party Pause in City While on Sojourn in California

James Simpson, president of Marshall Field & Co. of Chicago, arrived in Los Angeles with his family yesterday, for a visit following a vacation spent in the High Sierras.

With Mr. Simpson were his wife, his three sons, James, Jr.; Jack and Bill, Gouverneur Morris Phelps and Phil B. Hosmer, friends of the boys, and Howard Durham, an official of the company.

They have spent their time fishing in the Sierras for nearly a month. Mr. Simpson, who is regarded as one of the leading business authorities in the country, was enthusiastic over the condition of business throughout the country. They will leave for the East tomorrow.

INVITATION ACCEPTED

The City Council yesterday accepted the invitation of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to be present tomorrow afternoon at the breaking of ground for the new B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company plant at Atlantic and Mines avenues.

NEW MEASURES WIDE IN RANGE

Laws Effective Tomorrow to Bring Many Changes

Gas Levy to Advance Cost of Fuel to Motorists

Variety of Subjects Covered by Other Enactments

The acts of the Legislature, in its recent session, become effective tomorrow. That is, those acts which did not carry the emergency clause and those which were signed by the Governor and are not held up on referendum.

One law, which touches practically every person in California, is the increase of the gasoline tax from two cents to three cents per gallon. All but four States charge a gas tax, and California's three cents is about the average throughout the nation.

Tomorrow is the "Jonah day" for still operators. Conviction thenceforth will carry a five-year sentence. Changes in the Motor Vehicle Act permit forty miles per hour on open State highways and make more stringent the regulations in respect to operator's licenses.

The Tuller Crime Commission bills, which everyone believes will give the average citizen a fighting chance against the crooks, will begin to worry the bail bond brokers, the criminal attorneys and the underworld.

NEW MARRIAGE RULES

Three days must henceforth elapse between the application for a marriage license and its issuance under the Rochester bill, thus giving couples inclined to wed on a dare an opportunity to think it over.

Los Angeles county will have ten more Superior judges and the township two additional Municipal judges. Of lesser interest to the public is the fact that the Legislature created a raft of jobs to be filled by appointment of Gov. Young. He already has announced the lucky ones for the more important positions.

Probably the most useless action of the Legislature was the creation of the Board of Barber Examiners and the Board of Cosmetology. It means the addition of "inspectors" and "commissioners" to keep the barbers and beauty operators toeing the mark.

HIGHWAY DIVISION

The new laws divide the State as to highways, the extra cent in the gas tax to be expended upon new construction. Southern California hereafter will receive nearly half the money, whereas she formerly had to be content with a third.

It remains to be seen if the reapportionment measure will go into effect, as a referendum has been circulated against it. If the petitions have the required 57,000 signatures the matter again will be submitted to a vote in November, 1928. If the referendum fails, then Los Angeles county next session will be represented by one Senator and twenty-two Assemblymen, in place of eight Senators and fifteen Assemblymen. The Wagy bill, laying a weight tax upon trucks, also was the object of a referendum.

Amendments to the improvements acts will become effective, putting a damper on the activities of the delinquent assessment shark. An Olympiad Commission, to co-operate in the plans for the 1932 Olympic Games in Los Angeles, will be created. Many minor amendments to the various State laws, a part of the grand total of 898 measures will be effective after tomorrow.

GASOLINE PRICE DUE FOR ADVANCE

The price of gasoline in California probably will be increased a cent a gallon, effective tomorrow, to meet the boosting of the State gas tax from 2 to 3 cents a gallon, which law goes into effect on that day.

Richfield, Shell and Pan-American oil company officials, conferring here yesterday with other oil company officials on the question of the companies absorbing the 1-cent-a-gallon tax boost, or passing it on to the public, announced afterwards that the price of their gas in the territories they cover, definitely will be raised 1 cent a gallon on Friday.

Indications were given that competing oil companies probably will follow suit.

REAL PRINCE COMES HERE TO LECTURE

William of Sweden Will Make Los Angeles on Tour of Nation Next Fall

Prince William of Sweden will be a visitor to Los Angeles next fall, not in an official manner as a royal prince but in his capacity of poet and lecturer. He will make several public appearances here in November. Louis J. Alber of Cleveland, his manager, who is now at the Biltmore, is here to make arrangements for the Prince's tour.

PRINCE WILLIAM OF SWEDEN

"This will be Prince William's fourth visit to the United States," said Mr. Alber. "His first was twenty years ago when he was the Swedish representative at the Jamestown Exposition. He has since then made two lecture tours in this country, but has never been in the Far West. This trip is for the special purpose of seeing California. He will arrive at New York on October 3, and sail on December 10 for home."

Prince William is 42 years of age, and has won fame in Europe as a poet, dramatist and newspaper man. He always pays his own way on his foreign tours, said Mr. Alber, making a good income from his lectures and writings. The Prince is the second son of King Gustav of Sweden. His brother, Crown Prince Gustav Adolph, was a visitor to this country last year.

The City Council has ordered the widening of Laurel Canyon Road from Sunset Boulevard to Hollywood Boulevard, the street to be sixty-five feet in width.

FORD PLANE ARRIVES HERE

Large All-Metal Transport Purchased by Local Man Wings Way, With Passengers, From Detroit

Ushered into Los Angeles by nearly a dozen Army, Navy and civilian airplanes, the huge all-metal Ford air transport, with eight passengers aboard, landed at Rogers Field at 3:30 p.m. yesterday and was greeted by a throng of several hundred spectators. The giants plant circled the landing field several times before attempting to make a landing and police, aided by attaches of the airport, strove in vain to keep the crowd back until the monster came to a standstill.

The party on board consisted of William B. Mayo, chief engineer of the Ford Motor Company; Edward A. Hamilton, superintendent of the Ford airport of Dearborn; J. Parker Van Zandt, Detroit capitalist and aviation enthusiast; Lawrence G. Fritz, pilot; Jack W. Wiles, engineer; Lamar Nelson, Salt Lake City newspaper man; W. J. Fleming, former member of the British Royal Air Force, and Harry Macpherson, Los Angeles publicity man, representing Jack Maddux, to whom the plane was delivered.

GREETED BY LEADERS

The party was greeted on behalf of Los Angeles by D. F. McGarry, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and A. G. Arnoll, secretary and general manager, together with a large number of Los Angeles business men and others interested in aviation.

The plane arrived at Las Vegas, Nev., at 7:30 a.m., where the fuel supply was replenished, after which the air cruiser again took off for Riverside, where the fleet of escort planes was waiting to convoy it to the Los Angeles landing field.

The plane left the Dearborn airport late Friday evening for Chicago, where the party spent the night. Next morning they had breakfast in Chicago, lunch in St. Louis and dinner at 6 p.m., in Kansas City. From Kansas City they flew to Omaha, where they met the Standard Oil of India, sister ship to their own, which was making a flight from Chicago to Denver with a party of Standard Oil officials on board. The two planes flew side by side to Denver, whence the distance to Salt Lake City was covered in five

Sun Will Play Encore Today and Tomorrow

Southern California can prepare for another couple of coatless days because the mercury is destined to hover above the 80's today and tomorrow, according to the official weather prediction from the United States Weather Bureau.

It was 7 deg. hotter yesterday than it was a year ago, Old Sol turning in a mark of 87 deg. But, according to the weather man, this is really cool weather because the thermometer has been known to record 109 deg. during July in past years. Yesterday's lowest temperature was 64 deg.

JULIAN RELIEF PLAN STUDIED

California-Eastern Group Discusses Lewis Scheme

More Details of Stock Crash Learned From Testimony

Grand Jury Investigation Closed for Present

As further amazing details of the Julian Petroleum Corporation's wrecking came tumbling from the official transcript of testimony before the grand jury, directors of the California-Eastern Oil Company yesterday continued their study of plans for an entirely new financial program to put the corporation back on its feet.

A special committee of three California-Eastern directors, selected to make a thorough study of the reconstruction program as outlined by S. C. Lewis, resigned and indicted president of the Julian corporation, met twice yesterday to consider the details of the plan. They met at noon for a discussion of the feasibility of the proposed plan among themselves and in the afternoon are understood to have conferred with the two Julian receivers, Joseph Scott and H. L. Carnahan.

FINAL REPORT MONDAY

Just what transpired at these conferences was not disclosed, aside from an announcement that the matter is receiving the most serious attention and consideration. The special committee, however, is scheduled to make its final report on the reorganization program to the full board of the California-Eastern next Monday.

In the meantime Chief Dep. Dist.-Atty. Davis announced that the grand jury for the present is not contemplating a renewal of its investigation into the Julian matter. The investigation may be reopened later, he indicated, but added that as far as he knows the case is virtually closed.

At the same time, City Prosecutor Lickley announced the reissuance of fourteen usury complaints against as many participants in Julian pools in order to keep the cases against them from being outlawed. The action is merely technical, inasmuch as no new defendants are named. Reissuance of the complaints, Dr. Lickley said, is made necessary by the requirements of the law in misdemeanor cases where prosecution is not started within a certain period after filing of the complaint.

RAMISH KNEW OF OVERISSUE

Further perusal of the grand jury transcript brought to light that during his testimony Lewis in effect charged Adolph Ramish, millionaire financier and theater magnate, with having disposed of large blocks of Julian stock, knowing that the securities held by him probably made up a portion of the overissue which eventually wrecked the corporation.

"Now I call to your attention the transaction with Mr. Adolph Ramish in connection with Pool No. 1. Do you know of any specific stock that was sold by Ramish from that pool?"

This question, put by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Shelley, brought the following response from Lewis:

"Ramish had $150,000 in the pool. Sometime in March he had been paid, either by Bennett or myself, but—what he considered his profits, which, on $150,000, had run over 100. I will figure that out, the exact amount a little later."

Question: You mean over $100,000?

Answer: Yes. It was decided that the officials of the bank would leave —and Lewis Mayer (Louis B. Mayer) would leave their stock with MacKay to work out with me, and that

APPLAUSE FOR LONGWORTH

Tribute to Government and Comment on Western Legislation Draw Resounding Approval

In an address that was interrupted by tumultuous applause, Speaker Nicholas Longworth of the House of Representatives, paid a stirring tribute to democratic form of government and discussed legislation affecting the West at a luncheon tendered him by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce at the Biltmore yesterday noon.

Mr. Longworth discussed Congressional legislation affecting the West and a burst of applause greeted his remark that was interpreted to mean that as far as he was concerned he would, as speaker of the House, give Colorado River legislation every opportunity for speedy consideration in the House at the next session.

PLEA ON GOVERNMENT

Equally impressive was the hearty reception accorded the speaker's appeal for a continuation of the democratic form of government in the United States and his declaration in favor of an adequate Army and Navy.

Mr. Longworth was introduced by ex-Congressman John D. Fredericks, who had been presented by D. F. McGarry, president of the Chamber of Commerce and toastmaster at the luncheon.

The West, Longworth reminded his audience, is not new to him but he said the remarkable progress made along the coast since his last visit in 1915 is truly astounding. He felt that it was a prime duty of one in his position to know not only the particular section which he represents, but also the entire country.

In matters of legislation he pointed out what he considers the difference between projects that are deserving of national attention and those that are purely local in character. In the former category he placed legislation for flood control of the Mississippi and such great projects where great areas of land in the West are to be brought under cultivation by many small farmers through irrigation.

Without naming the Boulder Dam project, Mr. Longworth said:

"When I see not far from here a project that combines not only flood control but the bringing in of a reasonable amount of water, and when I see on top of this a great future necessity to give a permanent water

The Lancer

by Harry A. Carr

LIFE seems to be a dreary waste for the delectable Mrs. Stillman and for Queen Marie.

The one lady completely usurps the center of the stage from the bride; and the other can't wait until her husband is buried until she sends for the reporters and reminds them that, despite the fact that she is now no longer a queen, she is still a very important person.

WORM TURNS

Even the worm turns at last. Theater ticket buyers will stand a lot of squeezing, but even they are shocked by the revelations that have come out of the government investigation of ticket speculators in New York.

It appears that it is a case of dog eat dog.

THE SPECULATORS

The producer begins by sticking up the price of tickets as high as he dares. He preys in turn upon the speculator, who preys upon the public.

The speculator has to pay up to $5000 a year to the theater for a "concession" to buy tickets. They can't get the tickets, even then, without coming through with graft for the box-office clerks. Sometimes these clerks get from $12,000 to $15,000 in bribes from the speculators.

ANOTHER CUT-IN

After the tickets are in the hands of the speculator, he usually brokers out his supply to smaller speculators—at an advance.

Nine times out of ten, the tickets are bought—not directly from the speculator, but from a hotel or club. Another boost to the price.

A MEAN GRAFT

The meanest graft of all is the 10 per cent tax. The government charges 10 per cent of the face value of the tickets; but the speculator—relying on the sapheadedness of the public—assesses the ticket buyer for a tax of 10 per cent of the final graft price—and pockets the difference.

WHAT WONDER!

And the New York theater owners wonder why people are no longer patronizing the theaters as formerly!

Orra Monnette Again Head of Library Board

Orra E. Monnette was re-elected president of the board of library commissioners at a meeting of the board yesterday. Mr. Monnette has been a member of the board for four-teen years and now is elected for the twelfth time as its president. He announced that the present program of building additional branch library buildings will be pressed forward.

ORRA E. MONNETTE.

The new Central Library Building will receive during the next six months the installation of the interior sculpture work being done by Lee Lawrie of New York, and the recent award of contracts to Dean Cornwall and Albert Herter for the decoration of the rotunda and corridors of the building will be completed.

In addition, Mr. Monnette indicates that a fine new branch library, in a close-in section, will be commenced soon.

The other officer of the board is Very Reverend Francis J. Conaty, vice-president.

ing under public criticism for refusing to confirm the Mayor's re- of Frank Meline as member of the Board of Harbor Commis- without giving any reasons for the action the City Council yesterday to investigate itself and its action in the Meline matter.

The motion for the investigation was made by Councilman Colden, chairman of the Council's Harbor Committee, who has been especially the target for public criticism, and who has denied that he engineered the Council's action because of an old grudge he held against Meline when he and Colden were members of the Harbor Commission.

The investigation will be conducted by the entire Council, sitting as a committee of the whole.

President Bonelli said that he hopes to call the first meeting of the committee of the whole for some afternoon next week, as soon as he can ascertain that Commissioner Meline, ex-Councilman Barnes and other figures in the case will be able to be present.

The investigation was precipitated by the filing with the Council of a protest against the rejection of the Meline appointment from the Greater San Pedro Taxpayers' Association. The association directly charged Councilman Colden with blocking the confirmation of the Meline appointment "in retaliation for personal politics, at the expense of the people." The association asked for an investigation of the entire Meline confirmation matter, declaring that a great wrong had been inflicted on the people of Los Angeles "by Charles J. Colden to serve his own selfish ends."

Councilman Colden, in demanding an investigation, covertly attacked the members of the association, so

SUSPECT HELD AFTER FLIGHT

Charles Mallaby Named in Extortion Case

Grand Jury Indicts Three in Bondsmen Drive

New Attack Laid to Man in Escape Inquiry

A breath-taking dash for liberty, in which he hurled himself from the ninth floor of one downtown building to the roof of an adjoining structure a floor and a half below, late yesterday failed to save Charles Mallaby, bail bond broker, from arrest on suspicion of extortion.

The suspect, charged with extortion as a result of his asserted activities toward fixing a liquor case before Municipal Judge Sheldon, plunged from the ninth floor of the Washington Building when operatives of the District Attorney's office came upon him at the offices of Attorney Le Roy Reams.

THREE INDICTED

A story and a half below he landed, without the slightest injury, on the roof of an adjoining building, but the officers trapped him before he could escape.

As Mallaby was making his spectacular bid for freedom the grand jury wound up its day's investigation into the activities of bondsmen and their "cappers" by issuing three indictments in connection with the escape of Paul Knapp who fled from deputy sheriffs last week after his release, presumably to visit his sick mother, had been aided by bail bond brokers.

The three indictments named Mrs. L. W. Murray, Knapp's mother, Josephine Knapp, his wife, and J. Frank Bisbee, a bail bondsman.

The action of the grand jury in indicting the three persons was followed quickly by the announcement that the Board of Supervisors had offered $1000 reward for information leading to the arrest of Knapp and his wife and a report that the escaped prisoner had been responsible for another brutal attack on a woman.

As a result, search for Knapp was being pressed last night with redoubled vigor by the authorities.

The victim of the latest attack by Knapp, in the belief of police, is Mrs. L. J. Tuttle of 482 West One Hundred and Fourteenth street, office manager for a roofing-tile contractor at 3639 Council street. She was alone in the office yesterday, she told detectives, when a man closely answering Knapp's description, entered the place, covered her with a gun and ordered her to turn over all the money in the place. She had only 25 cents and after taking this, the bandit attacked her, she said. It was for a long list of similar crimes that Knapp was indicted and awaiting trial at the time of his escape through a trap door in his mother's home.

COMPLAINT DUE

Mallaby, his dramatic break for freedom unsuccessful, was taken before Dep. Dist.-Atty. Thomas and questioned at length. A complaint charging him with extortion and stating his bail at $30,000 will be issued today, the deputy prosecutor stated.

It is charged that Mallaby accepted $825 from Henry Abbott, a convicted bootlegger, to fix his case before Municipal Judge Sheldon. Abbott, after being given a maximum sentence, revealed the asserted transaction.

According to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Murray, new and sensational testimony regarding the asserted illegal activities of bondsmen will be introduced at the next session of the grand jury. The investigation will be continued until the entire situation is cleared up, Murray said.

WIRE WALKER SETS RECORD

Keeps Balance More Than Nine Hours

Sumpter Shaw Resting Between Stunts

AFTER nine hours and twenty minutes of outwitting gravity by skipping back and forth on a slack wire stretched across the marquise of the Rialto Theater yesterday, Sumpter Shaw decided that a change to terra firma would do him good, so he climbed down after he had set up a record said to be unequalled by slack-wire walkers.

Shaw mounting the wire yesterday noon, wobbled back and forth during the afternoon and evening to prove that he could break his own former record of four hours and keep his balance longer than any other man. And it looks as though he did both, but he ended his strange marathon with feet that showed they had borne the brunt of Shaw's record breaking.

One glass of water an hour during the nine hours of wire walking constituted the diet allowed Shaw by his manager, Ray Eisel. But Eisel says Shaw didn't mind, because he learned his tricky walking out on the desert, naming Phoenix, Ariz., as his home.

It was an active day for Shaw, to say the least, as he had to keep walking and skipping all the time he was on the wire. To show that he could stunt as well as merely keep his balance, Shaw went through a series of aerial wire tricks between "walks" and demonstrated his complete bag of thrillers just before he jumped down last night.

TRIAL OF NEGRO TRIO CONTINUED FORTNIGHT

Trial of Howard Hart, Francis Wallace and Major Moore, negroes who are charged with numerous outrages against motorists and their women companions, was continued yesterday by Judge Hardy to August 8, next, owing to the absence of several witnesses. Judge Hardy ordered bench warrants issued for R. W. Rhodaberger, R. A. Gibbs, Newman Stanley and William Reed, subpoenaed witnesses who failed to appear in court yesterday.

REOPENED HEARINGS ASKED

The Greater San Pedro Taxpayers' Association has asked the City Council to reopen the hearings on the proposed improvement of Meyler and Twenty-first streets in the harbor district.

POOL OPERATION DETAILS GIVEN

Ramish Knew of Overissue, Lewis Declares

Dealings of Alvin Frank Also Explained

How Bennett Got Stock Easily, Revealed

the stock belonging to Ramish—he was demanding his stock so he could sell it—would be delivered to Ramish. The stock was in the vaults, and Bennett sent some stock over to Ramish in lieu of it. He got the number of shares, I think that it was 22,000 shares that was coming to him.

LARGE CHECKS EACH DAY

Then he would sell it on agreement to keep brokers from knowing he was selling stock, he would sell the stock to Bennett, that is, Bennett would sell the stock to a broker and then take it from Ramish and give Ramish Bennett's check. Each day you will find checks going from March on down to April, averaging $12,000 or $14,000 or $16,000 a day. Bennett would sell the stock, get the money from the broker, deposit it to his credit to protect his check to Ramish. I visited Ramish on three different occasions in the mornings to keep him from selling the stock.

Q.: This was after the meeting in which it was—

A.: Yes, this was after the meeting. (The meeting referred to was one in which an overissue of stock was discussed.) That was in March and these 22,000 shares were sold daily or every other day through Bennett, Ramish, of course, knowing he was selling it on the exchange.

WANTED MONEY OUT OF IT

He (Ramish,) said he didn't give a damn how much stock was out, overissued, he was going to get his money out of it. I told him he had gotten his money back and a profit, he could afford to lose $1,000,000 and still be ahead. He didn't go into it but for the profits, that he would not have to pay the penalty for any crimes committed in selling the stock. He sold—during that period of time—he told Bennett he was going to sell the stock on the exchange, Bennett would sell it to a broker for him and he must have sold $600,000 to $700,000 to $800,000 worth of stock from February on down to March, as the records show now out here.

Q.: In your statement in the District Attorney's office you said, in regard to the profits made by Ramish, that was $150,000, and the profit was $125,000. "This was more than —," I am reading from your statement.

SOMETHING ON SIDE

A.: Yes sir. This was more than the others had received, and Ramish demanded we allow him something on the side to that which other pool members received. Yes, in other words, Mot Flint received $78,000 on $100,000. Well, now Ramish would get $78,000 for $100,000, then half of that for $50,000, which would be $88,000, that would be $112,000 approximately. Then, in addition to that he required $10,000 or $15,000 on the side that the other fellows were not getting. That is how I arrived at $125,000.

Q.: Do you recall the statement he made to you concerning the amount of stock that might be out and his disposition to sell anyway?

A.: He said he didn't care if there were 1,000,000 shares outstanding instead of 300,000 or 400,000, it didn't mean any difference to him, he was getting his money.

Q.: Have you an idea or do you know the amount of stock that Ramish loaned money against to Bennett and Jack Rosenburg, have you any idea of the amount?

4,000,000 TURNED OVER

A.: Oh, I think the total turned over of stock, from my personal knowledge and from the records that I have examined out here, to be 4,000,000 or more, probably 4,500,000.

In further discussing the frenzied operations of Pool No. 1, relative to Alvin Frank, one of its members, Lewis was asked:

Q.: Now, the operations with Mr. Alvin Frank, he was a member of the bank pool, was he not?

A.: Yes.

Q.: That is the bank pool No. 1?

A.: Yes.

Q.: He also dealt in other pools?

A.: Yes. Frank would take an interest in a pool, then he would sell it out to his clients, divide out the interest and he would hold it, giving them a letter showing their interest in different loans he made and different pools he was in, and the pools at the bank. He did what was referred to as refinancing it. The original people who had the interest from him, or claimed to have it, wanted their money, so he made a new loan to Bennett and Bennett used the money to take up the bank pool.

CONFERENCE ADMITTED

Q.: Did you talk to him about these loans?

A.: Yes, I had a conference with him and Bennett.

Q.: When?

A.: Well, in March. No, it was in——, Well, different occasions, but two instances I have in mind there, there was one in which Bennett was accusing him of taking stock which he held on these loans that he was making to him and placing them with him—with other brokers to sell the market short.

The operations of Frank and Bennett were identical with Ramish and Bennett. That is, not identical because Frank would sell a lot of stock over the board, over the exchange, to his customers, then he would sell some back to Bennett, deliver the stock to Bennett and get Bennett's check, and Bennett would in turn sell through another broker. This continued from February on down to the drop of the market, until Bennett left here, almost daily transactions.

Q.: He was present at that discussion? (Referring to the discussion of the overissue.)

DEALS CONTIUE

A.: Yes, after he knew there was an overissue, he continued to deal in it. He represented the loans made in his name, the money he would raise, was raised through the Pacific Finance Company or, O. Rey Rule on the signatures of Marco Hellman, Irving Hellman and Joe Toplitzky, and O. Rey Rule said they would never split any profits with him, he had made them legitimate loans, on the ground that they were going to make legitimate loans to Bennett and they would collect this money and divide it up between them.

In his own testimony before the grand jury, Ramish was asked by a juror:

Q.: You had a vast loan there, didn't you, to the Julian, you had a vast sum of money in there?

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: You had close to $1,000,000?

A.: I had as much as $1,300,000.

STOCK EASILY OBTAINED

The ease with which Jack Bennett obtained armloads of overissued Julian stock was told the grand jury by Pat Shipp, a transfer clerk in the stock department of the Julian Corporation. He told the jury of the asserted practice of issuing original stock in the offices of the corporation to purchasers who believed they were buying stock on the market or in the hands of brokers.

"Under your duties as transfer clerk, did you have authority or understand you had authority to issue original stock, that is stock to original purchasers?" was the question asked by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Shelley when Shipp came before the grand jury.

A.: Well, now here is what happened under those circumstances. You will remember, no doubt, that at one time there was an advertisement appearing in the papers that anybody desiring to purchase Julian Petroleum stock that the officers would be glad to make the purchase for them through any broker in town.

Well, that stock then, we would get a list each day from Bennett of those purchasers and from that we issued stock. It was for people who were under the impression they were buying a stock through some brokerage house and that we were merely acting as agents as a convenience for them in purchasing it. Instead of Bennett turning over the stock to the transfer office to transfer to these people, we merely issued them original stock.

Q.: Well, when you say you issued them original stock, the people who came in were apparently under the impression that they were getting transferred stock?

A.: Yes, sir.

Later in Shipp's interrogation he was asked during what period of time this type of stock selling was carried on. His answer was:

"I believe that started along in May or June, 1925, and was going on up until the time I left New York. I don't know how long it continued after that. That was from May or June, 1925, up until the first of November, 1925."

Q.: And all this time there was an increasing accumulation of overissued stock?

A.: Yes, sir.

SAW BENNETT GET MONEY

Continuing the questioning of Shipp, Shelley asked him what became of the money paid to Bennett for the stock sold through the Julian office.

A.: I couldn't say what became of the money.

Q.: Did you yourself see who took in the money?

A.: Bennett got the money.

Q.: Now, did you see the salesman at any time turn that money over to Bennett?

A.: Yes, sir, I have.

Shipp, in a lengthy statement, in answer to a question regarding Lewis's knowledge of the overissue, declared that in April, 1926, he estimated for Lewis the overissue at probably 1,000,000 shares. In referring to his statements to Lewis, Shipp said:

Well, when I got the stubs (stock book stubs) I said I could give him a definite figure.

GUESSES AT MILLION

Q.: What figure did you arrive at approximately?

A.: That I don't remember, Mr. Shelley, but just at a rank guess, I should say there were probably 1,000,000 shares of preferred then.

In previous grand jury testimony, given by William C. Kottermann, expert accountant who audited the stock books and other records of the company, it was declared that during April, 1927, he informed Lewis of certain irregularities which he classed as forgeries of stock certificates and which had a direct bearing on the overissue.

Kottermann, in reply to the question:

Did you say anthing to Mr. Lewis regarding these signatures?

A.: Yes, I repeated the same conversation (referring to a conversation held with other company officials) but he passed no comment relative to a knowledge whether there were any or as to whether or not he knew of such a forgery.

BAY CITY OFFICIAL TO STUDY OIL MUDDLE HERE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27. (Exclusive)—Joseph T. O'Connor, assistant district attorney in charge of grand jury matters, will go to Los Angeles within ten days to study the Julian oil corporation situation with relation to the possibility of its criminal activities having extended to San Francsco, according to announcement today by Dist.-Atty. Brady, who said that so far his office was in possession of nothing in the way of information of an official nature.

"When the Julian scandal first became known publicly and there was established that some of the transactions concerning its financing had taken place in San Francisco, I offered to the District Attorney of Los Angeles county any assistance he might desire," Brady said. "I have had no further official interest in the situation, but have read carefully the excerpts of the grand jury testimony as they have been published. So far I have read nothing that I consider would justify any action on my part.

"However, Mr. O'Connor will go to Los Angeles to confer with the authorities there and to make a complete study of the testimony that resulted from the grand jury hearing. Not until after he has made his report will any steps be taken by me to bring about an investigation here, and unless he discovers something of a more positive nature than has been disclosed it apears to me there will be no occasion for any action on the part of my office."

STUDENT GROUP TO VISIT OBSERVATORY

As their last formal excursion, fifty students of the summer session of the University of California at Los Angeles will make the trip to the Mt. Wilson Observatory tomorrow. Paul Frampton of the physical education department of U.C.L.A. will be in charge of the outing. The group of students will be given an opportunity to view the sixty-inch telescope at the observatory and the other equipment for the study of the heavens. They also will hear a lecture by Dr. Hogue of the observatory in the evening. They will return to the city Saturday, after spending the night at Mt. Wilson.

Leonard B. Gary Named to Direct Development Work in Southern California

Leonard B. Gary, one of Secretary Hoover's executives in the Department of Commerce, who recently reorganized the Central Pacific office of the department, will become affiliated with the California Development Association on August 15, next, as Southern California district manager, making his headquarters at the district offices in the W. M. Garland Building here.

The California Development Association is preparing to keep pace with the unprecedented development era which California is now entering. The State for this purpose has been divided into five geographical regions with a regional advisory council organized in each of these districts and a district manager of the association operating from local offices acting as secretary and manager to the council.

Gary's appointment as Los Angeles district manager, it is announced, will give all the southern communities of California many additional opportunities in the development of their natural resources.

FIVE MORE DRY AGENTS TO FEEL AX

McReynolds Says Slash in Funds Brings Dismissals; Discord Report Denied

Five additional prohibition enforcement agents are to be let out on August 1 by Maj. Frank R. McReynolds, Federal prohibition administrator for Southern California and Arizona, the administrator announced yesterday. The new slash in the prohibition enforcement department forces brings the total number of agents to be discharged by the first of the month, due to cut of $60,000 in the appropriation for this district, to ten.

Reports of discord between Maj. McReynolds and his chief aide, Capt. Frank E. Benedict, were denied yesterday by both.

"Due to the cash in funds it may be necessary to abolish the job of assistant administrator in charge of enforcement," Maj. McReynolds explained, "but that does not mean that Capt. Benedict will leave the service."

The cutting down in the Federal prohibition enforcement agents will not necessarily bring joy to bootleggers, Maj. McReynolds stated yesterday. The administrator has been assured co-operation by State, county and city officials.

THIRD PROGRAM AT LATTICE PLAYHOUSE

The third of the bi-weekly series of dramatic programs being presented by children of the municipal playgrounds at the Little Lattice Playhouse in Barnsdall Park, Hollywood Boulevard and Vermont avenue, will be given this afternoon. Already the outdoor playhouse has proved so attractive that it has been necessary to enlarge it to nearly double the original capacity. Today a dramatic group from Arroyo Seco playground will present "The Clown of Doodle Doo." Costumed dancers from Pecan playground will give Russian folk dances, with accompaniment by violinists and flutists from Exposition playground. Robin Hood stories will be told by the Gypsy story teller. The Los Angeles Boy Scout Band will also give a concert.

FASTER LIQUOR TRIALS SOUGHT

Presiding Judge Stutsman to Observe New Law

Jury Court Will Be Created Monday

Other Methods to Be Tried to Relieve Calendar

With thousands of cases set months ahead in the jury liquor division, a decision in direct contrast with the intention of the recently legislated changes in criminal procedure, steps were taken yesterday by Presiding Municipal Judge Stutsman so to arrange his courts that the law may be properly observed.

To the end that all such criminal cases can be tried within the thirty-day limit prescribed by the new law, Judge Stutsman yesterday announced that a new liquor jury court will be created Monday with Municipal Judge Ballard presiding.

As to further expedite matters, consideration is being given to a plan suggested by Municipal Judge Ballard whereby one of the felony preliminary hearing courts for the months of August and September. Under this plan it would be devoted to an additional liquor jury court leaving the other two preliminary hearing divisions. If this plan is adopted, as it probably will be, according to Judge Stutsman, the additional jury division will be placed in charge of Municipal Judge McConnell. This division is chosen, Judge Stutsman said, as a jury box is now installed in Judge McConnell's courtroom.

A further relief to the congested condition of the liquor division calendar, in jury cases, Municipal Judge Ballard has been authorized to try cases in his department.

Tuesday morning John Bland, secretary to the presiding judge, and Judge Stutsman drew the new jury which is to be sworn in Monday. Today will draw an additional jury of ninety or 100 persons to complete the juries for the new courts.

COUNCIL ORDERS LINE INQUIRY

It is expected the investigation will resolve itself into a general "whitewashing" affair, with Councilman Holder the center of the picture. The usual "whitewash" which follows City Hall investigations is expected to result, with the Councilman giving himself a clean bill of health. During the investigation under way several of the Councilmen said they must take this action "to protect themselves." Councilman Holder is particularly bitter about the move to format the libelous misstatements of his position on the

Among the witnesses will be ex-Councilman Barnes, who admitted he had talked with Meline about the question of the appointment, and Councilman Meline, who declared Councilman Barnes said that he (Barnes) had been told by Councilman Holder and that Holden had to know "what confirmation or non-appointment was worth" to Councilman Barnes denies this.

HEADS BUREAU TO END INDIAN FRAUDS

Chief Standing Bear

Indians of the stage and of motion pictures have decided to establish a bureau for their protection and the detection of imposters, it was announced yesterday. Chief Standing Bear, an Ogalala Sioux, will be in charge and offices have been established at 701-702 Auditorium Building. There will be lecture, research and employment divisions, which will facilitate the obtaining of genuine Indians for motion-picture and stage work. Only Indians registered with the Department of the Interior at Washington will be recognized. The bureau is to be known as "The Indians."

Malibu Ranch Case Resumed Before Judge

Testimony was resumed yesterday before Judge Fleming in Superior Court in the suit brought by the county to condemn land for several roads leading from the new Coast Highway through canyons located in the Malibu Ranch.

The case was started several weeks ago but continued by Judge Fleming owing to the wide variance of values placed on the property by experts employed by the county and the Marblehead Land Company, owner of the ranch.

Judge Fleming then appointed court appraisers to testify as to the value of the land the county seeks to condemn. The land sought has been estimated variously to be worth from $5000 to $80,000 an acre.

GERMAN RAIDER 'CAPTURED'

American Missed Him in War But Comes on Count Von Luckner in Hotel Lobby Here Yesterday

Lieutenant-Commander Ard of the United States Navy went looking for Count von Luckner of the German navy for the second time in their lives yesterday. The first time they did not meet but Commander Ard caught his old enemy at last in the lobby of the Biltmore. The American officer accosted the German and introduced himself. They gripped hands and grinned.

"I was in command of the submarine L-6 when you and the Seeadler were raiding around the Pacific," explained Commander Ard. "We had information and orders to watch for you somewhere this side of Honolulu. But you must have been pretty far ahead of our information, for I never caught sight of you."

COUNT FELIX VON LUCKNER

Count von Luckner was immensely pleased and the two officers had a genial half hour exchanging reminiscenses of the chase.

"The United States Navy kept pretty close after me. You had good information," said the Count. "But, you see, I had luck with me from the start, and the thing was all over before my luck had time to change. It hasn't changed yet, for I'm delighted that you caught me today."

ASSURES PEACE

Discussing the navies of the nations a little later, Count von Luckner said the United States Navy should be the superior fighting force of the world. If America possesses the strongest navy the peace of the world is assured, he declared.

"America should possess the world's greatest navy for several reasons. First, she has the longest coast line in the world to protect; second, she has a population of more than 120,000,000 persons and the greatest national wealth of all nations; third, her foreign trade since the World War has developed to such proportions that she must have an adequate navy to protect her trade lanes, which reach out to every corner of the globe.

"America has proven to the world that she has no dreams of conquest, that she seeks the lands or wealth of no nation. The dominating influence of a great country with such ideals would naturally be a great factor in promoting peace, providing, of course, she has the naval strength to back up her demands.

"The argument that the United States Navy is costly to the nations is a foolish one. The building of an American navy, in fact, promotes the prosperity of the entire nation, because every part of an American fighting ship is produced in this country.

"Its construction, then, keeps the shipyards busy, steel mills working and provides employment for thousands of people in instrument factories, navy yards, lumber mills, oil fields and other industries. The money thus placed in circulation aids almost every industry and it remains in the United States.

"America today dominates the world. The scepter passed to her from the British empire at the close of the World War," concluded Count von Luckner. "In the interests of world peace and, prosperity it is the duty of America to maintain a navy second to none."

NOTABLES WILL GATHER AT BREAKFAST CLUB

Several notable groups of guests are to be entertained by the Breakfast Club at 3213 Riverside Drive tomorrow morning, according to the announcement mailed members yesterday. Count Von Luckner, Germany's "ambassador of friendship," is to be intiated into the "Shrine of Friendship" and will be accompanied to the club by the Countess and others.

W. B. Mayo, engineer in charge of the Ford Motor Company's aircraft construction program, together with the party accompanying him in the big trimotored Ford-Stout plane, which he is delivering this week, will also be guests. D. E. McDaneld, president of the Southern California Chapter of the American Aeronautic Association, is scheduled to speak for a few minutes on his idea for a municipal airport.

Charles H. Treat and Charles J. Lick will be the hosts, and Mr. Treat will have as guests Congressmen W. E. Evans and Joe Crail; Harry Chandler, Edward A. Dickson and Pailey M. Johnson.

A number of women scenarists and wives of directors and screen stars have been invited to meet the Count and Countess Von Luckner at a tea in the palm room of the Biltmore at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The affair is sponsored by Leon Kutner of San Francisco. Mrs. Tod Browning, wife of a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer director, will preside. The invitation list includes about seventy-five names.

FARMERS WARNED OF NEW LAW

Employers Must Take Out Insurance on All Farm Workmen September 1

George Farrand, general counsel for the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, yesterday called attention that after September 1, next, all employing farmers become automatically subject to the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation and Safety Act as amended by the last Legislature. Like other employers, they must either take out insurance to protect their employees or obtain a permit to carry the risk themselves, which permit will be granted only on a showing of financial responsibility and posting of bond.

The farmer may, however, file notice with the commission rejecting the act and post a notice to that effect. This, Farrand said, is a matter of policy for the farmer himself to determine.

"But he should not forget," Farrand said, "that if he does reject the law he is still subject to responsibility for negligence."

Textiles Woven by Refugees on Exhibition Here

A unique textile exhibit, the work of 700 men and women "without a country," has been placed on exhibition at the University of California at Los Angeles for study by summer session students.

The weavers of the textiles are Russian refugees, formerly living in the province of Wolyn, Russia, and now occupying a "corridor" in Danzig by the grace of the League of Nations.

During the past two and a half years these homeless refugees have kept themselves from starvation through the sale of their hand-woven textiles in the United States. Some of the designs are taken from old Russian history and myths. Some are copied from church altar cloths and one represents the canopy over the bed of Peter the Great.

The former interior decorator for the Czar's palace is furnishing the designs for the textiles, it is stated.

WOMEN TO HONOR LECTURER

Miss Helen D. Pigeon of Washington, D. C., executive secretary of the International Association of Police Women, is to be honored by a tea given by the Los Angeles League of Women Voters at 805 Brack-Shops Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Ernest Wallace will preside. Miss Pigeon has just completed a series of lectures at the University of Southern California.

COUNTESS VON LUCKNER

Suspect Jailed to Assure His Being at Trial

When the case of Marion Sowinsky, confectionery store proprietor, is called before Municipal Judge Turney tomorrow, Sowinsky will be among those present, no matter who else may be absent.

Assurance of the defendant appearing for trial on a charge of possessing liquor was given yesterday when Judge Turney sentenced Sowinsky to serve two days in jail for contempt of court and at the same time set his case for trial tomorrow.

"It all happened because Sowinsky twice forgot to appear before Judge Turney for trial on liquor charges growing out of his arrest on April 12, last, at his store. Arresting officers, in their report, said they arrested Sowinsky on complaint he was selling liquor to children. They said, however, they found no liquor in his store but found a quantity of bootleg at his home, 648 East Fortieth street.

BULLOCK'S AUGUST CLEARANCE

"The One Sale of the Year"

Monday, August 1

First Day of Bullock's August Clearance

The occasion of which it has been said for twenty years—"No one should stay away." Its opportunities are as wide and as varied as the broad extent of Bullock's stocks.

For twenty years this event has grown and progressed toward a very definite goal. It has effected clearance of Bullock's own stocks as its primary function --- making of itself an occasion of Friendwinning through its splendid offering of values in every section of the store.

The strength of many Manufacturing sources are thrown into Bullock's August Clearance, because public expectations have grown beyond the limits of Clearance.

All of this builds larger and larger sales volumes year after year. Thousands of people are waiting for Bullock's August Clearance---

Particularly those who know that Bullock's Standards of Quality are what they are; that Clearance is concerned with those self same standards; and that Monday, August 1, will be no exception. This rule has stood unbroken through twenty years of keeping faith with an Ideal.

Bullock's August Clearance Adds to Its Significance With Standards of Service As Well as of Quality

Sincerity runs like a strong undercurrent beneath all Clearance activities at Bullock's. It is expressed in Cheerfulness, Willingness and Strong Determination to make every transaction win confidence.

If you could see behind the scenes at this moment. Stock Rooms, Mark Down Rooms, Receiving Rooms—Busy, busy, busy every minute—humming with the activities preceding what is planned to be Bullock's greatest August Clearance—commencing Monday, August 1.

And most important—if you could be one of the members of Bullock's organization in these earnest, active days before Clearance begins. So that you could know for yourself the realness of the spirit of Bullock's toward this important occasion. To sense the intensity of the demand that every member of Bullock's magnify the selling of Clearance values through Service that builds a foundation for integrity.

So it is that Bullock's August Clearance is more that a "Sale." Different, distinctive—bigger, broader, deeper in its scope and ideals.

Claiming the slogan, "The One Sale of the Year," by virtue of its very ability to maintain leadership throughout the Southland as a source of savings. Every section of Bullock's participates. Tell your Neighbor. Ask your Neighbor.

MONEY TALKS

In these days the cash register is the most important adjunct to the prize ring.

WELL HEELED

Thrice is he armed who hath his quarrel just inside the city limits of Chicago.

NOTABLY TRANQUIL

Sometimes we fear that the only thoroughly peaceful thing at Geneva is the lake.

MISNAMED

Lots of fellows who are known as "flat tires" suffer a manifest injustice—they still are awfully full of wind.

BRIGHTENS EIGHTFOLD

Sometimes $50 worth of new furniture will do the old house $400 worth of good—it makes you get busy and polish up all the old.

NO TARGET

The new airplane which will travel 300 miles an hour may make a hit with some people, but we sincerely hope it never scores one on us.

AFTER MONTROSE

He either fears his wife too much
Or he is short of dough
That does not go a-summering
Just where he wants to go.

SUPPORTERS

Prince Carol, pretender to the throne of Rumania, is said to have many supporters in Paris. And once his funds from back home run out his Paris support will follow suit.

STILL HANGING ON

The gold reserve at Washington now exceeds $4,500,000,000 and is the greatest in the history of the world. But that is no sign that anybody can step up to Uncle Sam and touch him for a double eagle.

TAKE NO CHANCES

It may be true that "millions now living shall never die," but all the same it pays to stop, look and listen before you venture to cross any of the municipal speedways which once were slow streets.

A RADIO SCARECROW

An eastern horticulturist has placed a radio and loud speaker in his orchard and it does the business of a scarecrow. Even a flock of crows have better sense than to try and compete with a jazz band.

STUPID OR TIGHT?

It does seem that any prosperous man who "hasn't taken a vacation in twenty years" would have the sense to keep his mouth shut about his folly, instead of not only giving himself away continually, but actually bragging about it.

FAIRIES

The world is full of fairies,
As Conan Doyle avers,
With wondrous gifts of magic
And arts of conjurers.
And people who control 'em
In legions and in ranks
Have largely got the habit
Through simple savings banks.

WE CAN SLEEP

And those dripping, sweltering, heat-harrowed New Yorkers, who kick off the sheets at night and hose down their children to lower their temperatures, actually have the nerve to poke fun at the climate of Los Angeles, where people sleep under blankets every summer night!

FRUIT FOR LONDON

More than 60,000 boxes of California oranges will go to England when the British steamer Nebraska leaves our harbor. This is our heaviest single shipment to London, although the Britons will take more than 800,000 boxes of the golden fruit this year. Our orange blossoms girdle the globe.

INTOLERANCE

Some awful swats are given the Mencken-Sinclair sophisticates by a writer in the current issue of Harper's, who says that "like the Babbitts they condemn they are swayed by fads, have their own trade jargon, their own hypocrisies and their own foolish standards and futile values. Their intolerance," he says, "is the intellectual equivalent of social snobbery." But why not enjoy their intolerance? It's the most amusing of all their funny performances.

MISFIT ARMOR

The promoters of the Scottish historical pageant at Craig Nullar Castle recently could find few men of modern stature who were large enough to fill the ancient armor provided for the occasion. It was necessary to resort to theatrical properties, and Great Britain was scoured for a sufficient number of these. But what about the size of the ancient brain? It was evidently not big enough to invent the airplane or radio, or at least it didn't contain gray matter enough, no matter what the size.

OWENS VALLEY'S FOLLY

Newspapers all over the country have given much space to the series of dynamiting outrages perpetrated by Owens Valley residents as part of a hold-up directed at Los Angeles. If the valley as a community fancies that these methods, which by countenancing it tacitly approves, will win the sympathy of the country as a whole, its people and officials have only to read the editorial comment made by newspapers in other States to discover how far afield they are in their reckoning.

In this reign of unchecked lawlessness other States and cities, according to the sentiment reflected by their respective journals, see nothing but unpardonable laxity on the part of the county officials, unspurred by public opinion. The consensus seems to be that the valley is biting off its nose to spite its face. The following editorial from the Salt Lake Telegram reflects the general tenor of the views on the situation held all over the country:

> The ninth dynamiting of the Los Angeles Aqueduct to take place in three months emphasizes the gravity of the twenty-year-old war between Owens Valley ranchers and the city's Bureau of Water and Power. Surely the time has arrived for decisive action to stop the menace to a great population's water supply, to adjust the difficulties and punish the dynamiting outlaws.
> Whatever violated rights the ranchers of Owens Valley may have and however strong their claims against Los Angeles for taking the water that years ago flowed over their lands, the explosions of the Aqueduct are an outrage. They smack of the days of feuds, because this is an exaggerated feud.
> Law-enforcement officials of the valley by their very inaction have contributed in a deplorable way to the outlawry. Doubtless it is notorious among the angered ranchers who the persons are who have been perpetrating the dynamitings. It would not take a very clever Sheriff's force to round up the rascals. But the officials don't want to interfere. They are criminally lax.
> Sword-points kind of politics in Los Angeles likely has aggravated the situation. There is a bickering there between those who favor various policies of dealing with the Owens Valley tangle. The mess is becoming critical now, however, and should be met in a way that will assure the citizens that they will not be endangered by the cutting off of their water supply by disgruntled ranchers.

The Times has previously pointed out that besides alienating sympathy from those who still have just damage claims against the city, the reign of lawlessness in Inyo county is driving away a source of revenue far in excess of the profits made from agriculture in the Owens Valley. People were coming from considerable distances to spend their summers in a vacation land already acquiring a reputation as the Switzerland of America. But since the valley has advertised itself to the world as a dangerous and lawless region the tourist travel has been nearly eliminated. The Automobile Club of Southern California stated recently that a 90 per cent decrease in the normal volume of inquiries from tourists about Owens Valley is a direct result of the series of dynamiting outrages.

Even if no considerations of good citizenship influence the Inyo county residents to cease shielding a gang of criminals the knowledge that by their tactless conduct they are destroying their best revenue-producing asset might lead them, from motives of self-interest, actively to ally themselves on the side of law and order.

CHANGING NATIONAL RELATIONS

Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford University, told the representatives attending the Institute of Pacific Relations at Honolulu that "The United States is reaching its maturity and it must view its foreign relations from a new standpoint of responsibility." In that short sentence are condensed the results of a lifetime's research and study of world problems.

We have now substantially reached the limit of our growth in territory. Nationally we are full grown and must accept the duties and responsibilities of a world power. But in the meantime the world has not stood still. We must take our part in a twentieth-century world, not one of the nineteenth century. The continued growth of our country's wealth and power depends upon our recognition of that fact.

We are in instant communication with other countries and the leisurely diplomacy of earlier years is out of date. Our aviators are crossing seas in a mere fraction of time required by steamships. In effect distances are shrinking and we are brought in closer contact with other peoples, so that, as Dr. Wilbur says, "isolation of any single progressive nation is now out of the question." Circumstances are literally forcing us to a larger participation in world affairs.

Latin-American nations have developed almost beyond historic recognition. They are not at all the uneasy republics of 1820 which the Monroe Doctrine was designed to guard. They also have reached their majority and are making phenomenal progress in education, wealth and national greatness. The old plans on which our relations with them was conducted may have been all right for the period of childhood. One of greater vision, affording a wider outlook on the future, is now demanded.

As for the oriental nations across the Pacific, we are warned on all sides that complete changes impend. The center of gravity—so to speak—of the world's business will soon center on the Pacific. To meet these changes many diplomatic problems of the most delicate nature—such as questions of immigration, the recognition that each nation is independent in its internal affairs and the abandonment of all claims of racial superiority—must be solved on that higher plane of responsibility and influence to which Dr. Wilbur refers.

A DANGEROUS UNION

Just before the recent Communist riots in Vienna the Austrian republic, in an economic plight equaled by that of few countries in world history, was said to be endeavoring to form a union with Germany. After the riots Austria saw new need of securing the strength which such an alliance would afford it and was reported to be making new overtures to Germany for an ironclad coalition.

For months open campaigns have been going on in Austria for "Anschluss," as the projected union is termed, and they have attained such proportions that doubt has begun to creep into Allied chancellories as to whether the Versailles Treaty is not being flouted, as it would be if the alliance is effected.

This bold undertaking on the part of Austria, in which Hungary is said to be taking part and to which Germany is reported to be extending aid of a sort, threatens an international storm. Under the heading "Europe Fears Vienna-Berlin Union Project" the New York Herald-Tribune recently printed a long cable from its Paris correspondent in which it was stated that the calling home of Count de Chambrun, France's Ambassador to Vienna, the other day, was said to mean that he had been asked to make a full statement of his observations as to the campaign for the union.

The president of the National German party of Austria said not long ago to high German officials that he considered the present Austrian state as of "an ephemeral order," and that it maintained order for purely defensive purposes, but that its annexation to Germany remained "the chief object to be accomplished." The Austrian Socialists favor the union and are vigorously campaigning for it. Le Temps of Paris calls the policy of the dominant Austrian party "a policy of unification, absorption and subjection to Germany."

In a recent address before the Parliament of Austria Chancellor Ignatz Seipel intimated that the government soon would present to the League of Nations a plan for the union of the Germanic peoples. This plan, of course, would be rejected by the League, as it does not conform to provisions under which the Teutonic nations were admitted to its membership, and if they proceed to form the union without the consent of the League they may find themselves out in the cold.

Germany would not gain so much territory by annexing Austria now as it would have gained ten years ago. Austria today is but a remnant of the former empire and composes an area of a little less than one-fourth that of California. Hungary is somewhat larger than Austria, but if they were combined with Germany all three would lack 12,000 square miles of the area of Texas. In population Germany would gain 15,000,000 and would then have about 80,000,000.

What steps the former foes of the Central Powers will take to prevent the projected union remain to be seen. In England they are saying that the danger lies in the destruction of the whole Central European balance set up after the Allied victory and possibly war. Italy is strongly opposed to the alliance and ready to go to any length to thwart it.

No objection is raised to Germany aiding Austria financially, as it proposed to do recently when it appointed a commission to arrange a program for German loans to Austria. But if this program is extended so as to include an economic union there will be almost as much objection to it as to a geographical union. Austria was financed and rehabilitated under protocols of the League of Nations, which assured and insisted upon her territorial integrity and sovereignty. She was financed to the extent of $126,000,000, and the obligations imposed were such as to exclude anything like an economic union with her war allies.

It would be fatal to the interests of the Teutonic nations for them to unite economically, for they immediately would run afoul of the League of Nations, while a political union probably would mean war.

THE DIVINE RIGHT

The baby King of Rumania—ruler over a land that has known but little peace. Its people, strong and fearless, but gnarled and bent by the burden of keeping an expensive royal family in disdainful idleness, betrayed but little interest or enthusiasm in the advent of the nursery ruler.

Already that evil counsel that comes to all kings, near the cradle, through life and at the very edge of the grave, has come to little Michael and whispered to him: "You are a king and not a common person, Michael, you will be above other men—you can do as you will and others must agree it is right." A nurse came and informed the baby king he must have his face washed. Michael was playing with a new toy and didn't want his face washed. He shook his curly head, this son of a headstrong prince, and said:

"I am a king, now, and I can do as I wish. If I want to play with my toys I will—I have that right."

But Michael was and is wrong. There are several older and wiser men of royal blood scattered over Europe who could have taken Michael on their gouty knees and imparted that information into his childish ears with all the sincerity of personal experience.

Yet Michael will learn it for himself as youth must ever learn these unpleasant things by experience alone. And he will be a sadder and wiser boy before he attains the throne in his own right—if this ever comes to pass.

The cross that this baby will have to bear through life is this very belief in the "divine right." If he can learn that no one is born into the world with a head start, that what counts is he himself, what he learns, what he accomplishes and his measure of regard for other men, then he will grow into a healthy, normal boy and an able, just and God-fearing man—a true King, fit to rule, to direct, not because of birth but because of fitness.

THE IRISH OF IT

Men never will understand. Now they have given women employees of the Marine Corps the right to smoke cigarettes at their office desks. But modern girls don't want to be given rights like that—they want to just take 'em.

What a Grim Joke It Would Be

[Protected by George Matthew Adams]

A LUCKY ESCAPE

By James J. Montague

As a boy I was eager to sit on the bench
For a judge is a man whom the whole world reveres
And who makes even conscienceless criminals blench
When he sends them away for a long term of years.
I wanted, with merely a glance of my eyes,
To cut the most voluble lawyers off short,
And to see all the jury and witnesses rise
And bow their respect when I strode into court.

I wanted to feel that I held a great place
Which was free from all manner of petty restraints,
To sit with a picturesque frown on my face
And rule upon torts and amended complaints.
I wanted the rich and the great of the land
To hark to my words with a reverent awe,
The bailiff to wince at my slightest command
And the jury to gape when I laid down the law.

And, being somewhat of the talkative kind,
I hoped to be free to enlarge and enlarge
Upon whatever topic that came to my mind
While I took up four hours in making my charge.
But a Court of Appeals the decision has made
That to give waiting litigants needful relief
And to get through with cases now sorely delayed—
The judges must make their opinions more brief.

So were I on the bench—or, for that matter—you,
And some difficult question we had to decide,
We could not talk on all the afternoon through—
We could only look glum and say "Motion denied."
If unlimited speech—which I always have craved
The powers which rule over woolsacks begrudge—
I am certainly glad that I never have slaved
At the arduous task of becoming a judge.

SEEING MEXICO

BY WILLIAM L. VAIL.

III

Mexico is all shot to pieces.
She's on the rocks.
Business is rotten.

But—her mines last year produced 128,000,000 pesos in silver (a peso is worth 50 cents American money) and she continues to lead the world in silver production; 32,040,616 pesos in gold; 83,913,921 pesos in lead; $4,119,709 pesos in copper; $7,875,406 pesos in zinc; 2,487,274 pesos in antimony; several millions in mercury, coal, arsenic and other mineral products. In fact, though business is rotten, it was a banner year.

And she imported 9908 automobiles from the United States apart from 2203 auto trucks with a total value (trucks) of 2,032,577 pesos.

And during the months of January and February this year she bought from the United States $19,500,000 worth of stuff—American money—and exported to the United States in the month of February alone over $15,000,000, American money, of Mexican stuff.

And she has exported in the past five years 73,968,504 pesos' worth of Mexican-grown cotton to Europe and bought American cotton during the same period to the tune of 5,766,510 pesos.

And, while the production of oil has been heavily decreased because of pending issues between the government and oil interests, she did export last year, mostly to the United States, 89,106,557 barrels of the crude article.

And she sent last year, principally to New York and San Francisco, 30,000,000 pounds of her best Mexican coffee, which is worked over and palmed off on the public as a superior grade of some other foreign brand.

Mexico expended last year nearly 1,000,000 pesos a month on good roads and completed several hundred miles. She is now engaged on a line from Mexico City to the Rio Grande, at Laredo; from Mexico City to the Guatemalan border and from Vera Cruz, on the Atlantic, or gulf coast, to Mazatlan on the Pacific Coast.

There are many other things, in a live way, Mexico is doing in this dead, rotten period, that ought to attract more attention than stories of an occasional bandit raid or revolutionary uprising.

The world appears to be overrun with crime and such, but why pin so much on Mexico when she is a decidedly peaceful borough compared to many other sun spots which might be mentioned. So much has been said about the naughty things Mexico does. Why not drop a line now and then when she is good?

SUNSET

"When we are old, Dear Heart, and ah, how soon
Will life's sweet, gala morning turn to noon!"
These words come back to me with cadence now;
I heard them years ago, but thought, somehow—
Time would be kind; we'd court revibrant youth.
Then duty led us by persuasive truth
To follow her. Soon youth was left behind;
But, list'ning now, I hear a voice, refined,
Repeat with all the music of the spheres—
"The soul cannot grow old, despite the years."
Youth is eternal though the head is bowed;
The step may falter, but the heart beats loud
In unison with friends of other years,
When evening comes and sunset dries our tears.

LETTERS TO The Times

[Name and address of writer must accompany all letters for this column. Letters of a personal nature or involving contentious religious questions are not acceptable.]

Not Done in Iowa

TORRANCE, July 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I notice a statement in today's paper to the effect that the parole board of Los Angeles county is saving the taxpayers of the county $85,000 a year in turning loose upon the public men and women who have been tried and convicted by the criminal courts of the county for the violation of some law of this State. I am wondering what it has cost the taxpayers of this State to convict these law-breakers for the commission of some crime? I am also wondering what it has cost individual citizens in dollars and cents to have this vast army of criminals turned back into the community, free to ply their trade again?

Back in Iowa, where I live, a committee, on making an investigation of the records of criminals paroled from our penal institutions, found that 75 per cent of the crimes committed by both men and women was found to have been committed by paroled convicts. Perhaps it would be well for your citizens, if they are really interested in the welfare of Los Angeles, to make inquiry as to this statement.

It would seem, from the report submitted, that the parole board here was turning out convicted criminals almost as fast as your courts can convict them. I would suggest that the "good people" out here take a look in and see what is going on in the council chambers of your parole board.

JOHN C. SMITH.

How a Scotsman Feels

LOS ANGELES, July 24.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have read your article "Why Foreign Tourists Avoid Us," by John Edwin Hoag. As I am one of the tourists so described, a Scotsman (Dundee) may I say that Mr. Hoag speaks of the $3 head tax imposed on foreign tourists. The tax really is $18, for Mr. Hoag neglected to mention the trifle of $10 for the American visa for passports, compulsorily paid to the American consulate in London pari passu with the $8 head tax.

I do not criticise these rather heavy fees imposed on top of the cost of passage to New York. It is your domestic regulation and foreigners cannot complain. If they do not like or approve them they have the privilege of refraining from coming here.

Mr. Hoag's comment, however, on the lack of through expresses from New York to Los Angeles is justified. I confess to surprise upon learning in New York that I must change trains in Chicago. I had surmised that the famed American efficiency would have obviated such discomfort and inconvenience long ago. May I point out that when I go to London from Dundee, nearly 500 miles, my sleeping-car compartment costs $3.25. I found that the sleeping-car fare from San Francisco here was proportionately far more. However, I daresay sleeping-car operation costs much more in America than in England-Scotland.

As a Scotsman, I must dissent from Mr. Hoag's sweeping assertion that foreigners regard Americans as the world's champion money grabbers. Let me inform him truly that we Scotsmen share the American fame, or notoriety, in that field. One hasn't time or patience to discuss the justice or injustice of the accusation. However, all annoyances fade in the splendors of your climate and the extraordinary cheapness and excellence of your hotels—not your hotels de luxe.

ALEXANDER MacDONAGH.

The First Minnesota

LOS ANGELES, July 22.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In yesterday's Times appeared an Associated Press dispatch from Stillwater, Minn., telling how the three survivors of the Last Man's Club had met there to observe the anniversary of the battle of Bull Run. These three veterans belong to the First Minnesota of the Civil War. The world-famous service rendered by them, however, was not at Bull Run, but at Gettysburg two years later.

In that battle the said regiment, reduced to less than half its original number, were lying flat on sloping ground near the historic fence when the fore front of Pickett's charge broke over it. At that crisis Gen. Hancock rode up on the run and shouted, "What regiment is this?"

"First Minnesota," they answered. "First Minnesota, charge!" was the immediate order. The order was obeyed and for five minutes they held back the furious attack until reinforcements could come up. The First Minnesota was almost wiped out, only a handful of men coming out unwounded.

The writer got the above account from K. T. Rye, a member of the First Minnesota, active and present on the battlefield of Gettysburg.

BEETLE JEWELRY

If you see a woman with what appears to be a big beetle or spider on her dress, don't try to pick it off. She is probably wearing an article of jewelry made out of a beetle, fly, or other insect.

In France earrings, brooches, necklaces and other articles are made by skilled artisans out of all kinds of strange and wonderfully colored insects.

When the insects arrive at the workshop they are sorted by specialists, who put each species in separate boxes. Then they go to the mounting rooms, where delicate instruments are used to remove the heads from the bodies, which are thoroughly cleaned inside and out. A solid substance is used to replace the internal organs and to keep the insects in shape, and after dissection and cleaning they are treated by a process that hardens and preserves their form and color.—[London Tit-Bits.

MORE JUNK

We have some splendid battleships in which brave seamen ride, and when they sailed on deadly trips we used to thrill with pride. The grand old days when Dewey fought and Schley and Sampson too! We gloried in their deeds and thought our battleships would do. While we had noble ships to those to split the ocean breeze, need not care for any foes the seven seas. With ships those to guard our shores, content filled the air, and we could go about our chores without a doubt or care. We sank our dollars gress buckle down and build more ships, until our navy's brand renown all others would outclass. We still have warships up to date and cruisers good as wheat, and now—it's mournful to relate—we bid us can our fleet. The ships built to guard our shores are useless, so men say, as those old galleys pushed with oars in Julius Caesar's day. Some airmen, boasting overhead, would drop on bombs or three, and, lo, the ships would be spread in fragments on the sea. A flock of airships swift and neat, propelled by dynamic gents, would make our proudest fleet appear like two cents. Some admirals and commodores dispute this dire decree and say there's safety on our sea while warships ride the main, more and more the people see though feeling it brings woe, those leviathans of steel should go the junkyard go. So let us build a million planes to guard our established land, and when we've finished them human brains will meet new demand; inventors will produce some trap sentiment of us as fate, and all our airships must scrap, as being out of date.

HISTORY TATTOOED ON HIS BACK

Original Rough Rider Has Epic in Ink

George Bancroft and David Warford

A LOT of strange champions roam the boulevards of Hollywood, but one of the more original has just been introduced.

He is David Warford, one of Roosevelt's original Rough Riders, who played a role in the Paramount production of the same title.

Warford's bid for the champion class is based on the tattooing on his upper body. Not one inch from his neck to his waist is free from the design which depicts a girl who rode 360 miles in thirty hours notifying ranchers and cow punchers of East New Mexico that war with Spain had been declared and that Roosevelt was organizing a regiment of rough riders.

Passing Warford on the street means little to blase Hollywood, but the motion-picture city gasped when he consented to be photographed with George Bancroft.

Tonic Talks to Traffic Officer; Taker Pays Fine

"It was the tonic the doctor gave me that caused my talking irrationally to the officers who arrested me," explained Jack Harrington, 2453 Beachwood street, when he appeared yesterday before Municipal Judge Valentine for trial on a charge of reckless driving. "I was not drunk. Also I didn't mean it when I told the officers that I was the man who had fired Police Commissioner Birnbaum and that they would be the next to go."

"That's fine," said Judge Valentine, "then I need have no fear when I impose a $50 fine on you." Harrington paid.

He was arrested when he crashed into a car belonging to W. H. Hall, 1663 West Twenty-third street. Police officers said a bottle of liquid found in his car proved to be tonic and not liquor.

MIX-UP OVER CRIME AGAIN UP IN COURT

Earl M. Carroll Charged With Shooting for Which Another Served Sentence

Earl M. Carroll, for whose asserted crime James Preston is said to have wrongly served eighteen months in San Quentin before Fingerprint Expert Barlow of Central Station could prove his contention that Preston was innocent, yesterday was arraigned before Municipal Judge McConnell on three counts of robbery, burglary and assault with intent to commit murder.

Carroll was taken into court by Detective Lieutenant Moran after being released from Patton where he had been confined pending investigation as to his mental condition. He was pronounced sane, according to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Heinecke.

Preston was sentenced to San Quentin in 1925 after conviction on charges of robbery, burglary and assault with intent to murder Mrs. Stella Parsons, 906 West Fiftieth street, on October 28, 1924. The conviction was upheld despite Barlow's contention that fingerprints in the woman's apartment were not Preston's.

Early this year Carroll was arrested on suspicion of robbery and his fingerprints were found to tally with those found in the apartment in which Mrs. Parson was shot. Shortly afterward Gov. Richardson pardoned Preston and Carroll began his asserted attempt to prove himself insane.

Judge McConnell set preliminary examination for Carroll for August 1, and fixed bail at $10,000.

PLAYS TO BE OFFERED AT SAN GABRIEL

Arrangement for Stock Company Presentations Now Being Made

Idleness until next year is not to be the fate of the new Mission Playhouse in spite of the fact that the Mission Play is not to reopen until next January, according to an announcement of Business Manager Norman Sprowl yesterday. The theater will be utilized for stock-company productions under the direction of Ferdinand Munier, actor and director, he said.

Selection of a cast and plays is now being made by the director and the near future is to see the reopening of the playhouse with new and popular productions from the pens of the country's best playwrights. These are to occupy the boards until the Mission Play starts its seventeenth season in 1928.

Court Dismisses Cases as Police Fail to Appear

Delivering an ultimatum to police officials, Municipal Judge Sheldon yesterday dismissed two liquor cases when the police officers failed to appear.

"The State's witnesses are bound to appear at the time set by the court just as much as are the defendants, and in the future this court will dismiss cases when the officers fail to appear when cases are called," Judge Sheldon said.

A charge of possession of liquor against Nick Denooy and similar charges against J. B. Gunn and Jacob Rickus were those dismissed.

FLOOD FUNDS RAISED

Hotel Men meet Quota Set by United States Chamber

Members of the Southern California Hotel Men's Association met at the Biltmore yesterday and raised the sum of $2000, their quota of the United States Chamber of Commerce allotment for the relief of Mississippi flood sufferers.

John Hernan, vice-chairman of the executive committee, presided at the meeting, where also preliminary arrangements were made to raise $10,000 to guarantee the holding of the Pacific Coast open golf championship in Los Angeles again this year, as in the two past years.

AMERICA TO BE GREEKS' MODEL

Titled Red Cross Nurse Here to Seek Inspiration

Nation Disorganizd by War, Mme. Papadopouls Says

Bears Thanks of Country for Assistance Rendered

The art of living was destroyed in Greece by the Balkan and World wars and the Greeks now must look to America for a new scheme of life, according to Mrs. Anna Papadopouls, a member of the Grecian nobility, who holds twelve decorations for bravery at the front as a Red Cross nurse, including the first Cross of the Savior to be bestowed upon a woman by the government of her country.

Mrs. Papadopouls now is in Los Angeles to express her gratitude for the assistance given by Americans for relief work among the injured and sick Greek soldiers. She is affectionately called "Manna," the Greek for "mother of soldiers," by her people.

In connection with her tour Mrs. Papadopouls, a vivacious woman of 56 years, who, as she said, appears to be more than 70 because of the effects of her harrowing war experiences, discussed immigration, welfare and housing problems yesterday with Mrs. Adele S. Calhoun, director of the local offices of the State Commission of Immigration and Housing.

PATTERN ON AMERICA

"It is only in your country that we find ideal methods of organization and system of thinking and living that will meet my country's need for rehabilitation," Mrs. Papadopouls told Mrs. Calhoun.

"It is part of my purpose in coming here to learn American ways and then go back to open the eyes of my people; for the time has come when Greece must learn new ways of thinking if it is to progress as a nation and hold a place in modern world affairs. The long years of the wars destroyed the flower of our best people and drained our national spirit; wrecked our creative genius and broke down our customs and established thought. We must have a new order of things to replace our losses if Greece is to be restored to anything like her pristine glory."

IMMIGRATION LAW IRKS

Her one criticism of the United States was passed on its immigration laws, which require a Greek living in this country to go to Greece and bring his bride back with him if he desires to wed a girl living in his mother country, instead of permitting the girl to come here to be married.

Because of the expense this law is having the effect of forcing young Greeks to marry Greek women reared in this country. Greek girls reared here want to be "more than Americans" and are not often willing to adjust themselves to the domestic tranquillities and placid existence the young men want in their homes. The girls of Greece are trained to enjoy and be satisfied with their home life and have no other interests, she said.

HOUSE SPEAKER WINS APPLAUSE

supply to one of the most progressive communities in the country, I say it is not a local question but rather one of national importance.

"I repeat, that as speaker of the House it is my duty to see that all shades of opinion shall have ample opportunity to be heard and discussed. As speaker I must be absolutely neutral except when it comes to matters of party platform and party pledges. But with these reservations, I can properly say that to one of these pieces of legislation alluded to I can give every opportunity for an early consideration in the House at the next session."

Mr. Longworth then told his listeners that the country now is going through one of the greatest periods of prosperity that any country has ever seen. He gave warning, however, that this should not lead us into reckless extravagance. And so the government has been cutting to the bone on every possible item of expenditure in an effort at this opportune time to reduce the national debt, he stated. The result is that today we have reduced to $19,000,000,000 the national debt of $28,000,000,000 with which we came out of the World War. Taxes have been reduced and it is the hope that further reductions can be had early in the next Congress.

ARMY AND NAVY

"I am willing to cut to the bone on all but one branch of the government," he said. "I am absolutely unwilling to cut where such cut will interfere with an adequate Army and Navy. I am a supporter of any plan to be agreed upon by ourselves with other nations for a reduction of armaments, provided, however, that they suffer as much by proposed cuts as we do. As to the reduction of armaments, to the 5-5-3 basis at the last international reduction conference, I feel that while we are obliged not to exceed it, we are also obligated to the people of this government not to go below it."

Touching upon our form of government and the unsettled conditions in Europe as to governments, Mr. Longworth said that he never wants to see any division among the American people on the basis of race, religion or geography.

SOCIETY

BY MYRA NYE

More and more is the Southland coming to be a mecca for travelers in the summer time. Among the distinguished persons who are guests in Southern California or who recently have visited here are: Nicholas Longworth, speaker of the House of Representatives now at the Biltmore as was also very recently Charles Edison, son of Thomas A. Edison; Dr. Albaro Torre-Diaz, Governor of Yucatan, Mex., and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Godchaux, the rice king, from New Orleans. Capt. and Mrs. Cunningham Reid, the former a member of the British Parliament, are house guests of Mrs. Deighton Simpson.

There has been also an unusually large exodus to Europe of celebrities. Dr. and Mrs. Robert A. Millikan of 30 Palmetto Drive, Pasadena, sailed on the North German Lloyd liner, Berlin, the 12th inst. Dr. and Mrs. Millikan were accompanied by Dr. Millikan's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Millikan of Chicago.

Among those of the distinctly society group who are leaving for Europe or already have sailed are: Mr. and Mrs. William H. Peters of San Rafael, who go over every summer, and their daughter, Miss Helen Peters, leaving New York soon for several months abroad. Miss Peters was at the French School in New York last year. Dr. and Mrs. L. D. Ricketts of 349 South Grand avenue, Pasadena, will spend the month of August in Paris. Mrs. Suzanne Emery-Holmes who has been in the East for two months has decided to go on to England and France before returning home.

To Honolulu

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Brackenridge of South Pasadena sailed last Saturday for the Hawaiian Islands. Azusa Wedding

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Holden was the scene of a lovely wedding Sunday afternoon when Miss Irene H. Bouldin of Los Angeles became the bride of Earl F. Whitcomb of Glendora in the presence of immediate relatives and close friends. Rev. S. F. Shiffler of Tustin, former pastor of the Azusa Presbyterian Church, officiated.

Charming in a gown of white crepe elizabeth over satin with her long veil of tulle caught with a garland of orange blossoms, the bride carried a shower bouquet of bride roses, sweet peas and maiden hair fern.

The home was decorated artistically with baskets of gladioli of pastel shades and delphinium. Beneath a bell suspended from an arch twined with fern, sweet peas and tulle ribbons and a dove resting above the arch the ceremony took place. All the decorations carried out the bride's colors of pink and white.

"When Song is Sweet" was sung by Mrs. C. W. Bouldin accompanied by Mrs. George Bunn, followed by a violin solo "To a Wild Rose" by Miss Drucilla Bouldin accompanied by Mrs. Bouldin. During the ceremony Miss Bouldin played "At Dawning" accompanied by her mother. Following a ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Holden were host and hostess at a beautifully appointed breakfast.

Mrs. Whitcomb, the bride, is a graduate of the University of Southern California and Mr. Whitcomb of the University of California at Berkeley. After a honeymoon journey motoring throughout the northern part of the State the bride and bridegroom will be at home in Lynnwood.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

Mrs. W. M. D. writes:

"I enjoy your interesting column so much. Would like to know the answers to these questions. The baby was two months old today and weighed eleven pounds, having weighed seven and one-half at birth. Is this a sufficient gain in weight?

"I put her in bed at 6 o'clock and she sleeps until 4 the next morning. Would it be better to put her to bed earlier? Some of my friends put their babies to bed at 6 o'clock, but this seems too early to me after they have been asleep all day.

"Is belching of milk a sign of disordered digestion or of over-feeding? My baby belches a great deal with every nursing."

ANSWER

The baby has made a better than average gain, ten pounds being average weight at two months.

A baby can not sleep too much. If he sleeps eighteen to twenty hours out of the twenty-four that is so much the better. The baby's normal wakeful period will come from 4:30 or 5 until the bedtime at 6 o'clock, if the day begins at 6, otherwise the bedtime hour is 7. It is never wise to keep a baby awake in order that he will sleep better. It works just the other way, a baby who is put to bed at 6 or 7 will be a better sleeper always than the baby who learns to stay awake for long hours. Your friends are right.

If the baby spits up milk directly after nursing this indicates that he has taken too much into his stomach and it overflows. If the spitting up comes after about an hour or more of nursing it might indicate some digestive trouble, especially if the baby spits up hard lumps of curd or a watery liquid in which there are particles which look like cheese. Overfeeding might occasion this too, because over-feeding is a tax on the digestion.

CONSTANT COLD FEET

Mrs. I. E. C. writes:

"My six-months-old baby weighed six pounds at birth and now weighs sixteen and has three teeth. She is happy and seems healthy. Why are her legs and feet always cold and sweaty no matter how warmly she is dressed? What is the remedy?"

ANSWER

If the baby is dressed so warmly that she perspires, undoubtedly the feet would feel cool, because perspiration tends to cool the surface of the skin. In your endeavor to keep her hot in order to have her feet warm you are probably over-dressing her. Keep the baby cool. In hot weather it is nearly impossible to have on too few clothes. She may be wearing a tight binder and be bundled in clothes which give her no chance to exercise or move her legs about. This would certainly affect her circulation and cause cold feet.

FROM POMADE TO THE PULPIT

After having been a hairdresser for twenty-five years, F. W. Harvey of Wallasey, Cheshire, Eng., has realized his life-long ambition and has been ordained a deacon and regularly assigned to a curacy. Mr. Harvey has cherished this ampition since his boyhood but for one reason or another he was never able to see the fulfillment of his desire and it was not until a few years ago that circumstances made it possible for him to set about to achieve his aim.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

by Dr Frank McCoy

author of "The Four Ways to Health"

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy, who can be addressed in care of the Los Angeles Times. Inclose large stamped self-addressed envelope for reply.

SUMMER COLDS

Discharges of mucus from the nose and throat are almost as common in summer as in winter, and the causes are practically the same. The "food" causes of colds are overeating above the body's requirements, and using too much of the carbohydrates and hydrocarbons, that is, sugar, starch and fats.

It is surely true that most people eat two or three times as much food as the body can use for the building up and repair of tissue. Because of the colder weather in winter, such excesses of the heavy foods do not cause as much trouble because the oversupply of nourishment is oxidized and destroyed. For the three or four months of summer, the system is trying to get rid of excess heat rather than trying to retain it. If the same amount of food is used on a day in July as would ordinarily be used on a day in January, it represents only an added burden in weight and heat which must be eliminated. For example, if it is true that a person regularly eats twice as much as he needs in the wintertime, the same amount of food in July would be equal to perhaps four times as much as actually needed. This excess is the material out of which catarrhal mucus is developed. Colds in the summer may then start if the elimination from the skin is suddenly retarded.

If one takes an automobile ride on a hot day while freely perspiring, elimination from the pores may be suddenly checked by the influence of air blowing upon the head and chest. This produces congestion in the upper part of the body, and the toxins which are repressed pass around through the circulation and are thrown out through the protected membranes inside the nose and throat. Thus, a stuffed body with the skin elimination checked, must go through the phenomenon of "a cold" as a life-saving measure.

Those who are overfed are especially subject to infectious colds which may be contracted in indoor swimming pools. Even those who are very careful about their diet will actually catch one of these "swimming-pool colds" if they become enervated, which is so often the case with those who are spending a week-end, resting from the week's work. The water in outdoor swimming pools is well sterilized by the chemical rays of the sunlight so there is little danger of infection in these open-air pools.

To avoid colds this summer, eat less—cut down on heavy foods—keep the body well covered while motoring—and do your swimming in the open.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question: L. G. W. asks: "Will you kindly tell me what should be the reason that very often I have a burning pain at the back of my neck when I touch it or move my neck much? Also the reason for cold, clammy hands when my body is warm?"

Answer: There may be some trouble with a cervical vertebrae. If the burning pain is around the seventh cervical vertebrae it shows a malposition of one or more vertebrae in that section and this could also cause a poor circulation in your hands.

Q.: Mamie J. writes: "I am a sufferer from what doctors diagnose as "urticaria." It affects me with "welts" breaking out all over my body ranging from the size of a pea to that of a half dollar. They produce almost intolerable itching. What would you advise as a cure?"

A.: Eat good food combinations and drink plenty of water between meals, using from one to two quarts before luncheon, and the same amount during the afternoon.

Q.: Thank you writes: "I am writing asking if you think there is a cure for tubercular partinitas as I have been operated on three times and have been draining for about a year. Is there any particular cause for draining this long?"

A.: Your question probably refers to tubercular peritonitis. The reason for such long drainage is that you have gotten rid of your trouble and your life is being saved by the drainage. Fasting, dieting, exercising and other hygienic measures are necessary to get your blood in condition so that it will not be necessary for your peritoneum to throw out the tubercular exudation. Local treatments to the parts are of practically no value as a cure depends almost entirely upon constitutional treatment.

CHEF WYMAN'S Suggestions for TOMORROW'S MENU

Every Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southern California Manufacturers' Exhibit, 130 South Broadway.

Breakfast

Iced Melon
Omelet
Sour Cream Biscuits — Plum Jelly
Milk — Coffee

Luncheon

Tartlets of Eggs With Curry
Cold Slaw a La Touraine
Peach Sherbet
Iced Tea

Dinner

Southern Tomato Soup
Green Onions — Olives
Molded Mackerel
Potato Chips — Green Corn
Lettuce and Tomato
Raspberry Tarts
Iced Coffee

TARTLETS OF EGG WITH CURRY

Separate the yolks from the whites of four "hard boiled" eggs. Cut the whites in small cubes and force the yolks through a coarse strainer. Cook two tablespoonfuls butter with one-half tablespoonful onion finely chopped, until yellow. Add one tablespoonful cornstarch mixed with one teaspoonful curry powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt, and one-eighth teaspoonful of paprika. Pour on gradually, while stirring constantly, one and one-third cupfuls of scalded milk. Add whites of eggs and fill individual pastry cases with mixture, and sprinkle with yolks of eggs.

PASTRY CASES

Roll plain paste to one-fourth inch in thickness and cut in circular pieces. Fit pieces on an inverted tin gem pan, press lightly, and bake in hot oven until delicately browned.

COLD SLAW A LA TOURAINE

Select a small, heavy white cabbage, take off outside leaves, and cut cabbage in quarters. Slice one-half as thinly as possible, using a sharp knife. Soak in cold or iced water until crisp, drain and dry between towels. Arrange on a bed of water cress and cover with one small onion thinly sliced and separated into rings. Pour over a French dressing, to which a few drops onion juice are added, and garnish with rings of red and green peppers.

PEACH SHERBET

One and one-half tablespoonfuls of gelatine, two cupfuls of sugar, two cupfuls fresh or canned peaches, one cupful of hot water, one cupful of cream, one teaspoonful almond extract, one teaspoonful lemon juice.

Dissolve the gelatine in the water, then add the sugar and allow it to melt, then add the lemon juice and the almond extract. Cool and strain, then add the cream and the peaches. Freeze and serve in sherbet glasses.

MOLDED MACKEREL

Clean and cut a small mackerel in thick slices. Place in a kettle, cover with three cupfuls of cold water, and add one slice of onion, a sprig of parsley, a bit of bay leaf, two whole cloves, and six peppercorns (whole pepper;) simmer for an hour. Remove the fish and separate into pieces freed from skin and bones. To the liquor in which the fish was cooked, add one tablespoonful of gelatine, which has been soaked in one-fourth cupful of cold water. Season with salt and pepper. Strain into molds, which have been wet with cold water, placing pieces of the mackerel in the bottom. Chill, unmold on lettuce leaves, and serve with the following sauce: Beat one-half cupful of cream until stiff, add two tablespoonfuls of grated horseradish, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth teaspoonful of paprika, and one tablespoonful of vinegar.

THE NEW IN STORES AND HOMES

NOVELTIES, IDEAS AND PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS

By Olive Gray

"A Stitch in Time"

The old saying applies to household repairs as well as to clothing. A bit of glue, the hole in a rug, a spig of putty out, in a window pane, the sagged screen, the bulge in a piece of upholstery, the worn linoleum to be replaced: These, if taken in time, save many dollars and also preserve the appearance of the home. Summer is, pre-eminently, the time for such "stitch" taking; for, in summer, we live less conservatively, more campily, even in the city. Better to make these small repairs, from time to time, each costing but little, than to wait and find the whole a burdensome expense.

New Reptilian Note

A new note in reptilian, is that of adding to the leather sports coat or jacket, cuffs, collar and pocket flap of snake, lizzard or other reptile. Snakes have a way of creeping in, whatsoever the garment or accessory, it seems. Eve may not have foreseen the present revival of interest in her favorite reptile, but it is a revival most persistent.

Saint Pat Partnership

Could Eve and Saint Patrick have formed a partnership for the storing of reptile skins, what proportions would their joint hoardings have attained by now! And what wealth would be now represented thereby!

Short Skirts and Shoes

The poet of old who spoke so romantically of "her little feet which peeped in and out beneath her skirt, like mice at play,"—or something of the sort, would have opened wide eyes at the revelation of shoes today. No doubt the brevity of skirts has much to do with the stressing of fine footwear. In those olden times, when but the merest toe-tip was shown, women were not willing to devote so much of their costume cash to the purchase of shoes. Today, footwear is quite as important as headwear. And one, to be at all in the mode, must be provided with shoes matching every gown, frock, suit and wrap.

Creeping Upward

Another influence exercised by skirt brevity, is that upon hosiery. With skirts knee-length or even less, it becomes increasingly necessary that stockings be of the best, that they be of silk, full length. It has come to be so much a matter of course that stockings shall show, and that in no modest manner, that "silk from top to toe" is the slogan of the better grades in hosiery. That saving grace—in cash—the garter top, with its "no-run" tendency—is rapidly yielding to the silken top, however reckless to the clothes budget.

One Girl's Way

One of the girls who really does keep within her dress budget, purchases night-robes of the imported, hand-embroidered sort, and cuts them down to make slips. These, she buys at sales for a small amount, compared with the raw material for slips, and since they are really shadow-proof, they form excellent underclings, protective and warranted not to enlarge the silhouette.

"A Ponderous Gait"

Thus does a famous Paris couturier inveigh against low heels—declaring that they produce a "ponderous gait." I wonder. Or is it that most of those choosing low heels already have this gait and are unable to assume the fairy-footedness which goes with high heels and a light avoirdupois—which lends poise to the figure?

"Black for Fall"

This the dress slogan for the well-dressed woman. Yes, black, but not the conservative black, usually thought of in connection with the color. Black—to be sure—but a dashing, vivacious black. Frocks embodying all the extreme lines—flounces, frills, quaint features undreamed in black connection heretofore. In a word, a new black, a youthful black, far from conservatism, remote from commonplace. Undescribable in variedness, envivifying in novelty, the new black frocks and gowns, hats and wraps must be seen to be appreciated.

The Reverse

Nor does the black slogan mean absence of color from the feminine wardrobe. Far away from this. Color, and marvelous color, will be found in the costuming of milady, throughout the autumn and winter months. Color vivid, color unexampled, will come forth in the new silks, velvets and woolens for the advancing season. Thus shall every woman find that which is to her most becoming.

Fashion's Indications

Sometimes a higher waistline is suggested by two or three belts.

In hats, the hair braids are extremely smart in the large models.

The smartest new neckties are fashioned from small-figured silks.

The well-dressed woman now wears printed lawn for afternoon functions.

More velvet jackets and velvet evening coats are seen as the season advances.

For her tea-dancing frock the young girl chooses chiffon, or lace and chiffon.

Walking sticks of the heavy English type, with amber handles, are the fashion.

For the garden party a printed chiffon in flowere design is worn over white silk.

A dress of white silk, banded in navy blue, is very smart looking.

Hats of felt, painted to resemble snake skin, are a fashionable fad.

Shoulder capes, or fichus, adorn many light-colored chiffon dresses.

The round neck is noted in the new collections of some of the French designers.

Marriage Found Void Because of Previous Union

Two months after she married him Betty Barnes found out not only that Ray Barnes was not her exclusive husband, but that he was not her husband at all.

BETTY BARNES.

"At the time he married me he was married to some one else, and he knew it," she testified in Judge Falk's court yesterday. "He told me he was single, but he knew that he only had an interlocutory decree from his former wife. Two months after the wedding he admitted it, and I left him.

"The next man I marry will have to show a certificate of title."

Her attorney, John M. Dvorin, asked the court to find the marriage void, and this was done.

Verdugo Municipal Playground will be opened today with an informal program of child sports and with President Beecher of the Los Angeles Playground and Recreation Department and President Bonelli of the City Council making addresses. The new playground, at Verdugo Road and Avenue 26, comprising ten acres, is the twenty-eighth recreation area in the city. Improvements to the new site are temporary. For nearly two years the site has been bisected by a storm drain which is the subject of litigation.

TOKIO HOP TIME LIMIT EXTENDED

Two Years Will Be Given Aviators Trying to Win $30,000 Grauman Prize

Aviators will be allowed two years instead of one in which to make a nonstop Los Angeles-to-Tokio flight for the $30,000 as a result of conferences between the theater man and the aviation committee of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, under the auspices of which the flight is to be made.

As head of the transportation committee of the chamber, H. R. Brashear made this announcement yesterday. The time limit dates from the 1st inst.

Eager to stimulate immediate competition, Grauman recommended a one-year limit. More conservative experts held out for a three-year period. The compromise was effected this week.

Because of weather conditions, it was pointed out, only four months each year are suitable for the trip, June, July, August and September. It is reported that several planes now are being built for the journey, but will not be ready before October 1, at which time of the year typhoons are said to be imminent.

Following is the final set of regulations as adopted by Grauman and the Chamber of Commerce committee:

The flight shall be made either from Los Angeles to Tokio or from Tokio to Los Angeles.

If made with a land airplane, point of departure and point of arrival shall be within a radius of fifty miles of Tokio or fifty miles of Los Angeles. If the flight be made in a seaplane, point of departure and point of arrival shall be within the three-mile limit in coastal waters of Los Angeles, or on any inland waters within fifty miles of Tokio or fifty miles of Los Angeles.

The flight shall be a nonstop flight between these two points, without refueling.

Competition shall be open to aviators or airplanes of any nation of the world having affiliations with the Federation Aeronautique Internationale.

All contestants and airplanes flying from Los Angeles district, as defined in rule 1, must qualify under the air regulations of the Aeronautic Branch of the United States Department of Commerce.

Each contestant properly must fill out an entry form, which will be furnished upon application, and the form must be filed with the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, accompanied by a certified check for $200 as an entrance fee, to be made out to the contest committee of the National Aeronautic Association, Los Angeles, and noting thereof sent immediately to the trustees of the $30 Grauman prize. The application must be filed not less than thirty days before flight is started.

Educators Give Dinner in Honor of Dr. Sdgerton

Dr. Alanson H. Edgerton, professor of industrial education and fine arts in the University of Wisconsin, and president of the National Vocational Guidance Association, was guest last evening of the Vocational Guidance Association of Southern California at a dinner given in his honor at the Y.M.C.A. Building, 715 South Hope street.

Dr. Edgerton is closing two courses at the University of California summer school on vocational guidance and industrial arts.

At the dinner, which was attended by about 100 key persons in the educational institutions and industries of Southern California, Dr. Edgerton discussed vocational guidance from a national point of view. Nicholas Riccardi, newly appointed commissioner of secondary and vocational education of California, discussed the same subject from a State point of view.

Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, Vierling Kersey and Frank Bouelle gave toasts in honor of the visiting professor.

Raymond B. Dunlap read some original poems and Herbert P. Clark gave some readings from Walt Mason. Dr. Lewis A. Maverick acted as chairman of the evening.

Lectures to be Given Today on Vocation Topic

Cosgrove Murphy will lecture today at 8 p.m. and again this evening at 8 p.m. in the lecture room of the Manufacturers Exhibit, Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway, on vocational guidance.

Employees of industrial firms in Southern California are expected to find much profit in hearing Murphy's descriptions of individual characteristics.

This lecture on vocational guidance is free to the public, through the courtesy of the merchants and manufacturers who are co-operating in making this permanent exposition of industrial progress a success. It is a weekly event for each Thursday, and is one of the series of lecture services which are being put into effect.

DRAMA TO BE GIVEN

"The Redcoat" Will Be Presented at Shrine Auditorium

"The Redcoat," a colonial drama by Muriel Culp Berry of Glendale, will be presented at the Shrine Auditorium on the evenings of September 7, 8 and 9, next, according to announcement made yesterday by the author of the play.

"Gross receipts for the second night of the performance will be donated toward the funds being raised for the rehabilitation of Greenville, Miss., devastated by the recent floods," said Mrs. Berry.

Mrs. Berry, who is seeking the support of civic and patriotic organizations for the successful presentation of the drama, said the headquarters of the Redcoat Association is at 422 Loew's State Building. According to Mrs. Berry, the executive committee of the organization is comprised of more than a score of influential business and professional persons.

Commercial air routes of Europe cover 90,000 miles.

Woman Named to Head Civil Service Body

Election of Miss Mary J. Workman as president of the City Civil Service Commission and the calling of a special meeting Friday for the selection of a vice-president was announced at the commission's office yesterday.

No vice-president was chosen at the time Miss Workman was named president because only three commissioners were present and it would have been necessary for one of them either to move or second a motion for his own election to the office.

Col. R. W. Richardson, president of the Nebraska Association, yesterday issued what he said is the final call for the Nebraska reunion in Bixby Park, Long Beach. The reunion will continue all day Saturday, with a basket dinner.

MASKED POLE SITTER TAKES OFF DISGUISE

After eight days of wearing a black silk mask over his face, the man who has been perched on top of the flag pole at Eighth and Spring streets has taken off his mask. It was not to reveal his identity, however, as that still remains a mystery, but continuous wearing of masks chafed his face so much that it was necessary to remove the covering. He says he is determined to remain atop the pole for eighteen days, to break the record of seventeen days and two hours, made recently in Massachusetts.

Change of Name of First Street Given Approval

The change of name of First street to Beverly Boulevard from Broadway to Glendale Boulevard was forecast yesterday as the result of the City Council's action in approving the name change from Glendale Boulevard to Commonwealth avenue.

Property owners on Temple street also had asked that the name Beverly Boulevard be given Temple street from Glendale Boulevard to Broadway, but the First-street proponents won the battle before the City Council.

The change of name of First street had been asked by the Northwest Improvement Association, Westlake Hills Association and other organizations.

IRVINE DIVORCE CONTEST BITTER

Wife Charges Orange County Rancher Philanderer

Numerous Corespondents Told of on Witness Stand

Husband Slated to Counter With Grievances Today

James Irvine, Jr., wealthy Orange county rancher and son of one of California's prominent families, may go on the stand today to make counter charges against his wife, Madeline Irvine, in the trial of her suit for separate maintenance and his cross-suit for divorce before Superior Judge Guerin.

Mrs. Irvine took the stand as the first witness in her own behalf at the opening of the trial yesterday morning, following a long wrangle between lawyers on legal points involving the admission of certain testimony.

GRIEVANCES RECITED

A long history of infidelities and cruelties was recited by Mrs. Irvine, who described in detail gay parties in Los Angeles and at their ranch home, on which affairs Mrs. Irvine is largely basing her separate maintenance action.

At a party in Los Angeles during July, 1925, just before their separation, her husband was overly attentive to one Adele Richardson, Mrs. Irvine charged. She said that the next morning Irvine told her he was going to get a divorce because he "preferred other girls."

When she objected, Mrs. Irvine said, he declared he would file suit in Orange county, telling her, "When it's all over you'll be in the gutter."

CHARGES INFIDELITY

Reviewing their married life, Mrs. Irvine recited instances of his asserted intimacies with other women, stating that at one time she returned from Honolulu to find a Ruth Robinson in her home at Ninth and Irolo with her husband.

As an instance of Irvine's cruelty, she related that following a party on New Year's Eve, 1924, he blacked both her eyes.

Mrs. F. Turley followed Mrs. Irvine to the stand, adding to the latter's stories an instance during a house party at the ranch. Mrs. Turley mentioned the name of Lucile Johnstonbaugh, one of the guests.

MARRIED IN BAY CITY

The Irvines were married in San Francisco in 1914, according to the testimony, and were separated August 1, 1925. Mrs. Irvine said she was 19 at the time of their marriage.

She declares her husband's wealth totals $6,000,000. She asks $5000 monthly separate maintenance, and $50,000 attorneys' fees.

Irvine's cross-complaint charges intoxication, cruelty and disgraceful public conduct. There are no children by the marriage.

New Witness Heard in Hindu Slaying Case

Going directly into the causes for renewal of murder charges against Mohammed Jack, accused as the slayer of Mohammed Gulam and Mohammed Baksh, fellow countrymen, in an argument about a fertilizer contract, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Fisher yesterday called to the stand in preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge Westover, another countryman to whom the defendant is said to have confessed his crime.

Shah Mohammed, one of four Hindus to whom Jack is said to have boasted his "getting away with murder," occupied the stand during most of the day's session and told how he, with the other three, had listened to the defendant's boast and then told their stories to the District Attorney's office.

Jack is accused of having shot the two men on the night of March 19, last, as they slept in their Glendora ranch-house.

Rail Company Named in Suit for $108,176

Declaring she suffered permanent injuries when struck by an automobile delivery car at First and Cummings streets January 7, last, Miss Eva Forshaw yesterday brought suit for $108,176 damages against the Los Angeles Railway Corporation, said to be the owner of the car.

Miss Forshaw stated she was in the act of entering a safety zone when the automobile struck her. She declared the vehicle was traveling at a high rate of speed and dragged her about twenty feet before stopping. Before the accident Miss Forshaw said, she was engaged in business and earning about $450 a month.

Her complaint was prepared by Attorney H. D. Papa Dakis.

PRISONER LIBERATED PENDING HER APPEAL

Anita Davis

ANITA DAVIS RELEASED UNDER BOND

Woman in Kerrick Death Case Quits Jail as Result of Physician's Report

Anita Davis, one of the five persons convicted of manslaughter in connection with the shooting of Tom Kerrick, cinema cowboy, was released from the County Jail yesterday by Judge Hardy on $5000 bond pending her appeal from sentence to San Quentin.

The court's order releasing Mrs Davis was made following the receipt of a report from Dr. Benjamin Blank, County Jail physician who stated that in his opinion Mrs Davis's health is such that further confinement would be greatly injurious to her.

Motion to release Mrs Davis on bond pending her appeal was made by her attorney, Stanley Visel, more than a week ago, but hearing on the motion was delayed to permit Dr. Blank to complete his examination.

Dr. Blank reported yesterday that Mrs. Davis had failed to respond to treatment and that her condition was steadily growing worse. With these findings before him, Judge Hardy summoned Visel into court and advised him the motion would be granted. Visel put up a personal bond for Mrs. Davis, saying he did so because he believed she would die in jail if her confinement continued.

Youth's Death at Montebello Termed Suicide

Ill health is believed to have caused the suicide of Maynard Dunbar, 22 years of age, in his father's home at Third street and Whittier Boulevard, Montebello, yesterday afternoon.

His father, E. N. Dunbar, had just returned from a trip to Compton, where he had made arrangements to have his son placed in a sanitarium for treatment following a nervous breakdown. As the father drove into the yard of his home he heard a shot. When he entered the house he found his son lying on the floor with a bullet hole in his temple. He called Dr. M. J. Brown, but when the physician arrived the youth was dead.

Chief of Police Hollis attributed the death to suicide and turned the body over to Coroner Nance, who placed it in the A. H. Moritz undertaking parlors at Montebello.

FILM GROUP TO GIVE LAWN FETE CIRCUS

Buck Jones and his troop of screen folk will give a society circus at a lawn fete for the benefit of Christ Episcopal Church, Sherman, at the Charles F. Evans rancho after the actor completes the picture on which he is working. Mrs. Edgar Norton of Hollywood is chairman of the committee which is preparing the event. Proceeds will be used to complete the church building. Mrs. Jones, formerly a performer with the 101 Ranch Show, will present a circus act featuring her 9-year-old daughter, Maxine. Clowns are to be under the direction of William Caress, once a Ringling funny man, and Mrs. Tantlinger will offer a shooting act. Another feature of the show will be twenty dancing film girls.

Newton's Law Not Engrossed in State Code

Sir Isaac Newton and his first law of motion were routed yesterday by the California Vehicle Act in a friendly little joust before Municipal Judge Valentine in which Miss Betty Fisher, as exponent of the Newtonian theory, paid a $10 fine.

Momentum was the reason Miss Fisher advanced for her being arrested at Sixth and Union streets for driving too fast.

"I stepped on the gas to go up the hill and was going so fast the momentum just carried me on down the grade," she told Judge Valentine.

"Well, the law of motion may be recognized in physics but the laws of California do not recognize it," said Judge Valentine, "at least they demand brakes to offset such a law."

NEW ROOM FOR COMMITTEE

The Monday-afternoon meetings of the City Council's Finance Committee hereafter will be held in room 22 at the City Hall, which is the public hearing room of the Board of Public Works, Chairman Alber of the committee said the use of this room will enable the public to attend committee meetings.

PUBLIC WORKS HEAD OUSTED

Eldridge, Administration Favorite, Succeeds McGuire, Who Vetoed Adams Storm-Drain Extras

The Parrot-Cryer city administration, which has had the ax out for President Hugh J. McGuire of the Board of Public Works ever since McGuire refused to approve the $296,985 bill of extras for the West Adams storm drain, swung the weapon yesterday and ousted McGuire as president of the board. Commissioner Arthur Eldridge, who with Commissioner Dunn approved West Adams storm-drain extras assessments after President McGuire refused to do so, was elected president of the board.

Commissioner Delorey, who was especially bitter at McGuire's action in starting under way the investigation of conditions in the city's public works inspection department by means of his action on the West Adams storm-drain extras, made the motion that Commissioner Eldridge be elected president for the ensuing year. Commissioner Horn, organized labor's representative on the board, seconded the motion. Knowing that the administration had the votes, President McGuire voted for Eldridge with Commissioners Dunn, Horn and Delorey. Commissioner Eldridge was excused from voting.

Commissioner Delorey in a few remarks before handing the Parrot-Cryer ax to McGuire, said McGuire had made a good president but that Delorey believed in rotation in office. After the election of Eldridge, Delorey was re-elected vice-president of the board.

As president of the board, Eldridge will sign the public-improvement assessment rolls before they are sent to the City Council. In the West Adams storm-drain extras assessments, President McGuire refused to sign the assessment roll and it was then signed by Commissioners Dunn and Eldridge, as provided for by the charter when the president of the board declines to sign.

Commissioner Eldridge is a staunch member of the City Hall political administration and is being groomed for Mayor in case Mayor Cryer should resign. Eldridge was executive secretary to Mayor Snyder, then efficiency director before his appointment by Mayor Cryer to the Public Works Board.

City Rock Land Purchase Hit by Tax Association

A strong protest against the proposed purchase by the city of gravel land in the San Gabriel wash, so that the city may produce its own rock and gravel, was made yesterday in a resolution adopted by the city committee of the California Taxpayers' Association and forwarded to the City Council. The association declares it has investigated the project and is convinced that the city would incur a loss at the price asked for the land by producing rock and gravel instead of purchasing in the open market at present prices.

The association also adopted a resolution declaring that the rental to be paid by the county for the use of the new City Hall tower for courtrooms is too low and that the city will lose money on the deal. The resolution, which was sent to the Board of Supervisors suggests that it should increase the amount voluntarily.

Girls Witness Mary Pickford Picture Work

Mary Pickford demonstrated how pictures are made when she showed her thirteen "best girls" through the United Artists studio yesterday. The girls, who are spending a thirteen-day vacation as guests of the film star, watched their hostess working in "My Best Girl."

Will Morrissey and Midgie Miller represented Hollywood's stage colony at a special luncheon at Paulais's with entertainment features. The girls attended a theater party at the Hollywood Play House last night. A buffet supper in the theater patio concluded the day's program.

Today the "lucky thirteen" are scheduled for a trip to Catalina, where they will be welcomed by William Wrigley. Tomorrow they will take a motor tour in charge of Stephen Nerney, winding up the day with a special dance at El Patio Ballroom.

BALLOT ON DISTRICTING HELD SURE

Referendum Petition Gets 17,343 Signatures from Voters of Los Angeles

County Registrar of Voters Kerr yesterday announced that he had certified the supplemental referendum petition against the so-called Farm Bureau plan for reapportionment of the State which was enacted into law by the last Legislature.

The petition, he stated, contained 17,343 signatures of qualified electors. These signatures, together with those from San Francisco and Alameda counties, he predicted, will be more than sufficient to place the proposition on the ballot.

Harbor Board Orders Reply to Councilmen

The Harbor Commission yesterday authorized an answer to the report of the City Council's Harbor Committee which opposed rail unification and a classification yard at the local port.

General Manager Cole of the Harbor Department was instructed by the commission to investigate all of the facts in regard to the proposed plan to unify the rail lines and establish a classification yard and write the answer. He was told to submit his communication to the individual members of the commission before mailing it to all Councilmen and the newspapers and civic bodies in order that it may be in accord with the views of all the commissioners.

The Harbor Committee's report was adopted by the Council recently.

NEW PLAN FOR MRS. KENNEDY

Temple Committee Urges Return to Husband

Never Divorced Engineer W. Whittebeck

Evangelist's Mother Expected to Ignore Proposal and my daughter did not call me again."

The statement Mrs. McPherson made public last night was drafted, she said, by a committee composed of five temple members, representing all the temple's affiliated branches, as well as the main church, supplementing three proposals she had previously made to Mrs. Kennedy, and was signed by D. V. Alderman, chairman, she said.

The statement, in substance, follows:

"We are shocked and grieved that Mrs. Kennedy should attack her evangelist daughter. She has no quarrel with Mrs. McPherson. We, the church, wanted the change in business management.

"The board of the church desires that Mrs. Kennedy be cared for in splendid style and would be delighted to assist her in working out these several courses open to her:

"(1.) Mrs. Kennedy might remain with honor and respect as the evangelist's mother.

"(2.) Mrs. Kennedy might tour the world or take a trip to the Holy Land at the expense of the church, who would, we believe, contribute to the fund for a vacation so well deserved.

"(3.) Mrs. Kennedy might permanently entertain work in other fields as she has suggested.

"(4.) Mrs. Kennedy might return to her wealthy husband, Mr. W. Whittebeck, who is a well-to-do engineer on a big Hudson River liner. He lives in New York, where Mrs. Kennedy resided until eight years ago, when she joined Mrs. McPherson."

Although F. H. Whitfield, an attorney, was in conference with Mrs. Kennedy several hours yesterday, she denied that any legal action against her daughter was contemplated at this time, and stated that she was merely "talking it over with Mr. Whitfield in the course of discussion about other matters."

STRIKES AT MOTHER

Mrs. McPherson struck back at her mother in no uncertain terms last night when she issued a second statement she said was only one of five she had collected, and which was purported to have been made by Miss Letha Brooks, asserting that Mrs. Kennedy had openly threatened to "break and crush her and drive her from every pulpit in America and abroad, Mrs. Kennedy bitterly denied the assertion.

Mrs. Brooks's statement in part reads:

"Mrs. Kennedy told me she would break sister, crush her and drive her from every pulpit in America. She also said she would draw everything out of the temple accounts and when sister returned would fool her with bills. She would have no cash, and the temple would go into the hands of a receiver. She said she would drive sister to her knees."

C. E. Jaynes, pastor of the Riverside branch of the temple, and characterized by Mrs. Kennedy as the leader of Mrs. McPherson's "insurrectionists," and R. H. Morrison, head of the musical department of the temple, also made statements in writing corroborating Miss Brooks, Mrs. McPherson said.

Mrs. Kennedy placed the blame for the present trouble, which threatens to reach the civil courts, squarely on the shoulders of her daughter and enumerated two specific "breaches of religious etiquette" which she says she cannot help but answer.

SPITE WORK DENIED

"The most insulting and unjust accusation of the many that have been made by Mrs. McPherson was made from Angelus Temple pulpit," Mrs. Kennedy said, "when my daughter, before the world, told her congregation that I had not countersigned pay checks for temple employees, and that they could not get their money. The insinuation cast was that it was spite work on my part. The unjustness of such a statement is shown by the fact that the account on which the checks were drawn is in both our names. Her name on the check is as good as mine."

Three options which Mrs. McPherson announced Sunday that she had placed before her mother, which included one that Mrs. Kennedy could leave the temple entirely, yet draw an income from it for the remainder of her life, were characterized by Mrs. Kennedy as "ultimatums of the most unjust nature."

Hints purported to have been made by Mrs. Kennedy that she did not believe her daughter's account of her disappearance, following which Mrs. McPherson mysteriously reappeared and told a weird tale of having been kidnaped, were denied by Mrs. Kennedy yesterday.

"My only statement, made in answer to an inquiry as to whether I was satisfied with the ending of the kidnaping case, was that I have always felt that Kenneth Ormiston could have cleared Mrs. McPherson by revealing who was with him at Carmel. I have never intimated that I didn't believe her story.

OUT OF QUESTION

"Every effort has been made by newspaper reporters to revive the kidnaping case and get me to commit myself. But this I have refused to do. This trouble has nothing to do with the disappearance of Mrs. McPherson and I don't propose to have it brought into our present differences."

News that Mrs. Kennedy had admitted the breach between herself and daughter still exists, rather than pacified as Mrs. McPherson had announced, caused a collapse of the evangelist at her home yesterday morning, her aides announced. Mrs. McPherson did not appear at the temple for the afternoon or evening services being confined to her bed because of "shock," the aides said.

An ultimatum that she will talk with her mother only through attorneys representing both was issued by the evangelist, Mrs. Kennedy declared yesterday, and announced that she had retained counsel.

CONFERENCES DENIED

"The situation has become nearly intolerable when it has reached the point where I can talk to my daughter only through an attorney," Mrs. Kennedy sobbed. "She ordered me to get an attorney and said she would do the same, and hereafter all our conferences would be through attorneys only. That is certainly unChristianlike," she added.

Mrs. McPherson's various announcements to the effect that she and her mother were holding conferences in an effort to decide their future course were denied by the mother, who said:

"Mrs. McPherson continues to tell the press that everything has been satisfactorily settled at conferences, when as a matter of fact she has not given me one conference since her return from Alton, Ill."

"MAILED FIST" RULE

Early yesterday morning Mrs. McPherson issued a statement denying she had ordered her mother to Taft, as charged by Mrs. Kennedy.

"Those who know my mother know she can't be ordered any place," Mrs. McPherson said.

The first sample of Mrs. McPherson's asserted "mailed-fist" rule which she was said to have planned for future temple operations was reported by the ousted mother yesterday.

"I prepared a small article on the services held Monday night at Taft," Mrs. Kennedy said, "and took it to the editorial office of our temple paper, which I founded. This morning I learned it will not appear, and on inquiry found that Mrs. McPherson had ordered the editor not to run it."

FOOD-LADEN BARBER MISSING

Coworkers Fear He Has Fallen Victim of Indigestion on Trip to San Francisco With Much Meat and Plenty of Pastry

Business men, State employees and coworkers were very much concerned yesterday over the prolonged absence of Charlie Auler, popular barber, dog fancier and boxing expert in the Sun Finance Building.

The chief cause of the worry over the yet unexplained delay in the return of Auler from a vacation trip was the fact that he is known to have taken with him three hams, two roasts of beef, six loaves of bread, seven jars of pickles and five layer cakes as a side line to his regular meals.

Also, it was stated in the office where the boxing barber's chair stands vacant all day, reports have filtered back from San Jose that Charlie is suffering from acute indigestion.

Scant attention was given these rumors when first received because it is known that Charlie took two of his dogs along as company to assist him in eating the cold roast beef. Yesterday, however, several of his customers, who are waiting his return before getting their hair cut, and his fellow-workers grew more anxious and talked of organizing a search expedition with an ambulance and a corps of doctors and nurses to cover the highways between here and San Francisco.

Fear was also expressed that Charlie may have forgotten to drive his automobile at the slow and steady pace to which he is accustomed and become careless enough to "open her up to thirty miles an hour or so," and for that reason met with a mishap. It was stated that before leaving he estimated his customary rate of speed would not take him into San Francisco until the fourth day out.

Worried over his absence and lack of word his colleagues expressed themselves as very much conscience-stricken. They admitted that they will be to blame for anything that may have occurred to Charlie because they feel their joshes may have goaded him into reckless eating and driving.

It was explained that they chided him that he would never reach San Francisco if he drove at the speed to which he is accustomed. Also, that he took the huge supply of food along to cut his food cost and enable him to win a gilt-edged razor which they promised as a prize if his expenses did not amount to more than $25.

Incidentally, if the fears are justified and anything has happened to Charlie the State has lost one of its best-known barbers, for he is said to have shaved more Governors and other State executives than any other man in Southern California.

BANKER STRIPPED OF CLOTHES AND CASH BY FAIR COMPANIONS

Found roaming aimlessly about the back yard of a residence on Gladys Court, Long Beach, clad only in a suit of underwear, last night, a man whom police admit to be vice-president of a Long Beach bank stated to Capt. C. F. Robertson that he had been robbed of his clothing and $195 in cash by companions. As a result of his statement, two comely young women, one said to be a waitress, were questioned at length by Capt. Robertson and detectives and were later released because, police said, the banker declined to prosecute.

The name of the banker, identity of the girls and all details of the affair are being closely guarded by police, the only information given out being that orders had been issued to keep the incident out of the newspapers because of the victim's family.

Police officers assigned to the case admitted that they still are searching for the bank official's trousers, the other articles of clothing having been found, and that the money also is still missing.

TWELVE DECIDE ANNEXATION

Dozen Votes Add Ninety-one Acres to Los Angeles in Wiseburn Area

Just an even dozen votes yesterday added ninety-one acres of land to the area of Los Angeles and increased the city's population by several score of men, women and children.

The dozen votes in the affirmative were cast at the Wiseburn addition election. Seven votes were cast against annexation.

FORD AIRPLANE ARRIVES HERE

and one-half hours. The entire trip from Chicago to Los Angeles was made in thirty-one hours actual flying time.

OVER BOULDER DAM SITE

The air tourists were particularly enthusiastic about their bird's-eye view of the Grand Canyon, which J. P. Van Zandt declared, was the most beautiful sight he ever witnessed. They flew over the site of the proposed Boulder Dam and also made a side trip to Bryce Canyon.

Incidentally, Van Zandt, a veteran air pilot, pointed it that the big plane took off as easily from the airport at Williams, Ariz., 7000 feet above sea level, as at any ordinary field, a feat which many aviation experts hitherto had believed impossible, owing to the rarity of the atmosphere.

Maddux said he has no definite plans as to what he will do with the air cruiser, but intimated that it is the nucleus of a fleet which eventually will be carrying passengers from Los Angeles to many other parts of the United States. The craft has a maximum speed of 124 miles an hour, according to Engineer Mayo, and averaged 100 miles for the entire distance.

The Detroit party will remain in the city for several days and will be guests of the Chamber of Commerce. According to announcement yesterday the plane will leave the local airport at 11 a.m. today for Long Beach, where the Detroiters will be the guests of the Chamber of Commerce of that city at luncheon at the Pacific Coast Club. The reception committee will consist of officials of the chamber, D. B. Skinner, superintendent of recreation, Capt William A. Frye, head of Long Beach Chapter, National Aeronautical Association; Mayor Hauge and City Manager Calahan. The plane will land at the municipal airport and is scheduled to return to Rogers Airport late this evening.

The gigantic plane has been purchased by J. L. Maddux, president of Maddux, Inc., but he is reticent concerning his plans. The pilot, Fritz, will remain in Los Angeles for several weeks, as instructor and advisor. Maddux would neither confirm nor deny that he intends to operate an air transport between Los Angeles and San Francisco, but such is understood to be his purpose.

The craft is of monoplane type, equipped with three revolving motors, with three steel propellers. The interior resembles that of a Pullman chair car, affording ample space for a dozen passengers without undue crowding.

TWO ESCAPE IN CRASH OF AIRPLANE

SANTA MONICA, July 27. (Exclusive)—An airplane driven by Harry F. Teams of 3503 Cassias street, Los Angeles, and with Arthur Stuart of 626 San Vicente Boulevard, Sherman, as passenger, hit an electric wire at the east side of Clover Field today and cracked up. Teams was not injured and Stuart suffered only slight cuts.

The men had flown to Rogers Airport to see the welcome to the Ford liner, but had not landed because of the crowd there. Their crash came when they returned to Clover Field. Both men were employed at the field as mechanics and had borrowed the plane, an old Curtis Jenny, from Leo Nomis.

LOVERS IN RUSH TO BEAT LAW

Marriage License Bureau Stormed by 246 Bent on Avoiding Delay

A bargain-counter rush on the marriage-license bureau yesterday was the answer to 123 loving couples, intent on matrimonial bliss, to the new law requiring three-day notice of intention to wed. The new law goes into effect tomorrow and the 246 prospective newlyweds who stormed the marriage-license bureau yesterday frankly admitted that they wanted to get "under the wire" and avoid the three-day wait.

Clerks at the bureau, suffering somewhat from writer's cramp, said that the total of licenses issued yesterday was near a record for one day.

Colleen Moore and Husband Add Ha... John Gilbert Joins Movie Throng at W... Rumor George O'Brien Quitting F...

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

It looks as though Colleen Moore and John McCormick are out to make a whole summer season of it while they're about it.

Colleen Moore

Word reaches us that Miss Moore and her husband are going to extend their yachting trip in Southern waters, in their new craft, the Heigh-Ho. Instead of ending their trip at New Orleans, as they had expected, these First National luminaries will visit Havana, Cuba, cruising about the waters there, and then return to New Orleans, whence they will come home. They will send their yacht to Los Angeles via Panama, according to present plans, returning from New Orleans on the train.

Richard Rowland of First National will accompany them home.

There is a question as to whether "Lilac Time" will be Miss Moore's next vehicle, according to word received from the First National studios. What story will be substituted is not known to studio officials at this time.

Jack Gilbert to Washington

It does seem as though the national capital is destined to become a regular movie center, what with Will Rogers and everybody moving on to Washington, D. C., to take pictures.

Yesterday Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer announced that, for the purpose of using the nation's capital as a background, Director Monta Bell, John Gilbert and the unit starring Gilbert in "Fires of Youth" will leave today for that place, where work on the picture will begin the day following their arrival. Gilbert is to play the role of a cub reporter at Washington.

JOHN GILBERT

Arrangements have been completed to use as backgrounds most of the historical and otherwise famous spots at the American capital, including the White House, the Capitol buildings, the Washington Monument and the zoological gardens.

The director has been assured that the national buildings will be fully lighted for a special night shot of the picture, and the District of Columbia government will extend all courtesies necessary to place on the screen a correct and interesting background of Washington life.

Bell plans to film a great many of the famous people now in Washington, including Chief Justice William Howard Taft and other members of the Supreme Court, many of the foreign ambassadors and other members of the Diplomatic Corps, as well as some of the most notable of both the upper and lower houses of Congress.

O'Brien May Quit Fox

Rumor is rife to the effect that George O'Brien is planning to leave Fox, following a request on his part for more money and a refusal on the part of Fox officials to grant it.

The young actor, it is further reported, is planning to visit Europe. He is now in New York.

O'Brien has been one of the greatest film favorites Fox has ever had. He has played numerous and varied roles.

Gilbert Roland May Do It

There is a question, after all, whether Barton Hepburn will play the male lead in D. W. Griffith's next picture.

The latest word is to the effect that some difficulty has arisen between Hepburn and the director, with the result that Gilbert Roland may be assigned the part.

Ken Maynard's New Western

Parking his dancing pumps and unsalicking his hair, Ken Maynard started work on his next "epic" of the West yesterday. The story is "Gun Gospel," by W. H. Hoffman, and Virginia Brown Faire has the leading feminine role.

The remainder of the cast includes J. P. McGowan, Noah Young, Romaine Fielding, Bob Fleming, Slim Whittaeker, Bill Dyer, Jerry Madden, and of course, Tarzan, the equine actor.

King-Pin Heavy Assigned

Fred Kohler, picturesquely styled "wolf of the screen," by the hard-working Paramount press department, should have been a pack of whatever aggregation it is that wolves travel around in. He is the busiest screen villain in Hollywood.

B. P. Schulberg announced yesterday that Kohler will play the heavy in the forthcoming George Bancroft

WAR FILM STILL HAS GREATNESS

"The Big Parade" Remains Best of Kind; Crowd Storms Criterion

BY MARQUIS BUSBY

"The Big Parade" is still the greatest of war pictures.

In the two years since this picture was last seen on the screen at the Egyptian Theater there have been other war pictures—some bad ones and some very good ones. But "The Big Parade" has yet to be surpassed.

Yesterday this picture returned to Los Angeles, this time showing at the Criterion Theater. That the public remembered it was attested by the throng in front of the theater. I have not seen such lines at the Criterion in five years. If the opening night is any standard the war romance could run on into the fall.

It is not difficult to explain why "The Big Parade" is a great picture. There are stupendous scenes, war sequences that are almost unbearable in their brutality, but the human note is never lost. It isn't the war that carries the picture to the heights, but the love of a doughboy for a little French girl, the self-sacrificing friendship of three "buddies" for one another.

After the picture is finished, it is the simple scenes that one remembers longest—the farewell of Melisande and Jim, the scene in the trench where Jim cannot find it in his heart to kill the dying German boy, but gives him his last cigarette. In this, by the way, there is some remarkable acting done by an unknown player, the German boy who dies.

"The Big Parade" does not lack in spectacle by any means. There are endless lines of army trucks carrying troops to the front, and later endless lines of ambulances carrying the wounded back. There is a thrilling march through a wood infested with sharpshooters — whole lines of men being mowed down by enemy guns. There is the muck and mire of "No Man's Land"—always above the heavy, leaden skies.

It is interesting to recall that this is the picture that brought John Gilbert, as the doughboy, Jim, to the very peak of film fame. Since the release of the picture he has made rapid strides in popularity, but I don't believe he has touched, assuredly not surpassed, his performance in "The Big Parade." He touches greatness in the shell-hole sequences.

Renee Adoree, too, is delightful as the French Melisande. It also represents her greatest triumph.

Karl Dane and Tom O'Brien contribute some excellent comedy moments. Dane particularly is a heroic figure. Perhaps these two might be regarded as the forerunner of the present vogus for comedy pairs. Certainly every war picture since has had a comedy team.

Others who are recalled to mind are Hobart Bosworth, Claire McDowell, and Claire Adams.

King Vidor, the director, can scarcely hope to surpass "The Big Parade," for he may never again have so great a theme. Only in one or two instances in the French village where the troops are billeted is there a tendency toward slowness.

MARAH ELLIS RYAN PLAY IS ENACTED

An out-of-town ordinary dramatic offering is the Garrett Club's presentation of "The Woman of the Twilight" by Marah Ellis Ryan at the club's little theater, 1321½ South Spring street.

It has that air and distinction which hovers about the plays written twenty or thirty years ago. There is the polite drawing-room conversation—and quite a bit of it—in which situations are explained, there are the matrimonially ambitious foreigner and all the other commonly accepted characters of society of some years back.

The play will run the balance of the week, including Sunday evening. Josephine Dillon Gable is the stage director. Marie Chapelle, who was seen not long ago in "Anna Christie;" Fenwick Youenes, Lucille Collins, Demetris Emanuele, Charles C. Gillman, Anita Perry, Geraldine Hadsell, Clarence Heiser, George McNulty, Meriwyn Thayer, Camden Knight, Ross Sperry and Georgia Simmons made up the cast.

SPECIAL NIGHTS SET

Numerous Groups Expect to Visit Grauman's Chinese

With twenty big parties arranged to witness the presentation of Cecil B. De Mille's drama, "The King of Kings," in conjunction with Sid Grauman's mammoth prologue presenting 200 performers, indications are had that August will be an exceedingly eventful month at Grauman's Chinese Theater.

Warriors assembled to be personally greeted by Sid Grauman will attend the 150th performance of "The King of Kings," which will be observed Monday evening in conjunction with an "Indian Chief's Festival."

Tuesday evening is set aside for the Bank of Italy and Vincent Methodist Church. On Wednesday San Pedro-Wilmington and Y.M.C.A. secretaries' night will be observed. The National Chiropractors' Association has scheduled a party for the night of August 7.

General Motors will view the De Mille film August 8 and the Los Angeles Engineering Department August 9. Glendale night is listed for August 10 and the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company has arranged a party for August 11.

United Artists' night will be marked by a special celebration on August 15 with a second party for the Los Angeles Engineering Department August 16. Pasadena night will be August 17, while the Los Angeles county employees will visit the Chinese on August 18.

August 22 has been selected by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. The citizens of Redondo and the National Stationary Engineers have chosen August 23 for their parties. The special August nights will conclude with the Santa Ana-Fullerton party on August 30.

RECEIVE EASTERN OFFER

Rita and Teeka, adagio team, who are now appearing in Will Morrissey's "Exposures" at Macloon's Music Box Theater, yesterday received a telegraph offer from Flo Ziegfeld, New York producer, to come East and be spotted in his next revue, which goes into rehearsal in September. Their decision has not been announced.

Monteux Will Lead Again at Bowl Concert

Following an ovation accorded him Tuesday night, when he made his debut before the Hollywood Bowl audience, Pierre Monteux, sometimes called the French ambassador of music, will conduct again tonight at the Bowl.

Leopold Stokowsky, conductor of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, said to be the most notable orchestra in America, is making a special trip down from Santa Barbara to be present at tonight's concert.

Tonight is called "orchestra night" and is the annual night set aside with special courtesy of 400 boxes given over to the wives and families of the orchestra men.

Dan Gridley, Los Angeles-born tenor, is to be soloist at tomorrow night's Bowl concert following his choice by the Bowl audition board from among 100 local vocalist aspirants for a Bowl hearing.

The program tonight offers compositions by Wagner, Chausson, Debussy and Strauss. This will be the first performance in Los Angeles of Chausson's Symphony in B flat major, Opus 20.

Six ex-Stage Hands Become Plane Pilots

Not many months ago, six young men who were employed as stage hands in a Hollywood theater were given the honorary title of airplane pilots at a "flying celebration" held in the theater. Monday night these same six men will return to the theater as guests of the management and as fully licensed pilots who are qualified to put a plane through its capers. The men are members of the Two Hundred and Seventy-seventh Pursuit Squadron.

The management reports that the aviators will fly airplanes over the theater Monday afternoon as a prelude to their visit that night with seventy-five other aviators to "If I Was Rich."

Studio Night is Set Aside by Morrissey

"Warner Brothers' Night" will be officially observed at Saturday's midnight performance of Will Morrissey's "Exposures," now in its second week at Macloon's Music Box Theater. Every Warner Brothers star not on location will attend, the management avers, as will a number of the scenario writers, directors, and executive officials of the studio.

Morrissey announces that he intends to give over each Saturday midnight show to a different Hollywood studio.

Juvenile is Secured for Orange Grove

Stafford Cherry Campbell, former juvenile comedy lead with Marjorie Rambeau in New York, was yesterday signed for the featured comedy role in "The Scarlet Virgin," Ramon Cerva's story of the Mexican border, which opens at the Orange Grove Monday evening.

The signing of Campbell by the Orange Grove management yesterday completes the cast.

"BARBED WIRE" GOES TO HOLLYWOOD HOUSE

Pola Negri's newest Paramount starring vehicle, "Barbed Wire," is the feature screen attraction which will usher in the second week of the new policy at Grauman's Egyptian Theater. The picture opens tomorrow and will run for one week.

"Man Power," the current feature at the Egyptian, will receive its final showings tonight.

Critics have declared "Barbed Wire" to rank high among the pictures the Polish star has ever made. The story is an adaptation of Hall Caine's novel, "The Woman of Knockaloe."

The cast supporting Miss Negri includes Clive Brook, Einar Hanson, Gustav von Seyffertitz, Clyde Cook and others. Rowland V. Lee directed and the picture was supervised by Erich Pommer.

On the stage at the Egyptian Theater Lynn Cowan and his Jazz Jesters will be seen in Fanchon and Marco's "Dolls" idea.

PLAY'S POPULARITY SHOWS NO DECREASE

Elmer Harris's comedy success, "The Great Necker," starring Taylor Holmes, is now in its seventh week at the Belasco Theater.

The continued popularity is attributed by its sponsors to the author's delicate treatment of a subject of universal interest, the amours of youth and middle age, the brightness of the dialogue, the abilities of the star and cast and the production itself, which was staged by Fred J. Butler.

At the conclusion of the local showing "The Great Necker" will be presented in San Francisco and in the East.

KING TUT, CANINE, WILL SUPPORT LLOYD

King Tut will support Harold Lloyd in his New York story which is now in production.

Not Tut-Ankh-Amen, but probably the smartest dog of his type to be found on the Pacific Coast. Weeks of search resulted in finding King Tut, owned by E. G. Henry, and instead of anticipated difficulties, Lloyd found the dog worked so wonderfully that he has written a number of new gags into the sequence.

Tut is the first member of the Lloyd supporting cast to be chosen, in addition to Ann Christy, leading lady.

ONE TO ANOTHER

"Hoot" Gibson is rapidly completing his western starring role in "The Tidy Toreador," an adaptation from Peter B. Kyne's story directed by Reaves Eason. Another opus for Gibson is being prepared at the Universal studios and awaits his completion of the present vehicle.

Actor Migrates to California for "Oh, Kay"

Harry T. Shannon, who created the part of Revenue Officer Jansen in Aarons and Freedley's musical comedy, "Oh, Kay," in New York, where he played forty weeks during the current season, has the same role in Gerhold Davis's presentation (by association with Homer Curran) of Elsie Janis in "Oh, Kay." This dedicatory attraction is for the new Mayan Theater next door to the Belasco on Hill street, opening August 15, next. Shannon has just arrived from New York for rehearsals.

Other members of the cast so far selected are John Roche, Jimmy Clemons, James Donlan, Doris Eaton, Ann Martin, Marjorie and Winona Neilson, Eileen Marcy and Henry Hall.

"WILD WESCOTTS" TO OPEN HERE, REPORT

"The Wild Wescotts," a comedy by Anne Morrison, will open at the Vine Street Theater some time in August, a report says. Henry Kolker and Arthur William Green will be associated in its production. Kolker has had considerable experience on the dramatic stage and at intervals in the pictures, and Green has been manager of the Vine Street.

No cast has been announced.

MORAN AND MACK BOOKED

Moran and Mack will open a week's engagement at Pantages starting Monday. This team of popular record artists is reported the highest salaried team in vaudeville today. Moran and Mack are best known as the "Two Black Crows."

Camera Device Employed for Costello Film

One of the novel technical features of Warner Brothers' production of "The Heart of Maryland," starring Dolores Costello and directed by Lloyd Bacon, was a wall splitting the field of vision of the camera so that one may watch parallel actions occurring independently of one another on the two sides of the wall at the same time. To be more specific, the action of the scene shows two young officers of the Union Army, just before the Civil War, writing letters to the same girl.

Although the device has been presented with great success on the stage in such classics as Eugene O'Neill's "Desire Under the Elms," this is believed to be the first time that it has been used in a motion-picture historical romance.

"The Heart of Maryland," at the Uptown Theater beginning Friday, was adapted by Graham Baker from the David Belasco stage classic and the Vitagraph picturization filmed seven years ago.

TO BE LUNCHEON GUESTS

Mary Pickford's "thirteen best girls," winners of contests in thirteen cities, who are in Hollywood for a thirteen days' vacation as the guests of "America's sweetheart," will be the guests of honor at a luncheon at Brandstatter's Hollywood Montmartre Cafe Friday noon.

GRAND JURY BEGINS PROBE

Orange County Official Body in Session

Investigate Conditions at County Jail

First Witness is Federal Prohibition Agent

SANTA ANA, July 27.—Three witnesses were heard today by the Orange county grand jury which met this morning to investigate charges of irregularities in the Orange County Jail. The witnesses were Joseph Buchta, Federal Prohibition Agent Bill Grafton and Ed Grafton.

Buchta was the first witness called and entered the jury room with a brief case bulging with affidavits and documents having a bearing upon the investigation. He is understood to have told the jury that his attention was first called to the manner of conducting affairs in the jail when he was a Federal prisoner for ten months under the name of Joseph Wilson.

One of the chief purposes of his incarceration, he is said to have declared, was to determine the exact status of affairs in jail and determine the truth or falsity of rumors that had come to him as a Federal agent. He was said to have informed the jurors, Dist.-Atty. West and Dep. Dist.-Atty. Collins that he bent his efforts along two lines, one to detect the conspirators in rum-running activities, the other to secure specific evidence concerning the conditions in the jail. Buchta said he had not taken the oath of secrecy because he wanted the people of Orange county to know the conditions in the jail, but when he finished his testimony he hurried away to Los Angeles and did not make a statement.

Later in the day Bill and Ed Grafton were called for brief testimony. Records of the jail show that an Ed Grafton was arrested several years ago by Motorcycle Officer Henry Vaughn near Costa Mesa for failure to sign a speed ticket. His occupation was given as publisher. John De Lacque, known here as "Big John," who served a term in the old County Jail from December 8, 1920, to August 8, 1924, on a charge of attempting to smuggle aliens into the United States, Buchta and L. R. Heffner will be called tomorrow, it was said. The session Thursday will be held in the room ordinarily occupied by the United States Revenue Service in the Hall of Records. Sessions begin at 9 a.m., adjourn at noon, begin at 1 p.m., and conclude at 2 p.m.

Perjury Charge Grows Out of Lee Camp Case

HANFORD, July 27.—Robert McCamish, foster son of Mrs. Jennie Laura Brown, was arraigned yesterday afternoon on a charge of perjury growing out of his testimony before the grand jury that brought in the second true bill against Mrs. Brown, John H. Tipton and Fred Mills in the Lee Camp case. The charge was based on the allegation that McCamish had sworn falsely in his testimony in which he denied that he and Lee Camp had a quarrel on the Hall ranch on the Sunday before the Sunday on which Lee Camp died, in which it is claimed upon the testimony of other witnesses that Camp struck McCamish on the head with the crank of a tractor.

McCamish indicted on the original count with Mrs. Jennie Laura Brown, John H. Tipton and Fred Mills for conspiracy to murder Lee Camp was acquitted while the others were found guilty.

When he appeared yesterday on the charge of perjury he was represented by Frank Curran, also attorney for Mrs. Brown, and the reading of the indictment waived. Attorney Curran then filed a demurrer to the indictment on the grounds that the facts stated do not constitute a public offense

By consent the case was then continued to be called upon five days' notice with the understanding that it is to go over until the disposal of the indictments against Mrs. Jennie Laura Brown, John H. Tipton and Fred Mills to come up September 6, on motion for a change of venue and to set time of trial. It was stated by Attorney Frank Curran that a motion for a change of venue will be made also in the case of Robert McCamish.

BUCHANAN FUNERAL THURSDAY MORNING

ORANGE, July 27.—Services for George W. Buchanan, former street superintendent, who committed suicide yesterday morning, will be held from the Gilloch funeral chapel tomorrow at 10 a.m. with Rev. W. W. Hull, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, reading the services. Burial will be in Fairhaven Cemetery.

At the inquest held over the body yesterday afternoon the Coroner's jury returned a verdict of death from a self-inflicted gunshot wound.

Testimony introduced at the inquest indicated that Buchanan, who has been confined to his home as a result of a nervous breakdown, left the house while his nurse was preparing a meal, and made his way to the front lawn before shooting himself in the temple. The weapon used is thought to have been concealed by Buchanan in the bedclothes.

MAKE READY FOR FIRE FIGHTERS

THREE RIVERS, July 27.—For the purpose of furthering quick action in controlling forest fires, shipments of tools are being received in Sequoia National Park for fire caches placed at strategic points. Food of an imperishable nature, such as canned goods, will also be placed in the caches. With food and tools on the ground there remains only the problem of conveying men in case of fire. About sixteen caches will be established, consisting of small rough shacks.

A number of such caches have already been placed in this locality by the Tulare County Fire Protective Association.

MEXICAN STUDENT RECITAL

Exchange Scholars Give Entertainment as Compliment to American Friends

CLAREMONT, July 27.—A token of their appreciation for the courtesies shown them by the students and faculty of Pomona College, the Mexican students and exchange scholars from the National University of Mexico at Mexico City, have arranged a program to be given in Bridges Hall of Music, tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

Noted Mexican musicians and dancers have been secured for the program by the group of teachers and students, who were sent to the Pomona College summer session this summer by the governors of several of the Northern States of Mexico.

The program includes a brief address given by Senor Alfonso Pesqueira, Mexican consul in Los Angeles, followed by a response by William S. Ament, director of the Pomona College summer session.

Musical numbers are announced as follows: Mexican Rhapsody, by the composer, J. Gonzales Jimenez, selection from Campanone, by Senor de Lallata, Mexican song, Margarita Pena, selection Prof. Gonzales Jimenez, Mexican folk songs, Senor Meyin and J. Arabe Tapatio, by J. Torres and Diana Garza. A group of Mexican dances will be given by Estelita Zarco.

Several men and women of Southern California who are interested in Latin-American work as well as members of the Pomona College faculty and administration and friends of the institution who have assisted the college in offering special advantages for the visiting Mexican teachers and students will be present. This is the second year that the Mexican students have presented such an entertainment.

Evidence Points to Work of Fire Bugs at Beach

SANTA MONICA, July 27.—Two suits and bread soaked in coal oil, a dresser drawer opened and its contents reeking with the inflammable liquid, and drinking glasses converted into lamps by partially filling with kerosene and inserting paper napkins for wicks, were among the evidence of incendiarism discovered after a fire was extinguished in the Overlook Hotel, 1605 Ocean Front, at 3:30 this morning, according to Fire Chief Mohr.

Nine separate fires, all told, broke out; but quick work on the part of the fire department held the loss down to a small amount. Roomers above the cafe where the alleged incendiary blaze started were seriously endangered, according to Chief Mohr and Battalion Chief Marshall, who found oil smoke so thick their men worked under a difficult handicap.

This morning T. W. Baker, owner of the restaurant, which was said to be insured for $1000, and his cook, William O. Pulliam, were being quizzed by police.

Buena Park to be Scene of Dahlia Show

BUENA PARK, July 27.—Plans for the fifth annual Orange county dahlia show to be held in Buena Park September 2, are taking form rapidly and inquiries are being received from all parts of the county, according to report today from the Buena Park Woman's Club, sponsor of the event.

Crowning of the dahlia queen will again be the interesting feature of the coming event. A country-wide contest to choose the young woman to receive this honor is now being planned. Committees of the Woman's Club are working on plans for a comprehensive entertainment program to be presented during the afternoon and evening of the show. Premium lists will soon be ready and all amateur and professional growers may secure such lists by writing the committee in charge, it is announced.

VALLEY TO DISPLAY MAP OF POMONA FAIR

LANKERSHIM, July 27.—A large relief map of San Fernando Valley, the first of its kind, is being made by H. C. Thomas of the valley branch of the city engineering department. It will be used as one of the features of the valley displays at the coming county fair at Pomona. The map will be six feet wide and nine feet long, and will show encircling mountain ranges and the streets of the various valley towns. The map is being constructed in sections, so that in the future any part of it can be reconstructed to keep abreast of further civic developments. This year the Major Development Association of San Fernando Valley will sponsor the valley's exhibit at Pomona.

ODD FELLOWS PLAN TO GREET GRAND MASTER

VAN NUYS, July 27.—C. H. S. Bidwell, Grand Master of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of California, will pay his annual official visit here tomorrow night, when members of the lodge of District No. 42, including Glendale, Burbank, Van Nuys, Hollywood, Lankershim, San Fernando, Verdugo City and Lancaster, will be present. Arrangements for receiving and entertaining the lodge dignitary are in the hands of A. B. Borden, who is Noble Grand of the Van Nuys lodge.

GUILTY AS CHARGED

GLENDALE, July 27.—When he refused a trial by a jury of six persons, Thomas Cunningham of Pasadena was given a trial by twelve jurors, half of them women, and convicted of an intoxication charge. Acting Judge Gray gave Cunningham a thirty-day sentence when the jury returned the verdict of guilty.

TELLS HISTORY OF OIL FIELD

Defendant in Ventura Suit Takes Stand

Relates Story of Discovery of Gas

Taking "Insanity Testimony" Continues

VENTURA, July 27.—An interesting story of how he first became engaged in the oil business and in the Ventura-avenue field was told today on the witness stand in the $3,000,000 Gosnell-Lloyd suit by Ralph B. Lloyd, the defendant, who was recalled by attorneys for the plaintiffs, Ira Gosnell and Lena Bowyer, who are attempting to recover royalties and oil rights sold by their father, Truman B. Gosnell, to Lloyd for $72,000.

Lloyd's father, according to his story, first became interested in the oil and gas possibilities of the Ventura-avenue field, when one day many years ago, while Ralph Lloyd was still a boy, the former was riding through the district on horseback and suddenly came upon a fissure in the earth from which flaming gas was flowing. The flaming gas had caused a grass fire and before he could get his horse out, the horse burned to death and the older Lloyd escaped with his life only by jumping down a precipice into a canyon.

When Ralph Lloyd grew up, he testified, he became interested in the prospects of the future development of oil and gas from the earth in the district, and his activities along that line were to such an extent that today he owns not only much of the land from which oil is being produced in the avenue field, but also many of the oil rights on various other tracts in the field.

ROYALTIES FROM OIL COMPANIES

He testified that he is receiving royalties from all companies operating in the field except the General Petroleum.

Lloyd also was questioned considerably concerning various letters and transactions carried on between himself and the Shell company in connection with the Gosnell lease, having made arrangements some years ago, "because he was friendly with the Gosnell family and because he understood their peculiarities" to act as the agent for the Shell company in paying royalties to the Gosnell family for the lease on their land.

Mrs. Theresa Filos of Los Angeles, a native of Cuba and daughter of Cuban Indian parents, who for about a year acted as manager of the Gosnell Hotel here for Truman B. Gosnell, testified that Gosnell was physically weak and that it was hard to carry on a conversation with him because of his habit of not sticking to one subject. She said she took care of him when he was ill, giving him herbs to improve his health, and that when she left for Los Angeles she said Gosnell cried and told her he would now "have nobody else to depend on to take care of him," and hoped that she would continue to send him herbs while she was in Los Angeles.

LEASE WORTH $230,000

A. S. Hayes, petroleum engineer for the General Petroleum Corporation, was recalled to the stand, testifying that he believed that on June 17, 1925, when the Gosnell sale to Lloyd was officially made, Gosnell's one-twenty-fourth interest in the lease was worth $230,000.

Edgar Orton, city water superintendent, said he believed Gosnell to be of unsound mind. Years ago, Orton said, when he was manager of a water company, it had a flume which ran across the Gosnell property. In the winter time this flume would often sand up, and he declared that unless he appealed to Gosnell's ego by first going to him and asking his opinion how the flume should be cleaned out, Gosnell would not allow the water-company men to cross his property to clean out the flume.

To Welcome First Ford Metal Plane

INGLEWOOD, July 27.—The first Ford-Stout cabin airplane to visit California will make port at Inglewood on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, it was announced today by Frank D. Parent, chairman of the aeronautics committee of the Inglewood Chamber of Commerce, which is arranging for the reception of the big all-metal twelve-passenger plane on its arrival here from San Diego.

The landing will be made here on the 500-acre field to the southwest of this city which it is possible will be the home airport of a projected El Paso, Los Angeles and San Francisco air line, according to J. L. Maddux, Los Angeles Lincoln dealer, who has purchased this plane, as the nucleus of a fleet of a half dozen or more to be used in this service.

The plane will be given official welcome here by Mr. Parent, as chairman of his committee of the Inglewood chamber; John L. Steinbarger, president of the chamber; Mayor Hugh B. Lawrence of Inglewood, Capt. Fred E. Laxdal, Inglewood postmaster, who served with the United States Air Service in France; W. G. Brown, H. A. McCallister, City Attorney Clyde Woodworth, W. W. Hodgkins and George M. Sutton, all members of the committee.

Dr. W. O. Trueblood, pastor of the First Friends Church of Whittier, will preach the opening sermon, and Dr. E. P. Ryland of Los Angeles will deliver the closing sermon of the series. The choirs of the respective churches will unite in a chorus for the meetings, and the services will be preceded by a fifteen-minute sacred concert by the Municipal Band and an orchestra of ten pieces.

NOW COMES RECALL

Newest Complication Added to Municipal Troubles of Huntington Park

HUNTINGTON PARK, July 27.—A campaign started in this city tonight for the recall of City Trustee John W. Wood, petitions having been prepared the early part of the week, these being presented to the different churches at prayer meeting services held tonight. They are to be circulated in various districts of the city tomorrow by representatives of a new organization formed yesterday known as the Law Enforcement League of Huntington Park.

The text of the petition is as follows:

"We, whose names are hereto signed and attached, qualified voters of the city of Huntington Park, respectfully petition and demand the election of a successor to John W. Wood as Trustee of the city of Huntington Park.

"The grounds on which the removal and recall of the said John W. Wood from the office of Trustee of the city of Huntington Park sought are as follows:

"The said John W. Wood is incapable, unfit and unworthy of executing the trust imposed in him by his election to the said office, and has lost the confidence of a majority of the voters of said city."

Trouble has been brewing more or less in the ranks of the City Trustees for the past few weeks. However, it reached a climax at the session Monday night, when three members of the police force—Chief Will Hultquist, John Priestly and F. M. Haddon—were questioned by the board while it was in session, as to trouble that happened a few weeks ago when arrests were made at a home here, among the number arrested being O. B. Stewart, who is now serving sentence in the County Jail. It was said by the officers making the arrest that a game of cards was in progress. It was asserted that the men were gambling.

Stewart had been arrested several weeks ago on a battery charge and was given a six months' suspended jail sentence by Louis Budway, who was at that time City Judge. When the last arrest of Stewart was made, the judge then sent him to jail, for having violated his parole.

During the hearing Monday night, words passed between Trustee M. A. Blanchard and Chief of Police Will Hultquist, with the result that a motion was made by Trustee Blanchard that Hultquist tender his resignation, and that the board would expect it by the first of August.

At this there was some confusion, when Trustee Blanchard then made a motion that the office of President of the Board of Trustees held by Jerome V. Scofield, be declared vacant. President Scofield appealed to the City Attorney, Arch G. McLay, for a decision. The City Attorney stated this complied with the statutes. The motion was then seconded, and Scofield was unseated—three members out of the five—Trustees Blanchard, Frank Fitch and John W. Wood voting favorably, while Trustee Flick voted against the motion, Scofield not voting.

Blanchard, who was President of the board from the time of his election in April, 1924, to the April election in 1926, was then elected President of the board, Mr. Scofield stepping down and joining the other Trustees, while Mr. Blanchard took charge of the session as President of the board.

The Trustees then took up other matters, with the result that Howard McCurdy, City Engineer, was asked to resign, this to become effective August 1.

Scofield, Flick and Wood were elected to four-year terms as City Trustees in April of last year. They were running mates on the ticket which was elected. Wood had been voting on propositions with Scofield and Flick until recently, when he cast his vote with the former Trustees, Blanchard and Fitch, on several matters.

During the past few sessions, Carson Hubbard, City Attorney, has been replaced by Arch G. McLay; Louis Budway, City Judge, has been replaced by A. W. Mueller, and Police Chief Hultquist and City Engineer Howard McCurdy have been asked for their resignations. The new President of the board, Mr. Blanchard, will preside at the next meeting, which will be Monday night.

MINISTER HAS HAD ONE JOB

Lutheran Pastor Followed Father in Pulpit He Now Occupies

PASADENA, July 27.—Dr. Alfred B. Moldenke, who has been pastor of St. Peter's Lutheran Church of Manhattan for thirty-one years, and whose father held the same post before him for thirty-three years, has just arrived at the Hotel Maryland with his family.

Moldenke, father and son, have been the only two pastors St. Peter's Church has ever had, and St. Peter's has been the only pastorate the Pasadena visitor ever held. This remarkable circumstance has few parallels.

In 1862, the elder Moldenke was called to New York to establish the church. He served it continuously for thirty-three years, and when he retired, his son stepped into his shoes. The "young pastor" has been there ever since, and he has two sons who may serve to keep St. Peter's Church from running out of a leader in the next generation.

Dr. Moldenke is accompanied by his wife and two sons, and by his sister-in-law, Mrs. C. E. Miller, and her daughter. They came by way of the Panama Canal.

BEACH SCOUTS PERFECT

NEWPORT BEACH, July 27.—Newport Beach Boy Scouts obtained a rating of 100 per cent in activities in June, showing the interest and spirit of the troop, according to Jack Twist, Scoutmaster.

This marks the seventh successive month that the local scouts have secured the perfect rating. Only three other troops in the country received the perfect rating for the past month and no other troop has ever had a record of 100 per cent interest and activity for seven successive months, Twist declared.

OWNED A BREWERY

VENICE, July 27.—"Beer weather," according to police, led to the arrest of H. N. Anderson, 24-C Paloma Court, Venice, by Officers McDonald and Johnson, who reported the four customers for cooling brew, visited the apartment during a half-hour watch they maintained. Bottles of beer totaling 420 were found in a closet. Johnson was booked on possession and sale charges.

NEWPORT BEACH, July 27.—The world's most unique marine spectacle, the tournament of lights, is to be staged on Newport Bay Saturday evening starting at 8 o'clock. The parade of brilliantly lighted vessels will be the eighth annual event to be staged on the bay.

More than 150 boats, all brilliantly lighted with Japanese lanterns and electric lights, will take part in the parade. The boats will include canoes, sail boats, yachts, sloops, schooners, motor cruisers, speed boats, and every type of floating craft including a number of brilliantly decorated barges.

The tournament of lights is the only event of its kind on the Pacific Coast, according to Joseph McLeod, chairman of the tournament committee, and the affair this year is expected to draw thousands of spectators from all sections of Southern California.

The parade will be visible from practically every point on Newport Bay and the hills surrounding the bay will be crowded with automobiles filled with throngs eager to see the spectacle. Three bands are to take part in the tournament and following the parade of boats the city of Newport Beach will present an elaborate fireworks display.

The parade is to start at the Balboa pavilion and will travel along the shore of the Balboa peninsula to the entrance to the harbor, where it will swing around and return up the bay along the shore of Balboa Island to the Newport Harbor Yacht Club. Here it will again swing about and return to its starting point. The course is about five miles long.

A three-day regatta is being staged at Newport Beach in connection with the event. The regatta will include outboard motor boat races, sailing races and other special events. The boat races will start Saturday afternoon and will continue Sunday and Monday.

ON TRIAL CHARGED WITH CHILD STEALING

HANFORD, July 27.—Guy Watley and Oscar Edenburg were placed on trial here today before a jury on a charge of child stealing. They are said to have enticed Ruby Lockard, 15, and Leona Lockard, 14, from the home of their father, Henry Lockard, a restaurant owner at Corcoran, June 26, on an automobile trip to Los Angeles, where they were located three days later by the father of the girls, and the defendants arrested.

TWO PAY FINES FOR PARKING CAR

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 27.—Dr. G. A. Shank, City Trustee, and A. J. Tredick, City Attorney, were fined $2 each by Judge C. P. Pann yesterday when Thedieck appeared to answer for parking his car on the streets all night. Dr. Shank, who is said to have admitted borrowing Thedieck's car and leaving it on the street, was fined as an accessory to the ordinance violation. Both paid their fines.

GO BACK TO FRANCE

VISALIA, July 27.—Visalia Post, American Legion, will be represented by three delegates in the California expedition to the Legion convention in Paris this September. They are Lester H. Gadsby, City Engineer of Visalia; Henry E. White, Visalia garage owner; Thomas Griffin, local postoffice employee.

The trio will leave Visalia for Oakland on September 2, boarding the California special train for New York at that point. They are scheduled to reach New York on September 7 and will sail on September 8.

MINISTER CLEARED OF BLAME

Judge Holds Misconduct Not Shown by Evidence of Wife's Witnesses

SANTA ANA, July 27.—The suit for separate maintenance brought by Mrs. Jennie Jensen against her husband, N. F. Jensen, former pastor of a Lutheran church at Orange, concluded suddenly after 5 p.m. today when Attorney Frank Drumm, counsel for Mr. Jensen, moved that the cross-complaint and action for divorce entered by the pastor be dismissed and that the court make an order stipulating the amount that Mr. Jensen should pay for the support of his wife and minor son, Arthur.

Attorney Drumm explained that the chief issue in the case as he saw it and as Mr. Jensen saw it was the insinuations against the character of Mrs. Matilda Grote, wife of Fred Grote, Orange merchant. Mrs. Jensen had attributed much of her marital difficulties upon the association of Mr. Jensen with Mrs. Grote. After three days of trial the court announced today that the plaintiff had failed to show any indiscretions upon the part of the pastor or Mrs. Grote and that he was satisfied from the testimony to be offered that no misconduct could be attributed to Mrs. Grote.

Having cleared Mrs. Grote of all blame, Attorney Drumm said it was now only the desire of the pastor to pay a reasonable sum for the support of his wife and his son because his religious scruples were against divorce in principle. Drumm said he would be very glad to move the dismissal of the divorce suit brought by Mr. Jensen at the time of filing his cross-complaint.

The plaintiff counsel, headed by Attorney Hawkins, concurred in the motion for the dismissal of the cross-complaint and agreed to accept the findings of the court on the original action. A temporary order of $50 a month was entered until Mr. Jensen can become sufficiently skilled in chiropractic, which he is now studying, to make heavier payments. The case had been followed eagerly by crowded courtrooms.

Seek Turkeys; Officers Find Vats of Wine

STRATFORD, July 27.—Probing reports of a "turkey ring," Constable A. P. Hubbs of Porterville and attaches from the office of Sheriff R. L. Hill of Tulare county visited the ranch of Modesto Rosetto, near Strathmore, and in addition to a number of turkeys found what is declared to be one of the largest wine vats ever discovered in Tulare county. It was five feet in diameter and six feet high.

Rosetto was fined $300 by Justice of the Peace A. M. Lumley of Porterville on a charge of liquor possession, and placed bond of $250. He and his wife each placed bond of $750 on the turkey-theft charges, a felony case.

Complaint on the latter count was sworn to by W. A. Hawley, rancher west of Porterville, who recently suffered heavy loss from turkey thefts. Rosetto maintains that he raised the turkeys himself.

Numerous thefts of turkeys led to report of the "turkey ring," and investigation by county authorities.

TWO TOURISTS HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

BAKERSFIELD, July 27.—Two California tourists, one a resident of New York, the other from Texas, were critically injured twenty miles south of Bakersfield today on the Golden State Highway, when struck by a light truck as they were changing a tire on their car.

The injured are W. G. Coulson of Mechanicsville, N. Y., and Walter Hawk of Kandon, Tex.

Details of the accidents were incomplete for Capt. W. E. Snell of the Kern county traffic force, and two of his officers were at the scene of the accident, making an investigation of the cause.

One of the injured men was brought to the Bakersfield Hospital by Capt. Snell and while here the officers gave a brief report of the crash.

The two tourists, it is believed, were en route from Los Angeles to Northern California when struck by the truck while repairing a tire on the highway.

ALL ANAHEIM CASES THROWN OUT OF COURT

SANTA ANA, July 27.—The last echo of litigation connected with the upheaval in Anaheim municipal affairs two years ago has been heard, with the announcement that the $10,000 suit for alleged malicious prosecution brought by M. L. Harbison against the former Board of Trustees of Anaheim, has been dismissed in Superior Court.

This completes the perfect record of dismissals that have marked the suits and counter-suits that developed from the factional fight in Anaheim city politics. First, Harbison sued to oust the City Trustees. That was dismissed. Then the Trustees sued him for alleged perjury and libel. That was dismissed. Then Harbison sued the Trustees for alleged malicious prosecution. Now that has been dismissed.

PLANNING COMMISSION TO VISIT VALLEY AREA

VAN NUYS, July 27.—Several disputed sections will be gone over on Friday when members of the Los Angeles City Planning Commission will visit the Van Nuys area as part of a formal tour of inspection. The entire proposed zoning will be discussed prior to the passing finally on the zone maps, which soon are to be turned over to the Los Angeles City Council for adoption by ordinance. While in Van Nuys members of the commission will be under the direction of leading members of the local Chamber of Commerce.

Belief, expressed last night following the appointment of R. C. Political Feud at Long Beach Ends

Announcement Is Defeat for "Reform" Element

LONG BEACH, July 27.—Political ambitions of various actors, who were striving to name their own Chief of Police for Long Beach, received a severe setback here today when City Manager H. H. Callahan announced that James S. Yaney, for the past four and a half years head of the police department, will continue as Chief. Close observers of the local political situation, which has been more or less chaotic since the advent of the entirely new city administration six weeks ago, see in the City Manager's announcement, a direct retort by reformers, ministers and others who have attempted during the past few months to make a target of the police department.

Belief, expressed last week, following the appointment of R. C. Bell, real reformer, as Civil Service commissioner, that Yaney would be ousted and an outsider installed in his place, was dispelled today when City Manager Callahan's announcement that Chief Yaney would remain.

Commissioner Bud, following his appointment to the Civil Service Commission, was quoted in local newspapers as saying he had been fighting the police department for three years and that it needs reorganization. He expressed his preference for the appointment of a new Chief from outside the department.

His statement, police observers pointed out, disqualified him from functioning completely in his announced antipathy for the police department would make him incompetent to sit at the civil service trial of a member of that department.

Retention of Chief of Police Yaney will not necessarily mean that the entire department is to remain intact as now organized. The new administration, in deciding to permit Yaney to continue to administer the department's affairs, will insist, it is said today, that Yaney make certain changes in the personnel, particularly heads of certain subdepartments. Unless these changes are made, record in the department will continue to exist, and the new City Council determined, it was said, that the department shall function as a unit and free from interdepartmental tions.

Hold Inquest Into Death of Exeter Youth

EXETER, July 27.—Inquest following the death of George B. Alderson, 17, son of Mrs. Flora M. Alderson of Exeter, who died almost instantly yesterday following an automobile train crash at the Venida crossing two miles north of here, is expected to be conducted in Exeter, according to by Coroner J. M. Hadley of Tulare county, who is investigating the case. John N. Alderson, 19, a brother, lies in a grave condition in the Visalia Sanatorium. George was a junior in the Exeter High School this year and John a freshman.

A row of olive trees is declared to have obstructed the view of motorists and has driven blindly upon the Santa Fe Railroad tracks into the path of the Bakersfield-San Francisco overland bound local. After being hurled to the right of way the machine was struck by a car burst into flames and was completely destroyed.

Conductor S. Baker and Engineer C. Brownlee are expected to testify at the inquest. George is survived by his mother and two sisters.

HUNTINGTON BEACH TO INVITE LEGION

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 27.—The Legion delegates from the local post to the State convention in Santa Barbara next month will endeavor to bring the next State convention to this city, it was learned today.

With a "trucking Post" entered in the Legion parade, a large delegation attending the post, officers believe that the convention may be obtained for Huntington Beach through display of the local "pep." Those who attend the convention include Lloyd Gordon, local post commander; Burry, John Petty, Harlan Bell, Mitchell and W. P. Curson.

DAIRIES AFFECTED BY NEW SANITARY LA

SEPULVEDA, July 27.—Dairymen now barred from San Fernando valley Annex to Los Angeles, in cases where special permit is obtained from the City Council, new sanitary law does not prohibit dairies, and as a result the management of establishments, it is stated from the Council is not affected. Where new buildings are proposed, before they can be established property owners in the district consent by property owners in the area before a permit from the Council can be hoped for. This consent must be obtained by the owner of a petition to residents of the district who own land near the contemplated site.

POSTPONE BANQUET

PASADENA, July 27.—The banquet which Pasadena bankers had planned for United States Senator Thomas J. McFadden, author of the McFadden Banking Act, to be held here today has been called off because of the fact that McFadden has returned to San Francisco in the middle of the inquest over the death of Congressman Crumpacker of Chicago.

ROBERT BURNS AS DRY AGENT

Robert Burns, the poet of Scotland, had bad luck with his farm for two years and to gain money he obtained the post of exciseman. The job was not unlike that of a prohibition agent of modern times. He had charge of ten parishes, where he had to suppress bootlegging. He hated the work, but he needed the $250 a year that it brought him.

The smugglers and distillers on a big scale learned to fear him, for he was immune to their bribes and unrelenting in his pursuit. But to the poor men and women of the countryside, who sold liquor illicitly, he was not so severe. The story is told that he went to the door of one poor woman who was selling liquor illicitly and exclaimed, "Kate, are you mad? Don't you know that the supervisor and I will be upon you in forty minutes?" By the time they arrived, there was no sign of illegal sales.—[Kansas City Star.

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

Another good shallow producer was added to the Miley string of wells in the Goleta district twelve miles west of the city of Santa Barbara yesterday, with the completion of the Goleta No. 1A, according to officials of the company. The new well was completed at a depth of 1530 feet and is making about 300 barrels of oil a day and is flowing gas at the rate of about 1,000,000 cubic feet a day.

Officials of the Miley Oil Company, which is drilling the property in conjunction with the Miley Petroleum Exploration Company, said yesterday that the well had not been opened up as yet, and has not yet cleaned out, but within a day or so it is expected to hit its stride.

Completion of this well gives the Miley organization three producers in the new field, all of them flowing from approximately 1500 feet. Besides the producers, the Miley interests have three other wells drilling.

Goleta No. 1A is a twin to Goleta No. 1, the discovery well of the field, which has never been put on production but is the well which first found the various producing zones in the field and is still exploring for more. Bottom of Goleta No. 1 is about 4695 at present and it has been picking up showings of oil and gas for the past couple of hundred feet.

The Miley interests control about 2500 acres in this area and are the most aggressive operators in this field.

Rumor Is False

Reports which apparently had no foundation in fact resulted in the dispatch by several Los Angeles operators of scouts to the Four Brothers wildcat well at Hemet on Monday and Tuesday. When the scouts arrived on the ground they discovered that the well was drilling along at about 1400 feet with cable tools in a hard formation which does not allow progress of more than two or three feet a week. There was no sign of oil on ditch or sump, although some of the drill crew asserted that showings had been found higher up in the hole.

The report which reached Los Angeles on Monday stated that oil had been bailed out of the well testing 48 deg. gravity. It was sufficiently circumstantial to cause half a dozen companies to send scouts to the scene immediately, but nothing was found to give any reason to believe the story. The Hemet well is drilling a granite basin in a fresh-water formation, which geologists declare makes the existence of oil a physical impossibility.

Down 5300 Feet

The Associated Oil Company is drilling ahead at 5500 feet in its Johnson well in the Potrero district, according to field reports. No showings have been reported. This is now the only active project in the area which was hailed as virtually a sure-shot oil field six months ago.

May Drill New Test

The possibility of a new test of the petroleum possibilities of the area around Tustin, near Santa Ana, is seen by landholders in that district as a result of a leasing campaign which has been conducted there recently, supposedly on behalf of a large Mid-Continent operator. The leading activity is said to center around the Lemon Heights area, just west of the Marcy ranch, and the orange groves of several Tustin ranchers have been signed up, it is said, with a drilling agreement calling for a well within ninety days.

Combination Reported

A combination of the Union Oil Company, the Shell company and the Doheny interests for the testing of the deep formations in the Simi Valley is reported by landowners and others interested in that district, although such a union of interest could not be confirmed by the Los Angeles official of the companies concerned yesterday. The triumvirate is said to plan the joint drilling of the Parkford well on the R. S. Cannell ranch to depth that will give a complete cross-section of the Simi Valley subsurface conditions.

Such a combination of interests has been known in the petroleum industry of California, but it is rare, and some doubt is felt as to whether it really exists in the Simi. The Union and Doheny each own several thousand acres in the Simi Valley, the Union's holdings including the big Strathhearn ranch and the Doheneys owning considerable fee land. The Shell's interest is more indirect, being the tracing of the Simi anticline, which may affect its drilling plans elsewhere.

Gets New Well

The Standard Oil Company has completed its Los Angeles Investment Company No. 1-83, in the Inglewood field, according to officials of the company. The well was completed at a depth of 2125 feet and is making about 340 barrels a day. It is the first well the Standard has brought in on the L. A. Investment property for several months. This company is now practically the only active operator in the Inglewood field.

Gas Blowout Threatens

The Chansler-Canfield Midway Oil Company was threatened with a gas blowout in its Hobson B No. 1 a few days ago, according to reports from the field. The pressure built up for about an hour to the point where it was in imminent danger of blowing the drilling fluid out of the hole, and only by vigorous and heavy mudding was the danger averted.

The well is now down about 4750 feet, and is still in oil sand and shale, which it has been penetrating for the past 400 or 500 feet. It has been reported that the C.C.M.O. intended to drill the well to 5000 feet but if the gas pressure again gets dangerous it may be necessary to bring the well in above that depth.

Gasser Holds Up

The Petroleum Securities Company's Wahl No. 1 well in the Alamitos Heights field, which came in as a gasser and producer of 40 degrees gravity oil a week ago, continues its performance at about its initial rate, according to field reports. The well is down about 5230 feet, and is flowing about 250 barrels a day of oil ranging between 30 and 40 deg. in gravity, with a gas output of about 7,000,000 cubic feet a day.

COTTON EXPORT GAIN FORECAST

Compress Company Plans to Handle 500,000 Bales

Figures Represent Increase of Over 100 Per Cent

New High Density Press Due at Harbor Saturday

Arrangements are under way to handle 500,000 bales of cotton yearly through the Port of Los Angeles, harbor commissioners were told yesterday by A. H. Lambreth and Robert J. Cummings, president and engineer of the Los Angeles Compress and Warehouse Company, as the Los Angeles Cotton Exchange's new compress subsidiary is known. Incorporation papers were granted a week ago.

The new figure will swell present figures more than 100 per cent, upward of 200,000 bales having passed through the port during the last season, a growth of 50 per cent in a year, a huge development since cotton first began moving through here five years ago.

Not only will San Joaquin and Imperial Valley and Arizona cotton pass this way, it is said, but advantageous new rail rates will attract the commodity to seaboard here from more distant southern points.

Anticipating the increases, the new concern has asked assurances of five to ten additional acres adjoining the ten-acre site recently leased from the harbor department in the outer harbor. Depressed switching tracks and new trackage also were authorized.

Even the closing of Twenty-second street opposite the plant was discussed, but the artery now provides the only ingress and egress with the Outer Harbor Dock and Wharf Company and other concerns, and public convenience, it is said, stands against such a procedure.

Dismantling of the present compress No. 1, owned by the city, is under way, and the company's new high density press is due Saturday from Philadelphia on the California and Eastern steamer West Keats. It constitutes one of the heaviest lifts ever brought here, weighing approximately 300,000 pounds.

The harbor commission also opened eight bids ranging from $22,000 to $30,000 for the extension of sheds at Berth 160, and authorized plans for flooring Berth 228 D and E.

NEW REGULATION ON FISH PRICES IN FORCE

Regulation by the California State Fish Exchange of maximum prices paid fishermen at San Pedro, San Diego and vicinity, has found reconciliation among both the wholesalers and fishermen, according to M. F. Joy, deputy in charge for Southern California.

The regulation was begun the 19th inst., due to what State officials regarded as such competitive bidding by wholesalers that the price was unduly high by the time the fish reached the consumer.

"Through this method," declared Joy, "we believe the public will be able to obtain fish at a more reasonable price than it has for several years.

"Those who objected at first perhaps forgot that the fish in the waters of the State belong to the people and not to any individual, and that it is not an inherent right to fish in the State except as the people give that privilege. The title to such fish shall be and remain in the State of California for the purpose of regulating and controlling the use and disposition of the same after the catch."

The maximum price which may be paid fishermen for barracuda for instance is 11 cents a pound, round, under the regulation. Several score boats and crews are affected by the regulation. The latter had called a project meeting for the 24th inst., but without development, and it now is understood the fishermen are not discontented with the regulation.

Restoration of the old law permitting the catching of barracuda with purse seines will become effective the first week in August. It will restore several score purse seine boats to this pursuit. Two years ago purse nets were forbidden, but the law was rescinded. A closed season on barracuda is established from May 16 to July 31.

The Italian motorship Rialto, latest creation of the Navigazione Libera Triestina for the Pacific run, arrived from the Mediterranean yesterday on her maiden voyage since commissioning in Italy. She had twenty-five passengers and 4000 tons for the coast, of which 1000 was dropped here, including 3000 stems of bananas, before she departed north at midnight.

The vessel is a sister ship of the Feltra recently making her maiden trip here, and has passenger accommodations for sixty, and refrigeration space for coastal perishables in addition to regular cargo holds.

The vessel experienced a fire in her engine room the other side of Cuba, which was extinguished with little damage to the ship and cargo due to a modern extinguishing system. Repairs were made at Havana, where the vessel also dropped 3500 tons of Italian cargo.

Capt. Gabriele Locatelli, former master of the Savoia and a convoy officer in the Italian navy during the war, is in command.

Drew Chidester, vice-president and general manager of the General Steamship Corporation, arrived from San Francisco yesterday to exult anew at Los Angeles Harbor and confer with Capt. H. H. Birkholm, Los Angeles district manager.

Chidester anticipates material increases in imports from the Orient over some of his ship services, due to additions to the Goodrich Tire Company and the quest for a location by the Firestone company for a $6,000,000 factory. The Kerr Pacific Line, for which General Steamship Corporation is coast agent, is expected to benefit directly by increased demand for rubber here.

Other new enterprises in prospect, Chidester declared, indicate this section advancing more rapidly industrially than any other on the Pacific slope.
